President's Welcome

January 3, 2002

On behalf of the 935 volunteer members of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Association, I welcome the top two teams in the nation to Pasadena and Southern California for the National Championship Rose Bowl Game. Congratulations to all of those involved in the success of the University of Miami and the University of Nebraska this year. We know that everyone in attendance will feel the pride that Tournament of Roses members do in this historic Rose Bowl Game.

The theme of this year's Rose Parade and Rose Bowl Game is Good Times. With the 2002 festivities, we hope to help boost the American spirit through the Good Times that people spend with the Tournament of Roses. The Rose Parade and Rose Bowl Game are American institutions that millions of people look forward to each year, and we are dedicated to continuing the festivities that bring the world together on New Year's Day.

With this in mind, I truly hope that this year's National Championship Rose Bowl Game will give those much needed moments of Good Times to all Americans. We welcome the fans of the University of Miami and the University of Nebraska and we thank you for becoming a part of the rich Tournament of Roses tradition.

Respectfully yours,

The top two teams in the country, "The Granddaddy of Them All," the national championship on the line—what better recipe for creating...

PERFECT GAME

BY PETER HAYES

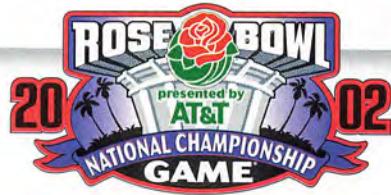

Heisman finalist Ken Dorsey, who averaged 241.1 yards passing per game and tossed 23 TDs, will use his powerful arm to try to stretch and weaken the Huskers defense.

ommonly referred to as "The Granddaddy of Them All," the 2002 Rose Bowl takes on even more significance tonight with the National Championship on the line as undefeated Miami (11-0) takes on once-beaten Nebraska (11-1). Both programs are rich in postseason history—Nebraska is making its 32nd consecutive postseason appearance—but this will be the first time Miami is playing in Pasadena's premier game, while Nebraska hasn't battled for the roses since 1941, when the Huskers lost to Stanford, 21-13.

Heisman winner Eric Crouch is best known for demoralizing defenses with his legs (1,261 rushing yards), but he also can burn opponents with his arm (1,510 passing yards).

This contest marks the final chapter in a thrilling college football season that was filled with stunning, late-season upsets and that has kept college football fans talking, and in some cases arguing, for weeks.

"It just can't be any better than this year," said Miami head coach Larry Coker. "It's magnified not only because it is a terrific event but because it is a national championship event. For college football, it just doesn't get any better than that."

The Hurricanes have been a torrential force on offense this season, averaging 43.2 points. The team opened its perfect season with a 33-7 rout of Penn State at State College. It was only the beginning of a great run as the 'Canes won their next five by a combined score of 236 to 58, including a 49-27 victory over cross-state rival Florida State in Tallahassee. The road has been very good to the 'Canes, as the club is 5-0 away from the Orange Bowl, and has outscored opponents, 169-86.

While the 'Canes had their hands full in wins over Big East foes Boston College (18-7) and Virginia Tech (26-24), the team managed to dispatch both a good Syracuse club and Washington rather easily, beating both teams by over 55 points each in the second half of the season.

Equally responsible for the Hurricanes flirtation with perfection is a defense that has been dominant. Eight out of 11 opponents scored seven or fewer points, including three shutouts, as the team allowed only 9.4 points per outing.

If the Hurricanes want to remain perfect, then they know they have one more hurdle to clear.

"Just getting there is only half of it," said running back Clinton Portis. "Now we've got to win and finish it off. There's no use flying out there to California to lose."

Nebraska opened its season in impressive fashion as well, winning its first five games by an average of 27.4 points, including two wins over 2000 bowl participants (TCU, 21-7, and Notre Dame, 27-10). The highlight of the club's regular season came at home against Oklahoma, where the Big Red—then ranked No. 3 in the country—upset the No. 2-ranked Sooners, 20-10. That game will best be remembered for quarterback Eric Crouch's 63-yard touchdown catch from split end Mike Stuntz with 6:17 remaining.

The only black mark on the club's slate is the 62-36 drubbing Colorado inflicted at Boulder. Before the end of the first quarter, NU found itself in a 28-3 hole and had to abandon its normal game plan and open up the attack. While both offenses moved the ball rather easily, Colorado had the

THE HEISMAN FACTOR

While the Rose Bowl pits No. 1 vs. No. 2, the game also features a quarterback duel between the Heisman Trophy winner (Eric Crouch) and the third-place finisher (Ken Dorsey). Crouch was awarded the 67th edition of college football's most coveted individual award, while Dorsey finished third, just 132 points behind, in one of the closest races in recent history.

Crouch is perfectly suited to engineer the Nebraska wishbone attack because of his exceptional running ability. The 6-1, 200-pound senior has rushed for over 1,000 yards in three consecutive seasons, including a career high of 1,261 yards and 18 touchdowns this season. Even though Crouch threw 10 interceptions this season, he is still a competent passer whose throwing ability has enabled him to become one of only three quarterbacks in NCAA Division I-A history to rush for over 3,000 yards (3,950) and pass for 4,000 yards (4,481) in a career.

Miami's Dorsey is the prototypical pocket passer, with a fluid throwing style. The 2001 Maxwell Award winner, as college football's outstanding player, he completed 184 of 318 attempts for 2,652 yards with an impressive touchdown-to-interception differential of 23-to-9. In the past two seasons, the 6-5, 200-pound Dorsey has completed over 57 percent of his attempts, throwing 48 touchdowns and only 14 interceptions, while the team compiled a 25-1 record.

Midas touch: every time the Buffaloes had the ball, they scored. Not counting the 62 points scored by Colorado, Nebraska allowed only 127 points total in the other 11 games on its schedule.

When Miami has the ball, expect almost anything. This is a well-balanced offensive attack that likes to mix things up. Not intimidated by down or distance, the 'Canes are aggressive when they have the ball. One of the key reasons for that is quarterback Ken Dorsey. The veteran signal-caller is an accurate passer who has shown

KEY MATCHUPS

Winning football games is usually the result of having won many individual battles on game day. Listed below are three matchups that will be instrumental in the outcome.

1. LT Bryant McKinnie vs. RE Chris Kelsay

Chris Kelsay: One of the nation's premier offensive linemen, Miami's McKinnie is a dominating force who is equally adept at pass- and run-blocking. The mammoth senior (6-9, 336) is considered a sure-fire top 10 pick in next year's NFL Draft, but first he has to neutralize Nebraska's sack leader, Kelsay. In 12 games, Kelsay has recorded five sacks along with 12 quarterback hurries and 17 tackles for loss.

2. LG Toniu Fonoti and LT Dave Volk vs. RT Matt Walters and RE Jamaal Green

When the Huskers need to make a first down, or punch the ball into the end zone, they usually run left. While Volk is a solid run blocker, Fonoti is considered one of the best linemen ever to play at Nebraska, which is saying a lot. Walters (6-5, 262) and Green (6-3, 252) will need to use their speed to counter the power and size of the Nebraska pair.

3. PR Phillip Buchanon vs. Nebraska special teams:

Buchanon was recently named to the All-Big East first team as both a punt returner and cornerback. A tremendous athlete, Buchanon led the conference and finished seventh nationally by returning 31 punts for a 14.9-yard average along with two touchdowns. He is one of only three Division I-A players to take a punt to the house twice this season. On the season, teams are averaging only 8.1 yards per return against Nebraska, but the Big Red did give up one touchdown return.

tremendous poise in the pocket the past two seasons. Operating behind one of the best offensive lines in the country, Dorsey calls the signals for the Big East's top-ranked offense, averaging 454.8 yards per game.

While Dorsey receives much of the accolades for the team's success—a 146.1 passer rating will do that for a player—the team also possesses a powerful running attack that placed second in the conference, averaging 204.6 yards per game.

The main cog in the ground attack is Portis, who led the team with 1,200 yards and 10 touchdowns on 220 carries. The 5-11, 201-pound junior is a durable back with an exceptional combination of strength and speed. However, the 'Canes will also rotate in two other backs who can move the chains. Frank Gore and Willis McGahee combined to rush for 876 yards and eight touchdowns on 129 carries during the regular season.

Not only does the passing game feature Dorsey, the offensive line is a veteran unit that features three seniors, plus four of the five letterwinners were 2000 starters. That continuity has paid off handsomely as the Hurricanes have only given up four sacks.

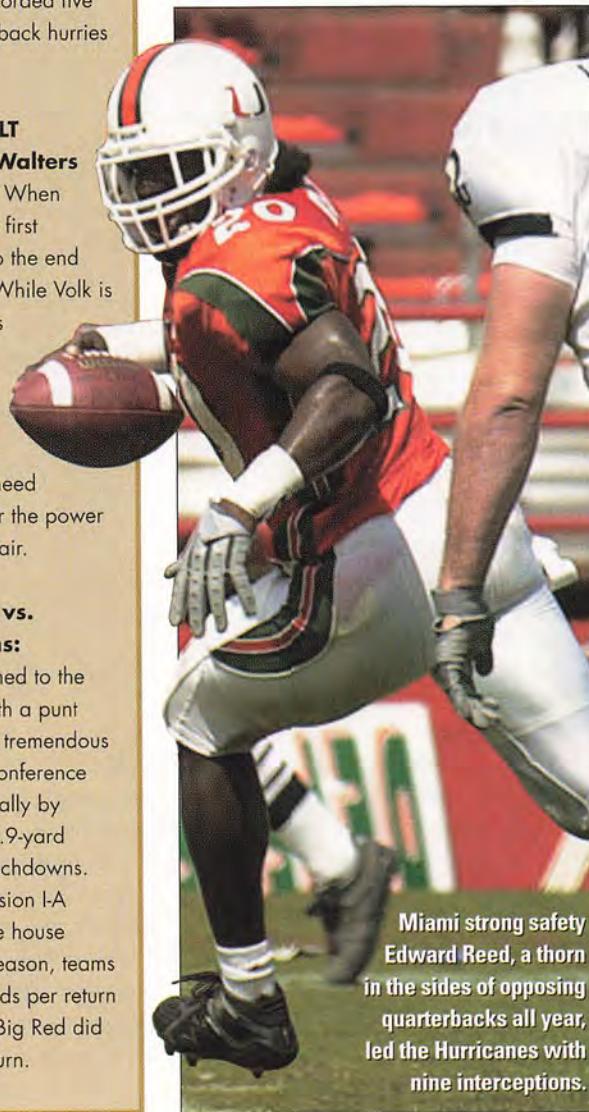

When the 'Canes look to pass, the Big East's top-ranked passing attack features four receivers who caught 25 passes or more. The top targets are tight end Jeremy Shockey, who made 40 catches for 519 yards, and split end Andre Johnson, who chipped in with 37 catches for 682 yards.

Nebraska's defense is up to the challenge since the experienced group ranks first against the pass in the Big 12, a conference that features dangerous quarterbacks such as Kliff Kingsbury (Texas Tech) and Chris Simms (Texas). While Nebraska's run defense is not up to its usual standards, having allowed opponents to average 129.8 yards per game, that average is misleading due

SECRET WEAPONS

Both coaches cited field position as a key to winning the game. For the Hurricanes, winning that battle starts with punter Freddie Capshaw, the recent Ray Guy Award winner. Capshaw, a 5-11, 186-pound junior, not only averaged a Big East best of 41.8 yards per punt, but he placed 15 of his 36 boots inside the opponents' 20-yard line as well. Knowing that two of his punts were blocked this season, expect NU to stack the line of scrimmage to apply pressure.

The Huskers must find a way for Miami to respect their passing game if they want to run the ball effectively. For this reason, split end Wilson Thomas could be the Big Red's secret weapon. Thomas, a large target at 6-5, 205, is the club's leading receiver, having hauled in 37 passes for 616 yards. While those numbers won't win him the Biletnikoff Award, they are good enough to rank as the most receiving yards at Lincoln since 1983, when Irving Fryar caught 40 passes for 780 yards.

Nebraska tight end Tracey Wistrom, who averaged 15.4 yards per catch, will try to keep Miami's pass defense honest.

to Colorado's 380-yard effort. But, against the pass, Nebraska led the nation, allowing opposing quarterbacks to complete only 42 percent of their passes.

"I think in order for us to win the game, certainly ball control has to play into it," said Nebraska Head Coach Frank Solich. "You can't give Miami opportunities to put a lot of points on the board with the great team and athletes that they have, and expect to come out a winner. So, if you control the ball, certainly take care of the clock, that will be a plus for us."

"Ball control" in Nebraska means running the ball. And there are few teams that do it better than the Big Red. Nebraska's ground game, which averaged a nation-best 314.7 yards per game, was primarily responsible for the team eating up 31:48 minutes each Saturday.

Besides Crouch, the Heisman Trophy winner who averaged 5.5 yards per rush and gained 1,115 yards, Nebraska features another 1,000-yard rusher in Dahrran Diedrick (1,299). The junior

I-back averaged a healthy 5.6 yards per carry and eclipsed the 100-yard mark seven times in 11 games.

Coker believes that protecting the ball is a key against Nebraska. "I think first of all we can't turn the football over."

The famed Blackshirts caused 26 turnovers this season (19 interceptions, seven fumbles lost) that resulted in the Big Red scoring 12 touchdowns and three field goals.

Miami's Dorsey, a native Californian (Orinda), understands the significance of succeeding against Nebraska.

"If I had won the Heisman, that would have been a huge honor," he said after the Dec. 8 award ceremony. "But, if I won tonight and not on Jan. 3 it wouldn't have meant anything."

While they have different styles, Crouch agrees with his quarterback counterpart.

"Coming out here and being able to win the Heisman Trophy and now playing in the national championship is like a dream come true. It really is," said Crouch after receiving the award.

While someone is sure to go home disappointed Jan. 3, the game itself promises to be sensational. ☺

COACHES CORNER

Both Miami coach Larry Coker (left) and Nebraska's Frank Solich (right) have one thing in common: they inherited successful winning teams and were expected to keep it that way. Coker, who was the club's popular offensive coordinator for six seasons, was named to replace Butch Davis, who left after last year's 11-1 season for the Cleveland Browns. All Coker has done in his first year is lead the team to its sixth undefeated regular season, and he now has a chance to become only the second rookie head coach to win a national championship (Michigan's Bennie Oosterbaan in 1948). With the program since '95, Coker has succeeded by keeping the status quo. Under Coker, the 'Canes continue to be aggressive on both sides of the ball, a formula that has been in place since Jimmy Johnson was patrolling the Orange Bowl sidelines in the mid-to-late 1980s..

After serving as running backs coach under legendary Tom Osborne for 18 seasons, Frank Solich was elevated to head coach in 1998—just months after NU won its third national championship in four seasons. Solich, like Coker, has presided over a smooth transition. The Huskers offense has not changed at all under Solich. This club lives and dies by the running game, even though quarterback Eric Crouch is a much better passer than most give him credit for.

WE'RE NUMBER ONE

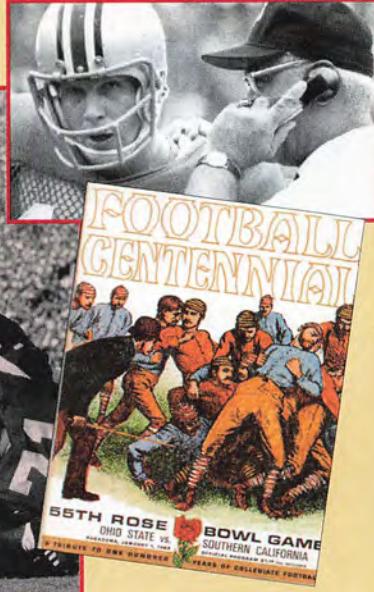

College football has seen its share of schools emerge from the Rose Bowl Game as national champions.

While college football's pinnacle gridiron matchup takes place in tonight's 88th Rose Bowl Game, this is hardly the first time that the national championship has been decided in Pasadena.

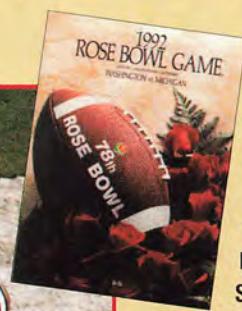

On three occasions since 1968—the year the Associated Press began naming its national champion after bowl game results, rather than at the end of the regular season—a school that played in “The Granddaddy of Them All” has claimed AP’s final No. 1 ranking in the nation. (The 1998 Rose Bowl participant, Michigan, was named co-national champ for 1997 after winning the '98 game and topping the USA Today/ESPN coaches’ poll.)

Tonight, either Miami or Tennessee will join hallowed company alongside the 1968 Ohio State Buckeyes ('69 Rose Bowl Game), the 1972 Southern California Trojans ('73 game), the 1991 Washington Huskies ('92 game) and the '97 Wolverines.

Here's a glance at those teams' memorable championship experiences in the Rose Bowl. ☺

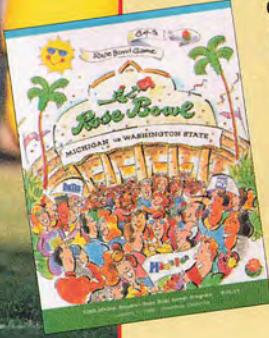

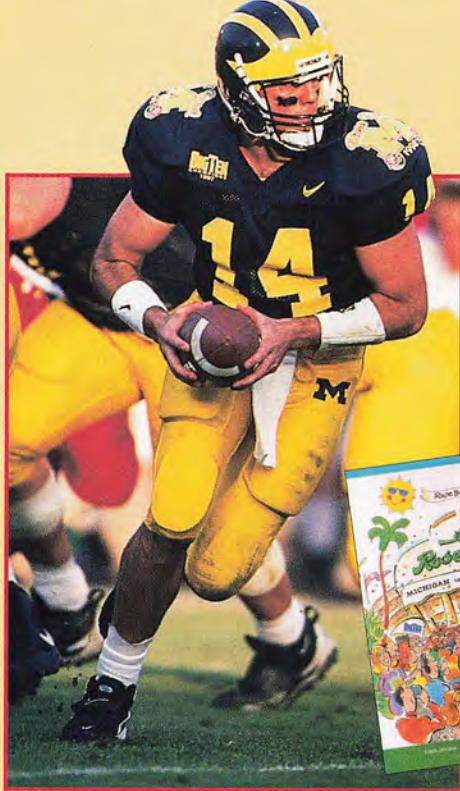

The 1969 Game featured a rare matchup between the nation's No. 1 and No. 2 teams, Ohio State and Southern California. Led by QB Rex Kern—the eventual Player of the Game—the Buckeyes rallied from an early 10-0 deficit to score a 27-16 win and a national championship.

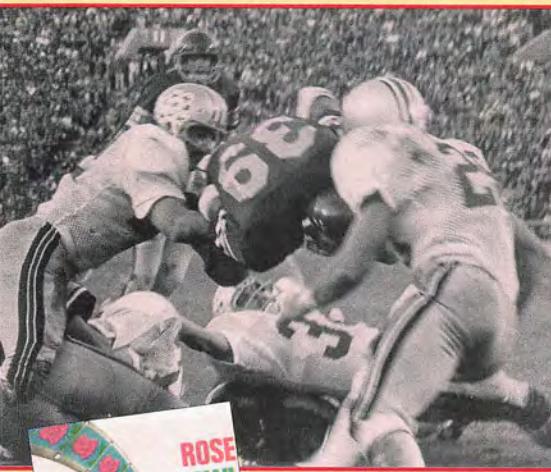

Washington capped a perfect 12-0 season with a rousing 34-14 victory against No. 4 Michigan in the 1992 Game, thus securing a share of the national championship with Miami. Co-Players of the Game, QB Billy Joe Hobert (#12, left) and defensive tackle Steve Emtman, dominated both sides of the action, and Mario Bailey (below) put the finishing touches on the win with a 38-yard TD reception from Hobert's backup, Mark Brunell.

ER ONE

Michigan QB Brian Griese (left) guided the Wolverines to a 21-16 win in a see-saw battle against Washington State in the 1998 Game. Griese completed touchdown passes of 53 and 58 yards to Tai Streets (#86, right), and Heisman Trophy winner Charles Woodson intercepted a Ryan Leaf pass in the end zone to pace Michigan, which earned AP honors as national champion with the victory (Nebraska nabbed the coaches' poll by two points).

Led by the dynamic backfield tandem of Anthony Davis (right), who piled up 157 rushing yards, and Sam Cunningham (left), who scored four touchdowns, Southern California gained revenge for its 1969 Rose Bowl loss to Ohio State by routing the Buckeyes, 42-17, to complete a 12-0 season.

Hurricanes Offense

"Kenny Dorsey makes our offense go. His value to our team is obvious to anyone who watches Miami on a regular basis. We simply wouldn't be nearly as effective without him."

MIAMI HEAD COACH LARRY COKER

BY SUSAN MILLER DEGNAN

THE MIAMI HERALD

Expectations were high entering the 2001 season, and the University of Miami offense obliged by delivering results that surpassed even last year's record-breaking numbers.

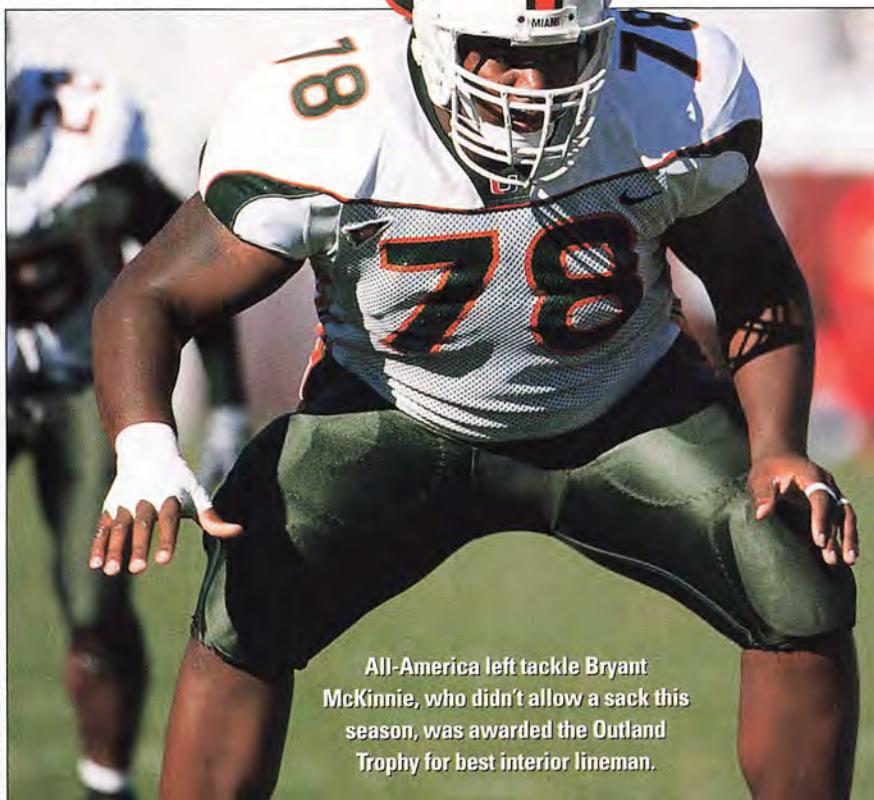

The top-ranked Hurricanes (11-0) ended their season against Virginia Tech by scoring their 478th point—the most by UM in a single season—breaking their record of 469, set in 2001. Miami's scoring offense proved third-best in the country, good for 43.1 points a game.

Heisman Trophy finalist Ken Dorsey, winner of the Maxwell Award as college football's best all-around player, is 25-1 as a starter with a school-record 58 touchdowns. He ranks second all-time in UM passing yards to 1992 Heisman Trophy winner Gino Torretta (7,690), with 6,196. This season, Dorsey was 187 of 313 for 2,654 yards, 23 touchdowns and nine interceptions.

"Kenny Dorsey makes our offense go," said UM coach Larry Coker of the third-year junior. "His value to our team is obvious to anyone who watches Miami on a regular basis. We simply wouldn't be nearly as effective without him."

The Hurricanes powerful offensive linemen protected Dorsey throughout the season, as the star quarterback, incredibly, was sacked just four times. Those linemen include All-America left tackle Bryant McKinnie, a 6-9, 335-pound senior who finished eighth in the Heisman Trophy balloting, and All-America right tackle Joaquin Gonzalez, a 6-5, 292-pound senior who grew up in Miami. In addition, center

Brett Romberg, a junior, was one of five finalists for the Dave Rimington Trophy, awarded to the nation's finest center.

The Canes rank eighth nationally in total offense (454.8 yards per game), 21st in rushing offense (204.6 ypg) and 35th in passing (250.1).

Dorsey has spread the ball to several receivers, with his favorites being Andre Johnson (37 catches for 682 yards and 10 touchdowns), tight end Jeremy Shockley (40 for 519 and seven TDs), Kevin Beard (25 for 409 and two TDs) and Ethenic Sands (26 for 385 and one TD).

On the ground, the Hurricanes are led by junior Clinton Portis (1,200 yards and 10 TDs for a 5.5 yards-per-carry average) and Frank Gore (562 yards, 5 TDs and 9.1 yards-per-carry).

Special Teams

Miami also dominates on special teams. Its kicker, Todd Sievers, kicked four field goals and two extra points against Virginia Tech to raise his season total to 119 points—the most by a UM kicker in a single season. He is 21 of 26 in field-goal attempts, with seven of eight in the 40-49-yard range.

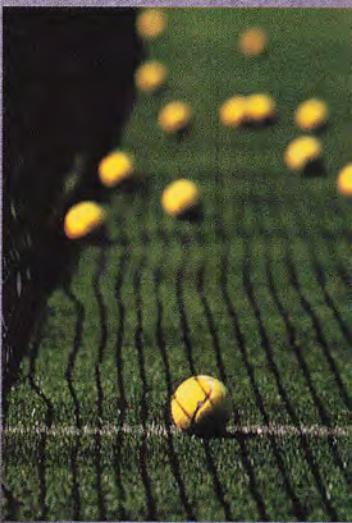

Junior punter Freddie Capshaw averages 41.8 yards per punt. And punt returner Phillip Buchanon, the Big East Special Teams Player of the Year, returned 31 punts for 464 yards, a 14.9-yards-per-return average. He scored twice on those returns, one of only three players in the nation to do so.

Cornhuskers Defense

"I think this group has probably been as cohesive and team-oriented a group as any team that I've been around. I think they've probably made the most of their abilities that they've had so far."

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR CRAIG BOHL

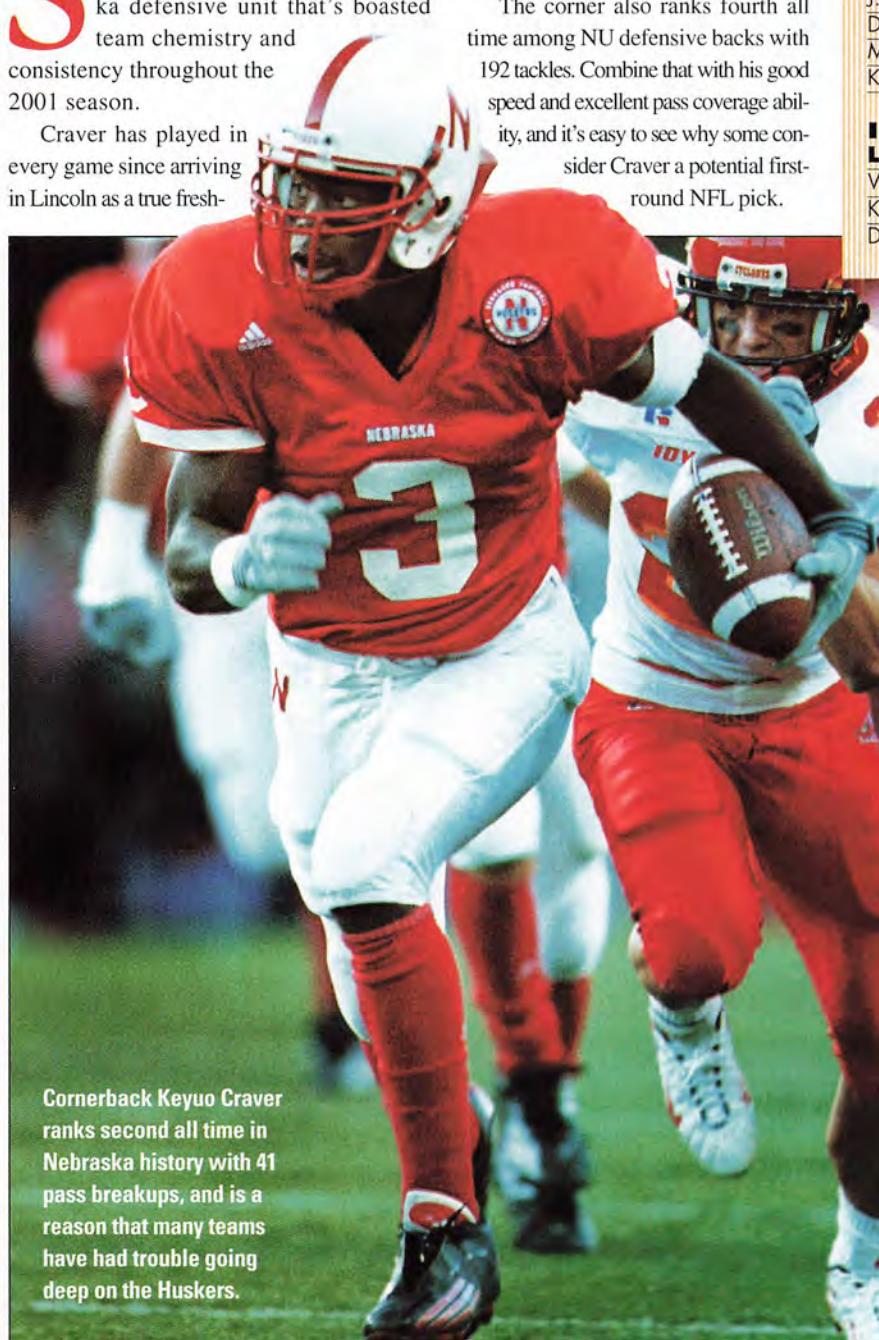

BY BRIAN ROSENTHAL
 LINCOLN JOURNAL STAR

Senior left cornerback Keyuo Craver could be a poster boy for a Nebraska defensive unit that's boasted team chemistry and consistency throughout the 2001 season.

Craver has played in every game since arriving in Lincoln as a true freshman in 1998, and he's started the last 37 games, including bowl games. He's second all time at Nebraska with 41 career pass breakups, nine behind record holder Ralph Brown.

The corner also ranks fourth all time among NU defensive backs with 192 tackles. Combine that with his good speed and excellent pass coverage ability, and it's easy to see why some consider Craver a potential first-round NFL pick.

Cornerback Keyuo Craver ranks second all time in Nebraska history with 41 pass breakups, and is a reason that many teams have had trouble going deep on the Huskers.

Some teams, like Colorado, don't even bother throwing Craver's way. And the Huskers' other starting cornerback, junior DeJuan Groce, isn't shabby, either. Groce has 14 pass breakups this season to Craver's 13. Defensive coordinator Craig Bohl says he doesn't know of two better corners in the country.

The rest of the Nebraska secondary is young but solid, with sophomores Pat Ricketts and Willie Amos and freshman Lornell McPherson helping in nickel-and-dime coverages. As a result, Nebraska opponents are completing a mere 42.7 percent of their passes, giving the Huskers' stifling defense the No. 1 rank in the nation in that category.

Nebraska has also benefited from an improved pass rush this season, thanks to a deep and balanced line that has rotated two to three players at each position. The Huskers have piled up 39 sacks this season after gathering only 25—a school-record low—in 2000. Rush ends Chris Kelsay and Demoine Adams, both juniors, lead NU with five sacks each.

The linebacking corps is also solid, with Jamie Burrow anchoring the middle. He led the team with 84 tackles, including 12 for loss.

Heading into its last game of the regular season, the rush defense ranked fourth in the Big 12 and 13th in the nation. A poor outing at Colorado, in which the Buffaloes ran for 380 yards and eight touchdowns, is the single blemish on an otherwise spotless season.

Cornhuskers Offense

"It's been the type of offense that's been able to move the ball and put points on the board on a fairly consistent basis. Certainly Eric Crouch is a main reason why. He's so versatile, and we're able to build so many things around him."

HEAD COACH FRANK SOLICH

 LINCOLN JOURNAL STAR

Nothing much has changed at Nebraska in 30 years. The Cornhuskers depend on mammoth yet nimble offensive linemen to help churn out rushing yards, wear down the opponent and dominate time of possession. It's why Nebraska has won seven of the last 10 NCAA rushing titles and finished the 2001 regular season averaging 349.3 yards per game.

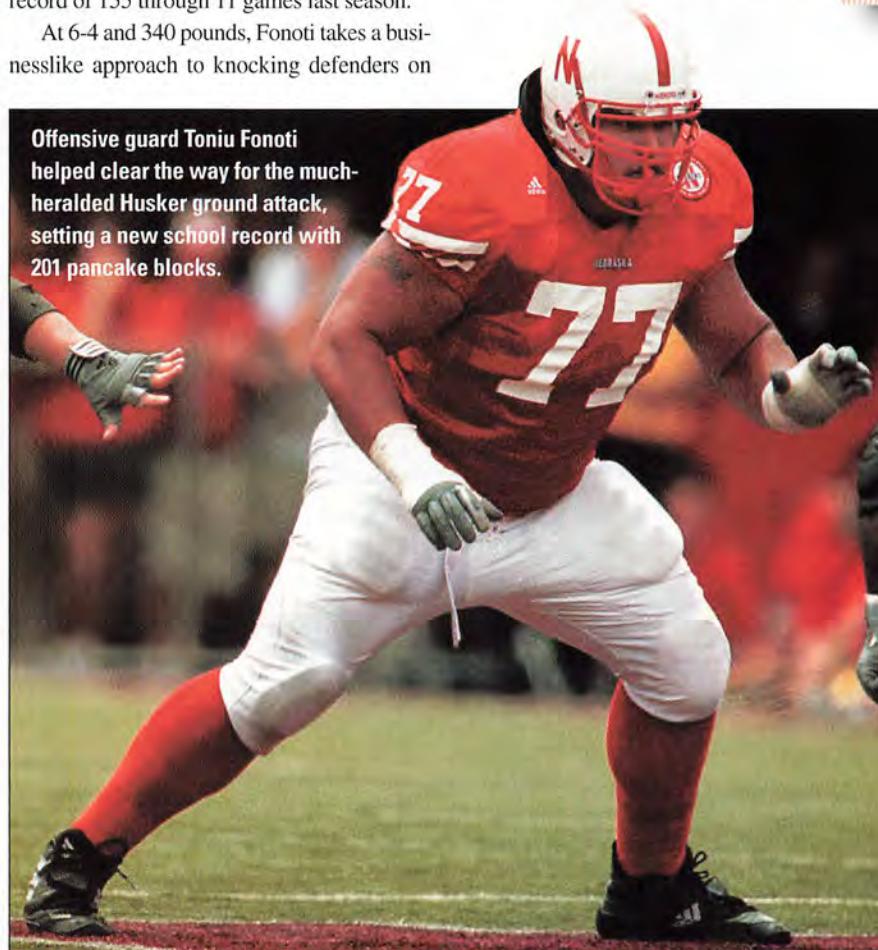

Of course, it helps to have players like junior left guard Toniu Fonoti, who plays like a wrecking ball. He piled up 201 pancake blocks in 12 games, shattering his own single-season school record of 155 through 11 games last season.

At 6-4 and 340 pounds, Fonoti takes a businesslike approach to knocking defenders on their backs. It's not unusual for Fonoti to pull off the line of scrimmage on a toss sweep, flatten a defensive tackle, then continue plowing along before burying another defender on the corner.

Fonoti and senior left tackle Dave Volk, who's started 37 consecutive games, help pave the way for junior I-back Dahrran Diedrick (233 carries, 1,299 yards) and quarterback Eric Crouch (203 carries, 1,115 yards). The 2001 Heisman Trophy winner, Crouch is a defensive coordinator's nightmare. He can beat teams on the option with his speed and elusiveness, and he's strong enough to bull over linebackers and defensive backs when needed.

Offensive guard Toniu Fonoti helped clear the way for the much-heralded Husker ground attack, setting a new school record with 201 pancake blocks.

Crouch's passing percentage has improved this year, and he's depended on reliable targets in tight end Tracey Wistrom and split end Wilson Thomas. But passing isn't Crouch's forte, and the Nebraska offense isn't built for overcoming large deficits. Still, teams can't sell out on the run. That's when head coach and offensive coordinator Frank Solich will slip in a play action or swing pass, or maybe a quick screen.

And then it's back to the run.

Special Teams

Junior kicker Josh Brown separated himself from redshirted freshman Sandro DeAngelis by displaying the consistency Nebraska coaches had been looking for. Brown entered the Missouri game, Nebraska's fifth, after DeAngelis had missed a field goal and an extra point from 35 yards. Since then, Brown has made 10 of 13 field goals, including two against Oklahoma and two against Texas Tech. The Huskers won both games by 10 points.

Nebraska's also benefited from a strong return game, led by DeJuan Groce, who's averaging 14.2 yards per punt return. His 60-yard return for a touchdown helped NU pull away from a pesky Kansas State team. ☦

Hurricanes Defense

"The most people score against Miami is in the fourth quarter, and by then the game is out of reach and it doesn't make any difference."

BOSTON COLLEGE HEAD COACH TOM O'BRIEN

BY SUSAN MILLER DEGNAN
THE MIAMI HERALD

Most college football aficionados anticipated that the University of Miami's offense would flourish, but not many could have imagined its defense would hold opponents to an average of 9.36 points a game—the top scoring defense of 117 Division I-A teams.

No matter how many yards their opponents generate—and with the sixth-best total defense in the nation, the 270.9 yards allowed per game isn't much—the Hurricanes guard the end zone like high-strung watchdogs.

The Hurricanes, led by a dominant defensive line and what is commonly regarded as the finest secondary in the country, have given up 103 total points this season. Of those points, 42 have come in the fourth quarter, when UM coach Larry Coker has played his second- and third-teamers in every game but three.

In addition, nine of UM's touchdowns have been scored by the defense, which leads the nation in turnover margin and fumbles recovered.

Miami's defensive line is so deep that the coaches just keep reloading, ensuring that players stay fresh most of the game. Ends Jamaal Green (6-3, 253-pound senior) and Jerome McDougle (6-2, 260-pound junior) combined for 100 tackles and 12 sacks. McDougle has a team-leading 41 quarterback hurries. Left tackle William Joseph (6-5, 282-pound junior) has 59 tackles (19 for a loss), 10 sacks and four forced fumbles. Right tackle Matt Walters (6-5, 262-pound junior) has 63 tackles.

The UM linebackers are the youngest and most vulnerable defensive unit, ranking 40th in rushing defense with 132.7 yards allowed per game. Sophomore Jonathan Vilma is the team leader in tackles, with 73. Vilma also has forced and recovered two fumbles, scoring once.

UM's most impressive defensive unit is its secondary. Senior safeties Edward Reed and James Lewis, and junior cornerback Phillip Buchanon and widely used backup Markese Fitzgerald, have accounted for 19 of UM's nation-leading 27 interceptions. Reed, a consensus All-American, won Big East Defensive Player of the Year honors with nine interceptions, two returned for scores. Miami's other starting corner, Mike Rumph, is projected to go in the first or second round of the NFL Draft.

No wonder Miami ranks second in pass defense, allowing just 138.1 yards a game. ☺

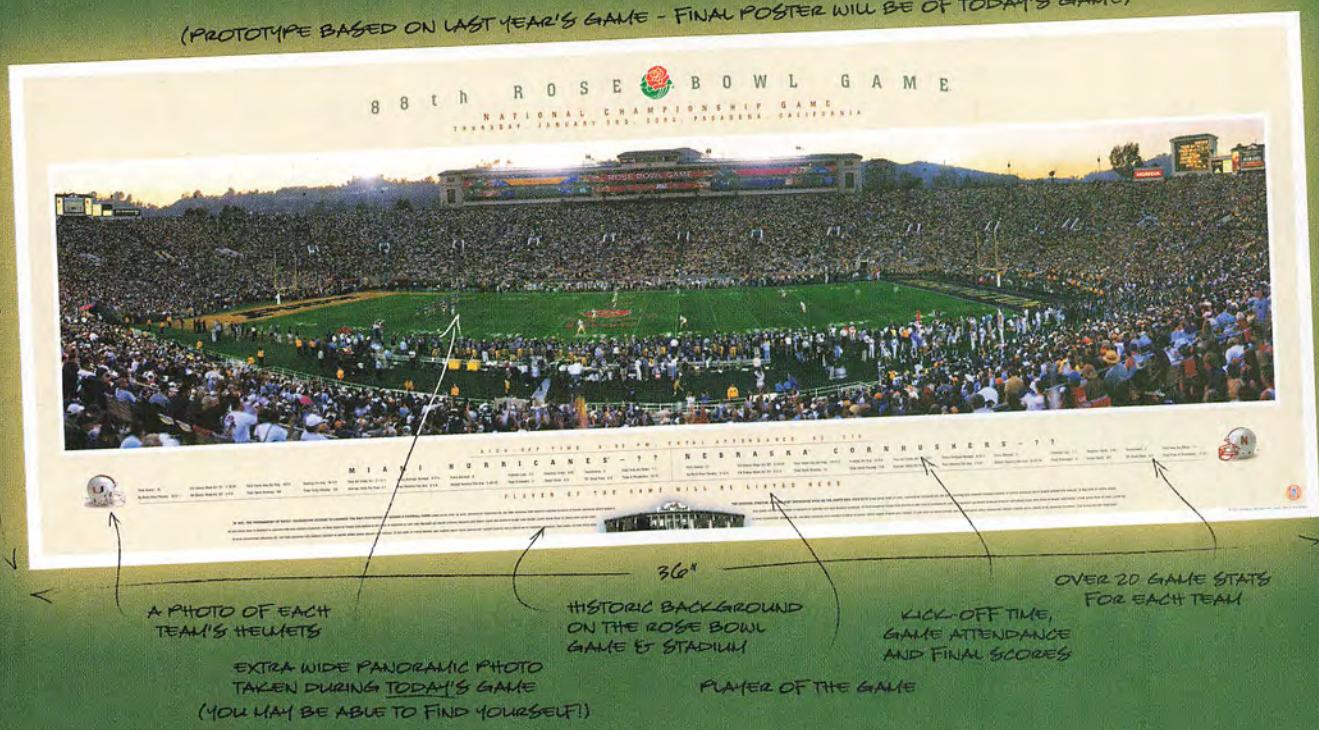

Cornerback Mike Rumph played a key role in Miami's talented secondary, collecting 28 tackles, 19 of which were unassisted.

The Hard Road to Success

JIM PLUNKETT OVERCAME EARLY-LIFE OBSTACLES TO ACHIEVE SUCCESS DURING AND AFTER HIS PLAYING CAREER

Late last year, Jim Plunkett was in Atlanta giving a motivational speech about how people can overcome hardships and still be successful. About his own struggles and how he went from a boy on welfare, from the hard part of town, to Heisman Trophy winner, Super Bowl quarterback and successful businessman. As usual, he spoke to a rapt audience. Afterward, one of the audience members approached him, prepared to praise. But this wasn't the usual hero-worshipping sports fan.

The man said to me, 'Forget about football, it's everything else that is so amazing,'" Plunkett says.

Indeed, Plunkett's journey has been remarkable. The son of two blind parents, he was forced to negotiate a collection of troubles while still young that would overwhelm many an adult. He had his first job before he turned 10 years old. His father died when he was a collegiate junior, forcing him and his sisters to support his mother. Yet, he persisted, succeeded and thrived.

Plunkett went to Stanford because it was close to his home in San Jose. He redshirted his first season there and could have graduated following his junior year, grabbed the NFL paycheck and helped his family, but Plunkett declined. He and his classmates wanted to lead the Indians (Stanford changed its nickname to "The Cardinal" in the 1980s) to the Rose Bowl. They did just that, avenging years of disappointing defeats at the hands of Southern California and advancing to Pasadena. Plunkett threw for 2,715 yards and 18 touchdowns and topped a first-rate field of Heisman competitors that included Notre Dame quarterback at the Rose Bowl, where Plunkett passed for 265 yards and a score in Stanford's 27-17 upset of mighty Ohio State.

"We just felt elation," Plunkett says of the season. "All our hard work had paid off. It was a tremendous feeling. We were a close-knit unit and became such good friends. We're still close."

Plunkett's initial foray into the NFL wasn't so happy. He was drafted first overall by the dreadful New England Patriots and could not turn the team around himself. Things soured for Plunkett after a Rookie of the Year season. He played later for the 49ers before landing in Oakland, which he led to a pair of Super Bowl triumphs. His 17-year NFL career might not have begun well, but it certainly ended right.

"When I got to the NFL and won the Rookie of the Year, I thought things were going to climb," Plunkett says. "But it was a bumpy road in the NFL. When I got to San Francisco, I wanted it to work, because I was back home. I finally hooked up with the Raiders, but I sat on the bench, and I thought my career was over. I got one last chance."

His post-playing days have been equally as impressive and rewarding. The overwhelming attention and criticism he received during his NFL playing days made him somewhat reclusive and reticent when it came to the media and public appearances, but that's no longer the case. Plunkett is a member of the Raiders' broadcast team and gives several motivational speeches to corporate groups each year. He owns and operates a successful beer distributorship and hosts a golf tournament every year to help raise money for athletic scholarships at Stanford. His success is a testament to his desire and ability to overcome hardship. He understands that.

"I did what I had to do when I was younger," Plunkett says. "The only time I thought about it was when I was older. I looked back and said, 'What terrific parents I had.' However did they manage? My wife and I had four good eyes and two kids, and it's still hard."

But not impossible. Jim Plunkett knows all about that. ■

Good Friends, Good Cheer, Good Times

The Tournament of Roses Parade showcases high spirits in bloom.

“Laissez les bon temps roulez!” Let the good times roll! While best known as the rallying cry of Mardi Gras revelers, this New Year’s Day the city of Pasadena will literally be rolling with good times—down the five-and-a-half miles of famed Colorado Boulevard.

For 113 years, the Tournament of Roses has been delighting people of all ages. Looking back, it is hard to believe that a small, flower-decorated horse-and-buggy parade put on for the enjoyment of the local denizens has blossomed into America’s New Year Celebration, the most anticipated January 1st event in the world.

This year’s theme, Good Times, reflects the Parade’s welcoming century-old spirit. It’s a time when family and friends gather together—in the stands, along the Parade route and in homes around the world—to reminisce about the past, to celebrate the present and look forward to the good times of the future.

O

An Entertaining History

Through economic prosperity and downturn, war and peace, the heart of the Rose Parade has always centered around good-natured fun. Looking back, numbers of viewers will remember the early movies of past Grand Marshals Mary Pickford, Harold Lloyd and the multi-talented, three-time Grand Marshal Shirley Temple Black. If you're of a certain age, you'll recall how Grand Marshals Bob Hope, along with Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, brought laughter to millions of radio and television audiences. Of course, past Grand Marshals Walt and Roy Disney's names are synonymous with a good time. And no one can help but smile when America's favorite host, 2002's Grand Marshal Regis Philbin, teases viewers and guests with his fun-loving sense of humor.

The Volunteer Spirit

The good times of the Tournament of Roses start well before New Year's morning and, for many, extend into a lifetime. Like any successful party, organizing a celebration as large as the Rose Parade takes months of dedicated teamwork. More than 935 Tournament members work throughout the year to coordinate the Rose Parade and the Rose Bowl Game—logging an incredible 80,000 volunteer hours each year! Many "white suiters" have grown up with the organization, watching grandparents and parents bring joy to millions every January 1, and today continue the Tournament's tradition of family, friendships and fun.

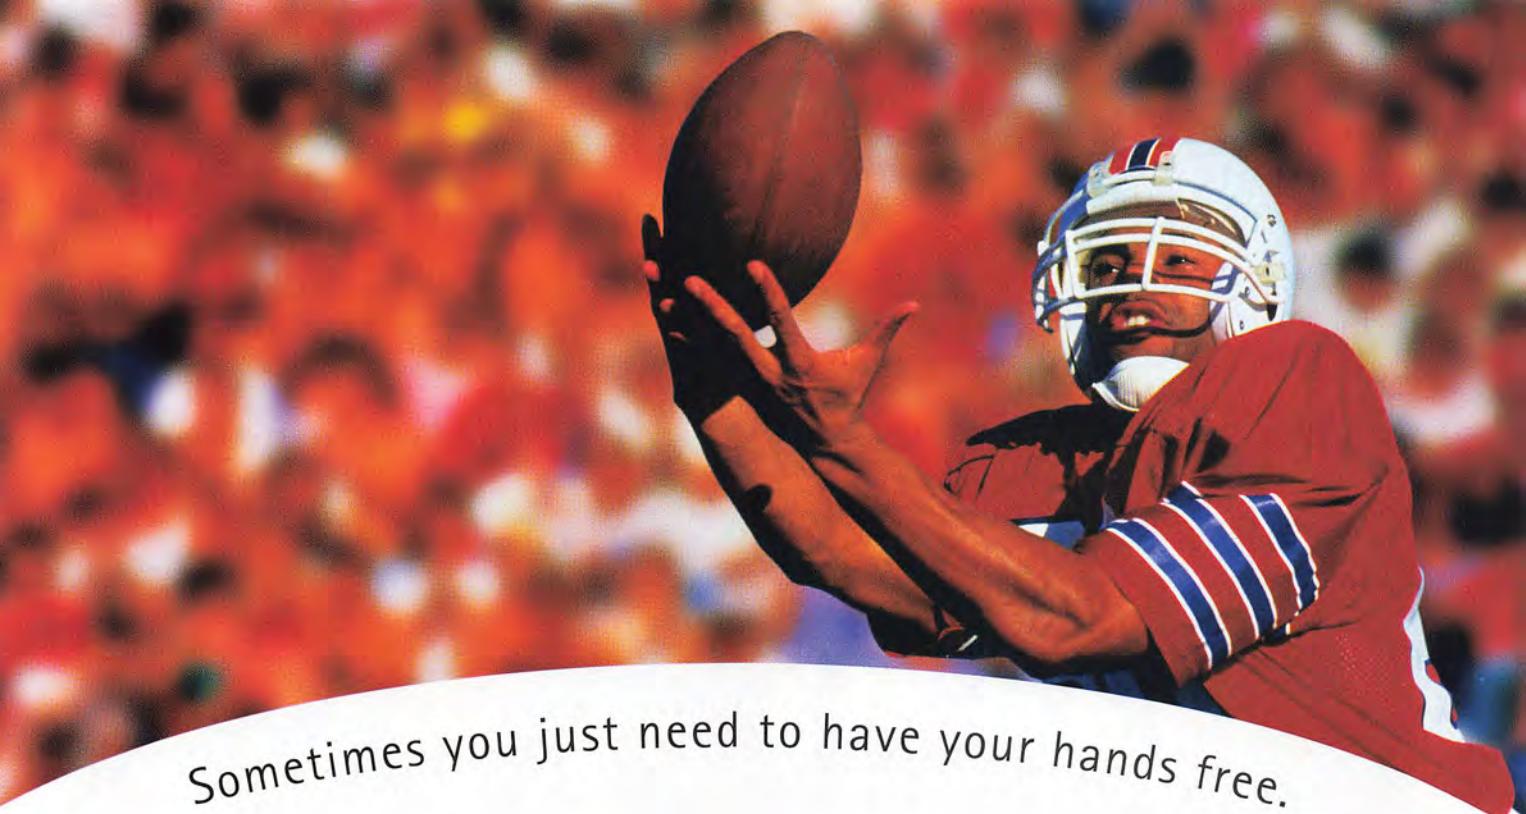

Also getting into the spirit each year are the countless individuals who donate their time and talents to the Parade—from the horse owners and float sponsors to the enthusiastic "petal pushers" who spend hours transforming 600 tons of steel, 5,000 gallons of glue and 18 million flowers into breathtaking works of art.

2 Making Memorable Music

Certainly, no celebration would be complete without music. And the Rose Parade always has plenty of it. The high-spirited sounds of the Parade's championship marching bands unite us all in a musical good time. Like the Tournament's volunteers, band members and musical directors spend months preparing and practicing pieces sure to inspire and enchant on New Year's Day. Joining in on the fun, parents, teachers and friends—from California to Connecticut, the United Kingdom to Japan—sponsor bake sales, band recitals and car washes to raise funds to send their talented musicians marching down the Parade route. It is the magic of the Rose Parade's collective spirit that brings communities together, creating memories that last long after the final note has been played.

Football, Fans and Fun

Without a doubt, Americans love sports—and America's favorite sport is football. This year's Rose Bowl Game—The Granddaddy of Them All—is sure to dazzle as the host of the Bowl Championship Series National Championship Game, showcasing the very best of collegiate football. Whether you watch the Rose Bowl Game from the comfort of your big-screen TV or with thousands of fellow fans in the stadium, you're guaranteed to have a good time.

A Universal Good Time

Good times are as varied and individual as snowflakes. For some, these can be summers spent at the lake or confidences shared with a friend; for others, weekends romping with the grandkids or a movie on a lazy afternoon are treasured moments. Whatever your idea of fun, the one thing everyone agrees upon is the joy of waking up New Year's morning and sharing the pageantry, traditions and spirit of the Rose Parade. It's what good times are all about. ☺

The Rose Queen and Royal Court

National championship royalty No. 1 in ambition, dedication and achievement

The young women of the 2002 Tournament of Roses Royal Court represent the highest levels of achievement in academics, extracurricular activities and community service. These young ladies have earned their royal titles—just as one of the nation's top two teams will earn the National Championship title in this year's Rose Bowl Game.

The 2002 Rose Queen has the distinction of being the 84th Rose Queen to reign over Pasadena's New Year's Day festivities. This year, the Queen and her court have an additional honor of which to be proud—they will reign over the National Championship Rose Bowl Game on January 3.

The seven poised and intelligent court members were named New Year's royalty from a group of more than 900 contestants from the Pasadena area. The Royal Court then became one of the most visible parts of the Tournament of Roses team as ambassadors to the world for the Rose Parade and Rose Bowl Game, having tackled more than 150 media and community activities in a three-month time span. Led by tae kwon do black belt Rose Queen Caroline Hsu, these talented young ladies can relate to the Rose Bowl Game athletes' spirit of determination. They are dedicated to excellence in all they do—from dance to soccer to art—just as the players in this year's Rose Bowl Game are dedicated to excelling on the field.

Rose Queen Caroline Hsu

Caroline Hsu, 17, is a varsity cheerleader and the school board representative for the San Marino High School ASB. She is one of three editors-in-chief of the school's yearbook staff and has been active in the Omegas Service Club since her freshman year. She also is a member of the National Honor Society and the California Scholarship Federation. Caroline plans to become a pediatrician and is currently an intern at a family medicine doctor's office. In addition to these activities, she enjoys dance, arts and crafts, reading and has a black belt in tae kwon do.

Princess Kimberlee Córdova

Kimberlee Córdova, 17, is a record holder on the swim team at Flintridge Sacred Heart Academy in La Cañada, as well as a member of the National Honor Society, California Scholarship

Federation and National Hispanic Recognition Program. An avid artist, Kimberlee has attended the Art Center Saturday High and the Rhode Island School of Design Pre-College program. Her past accomplishments include being junior class activities officer and a member of the JV basketball and volleyball teams, and she is currently training for the L.A. Marathon. A Pasadena native, Kimberlee aspires to be an art director or start her own advertising firm after attending the UCLA School of Design.

Princess Rachel Frandsen

Rachel Frandsen, 17, is a senior at La Cañada High School. She is active in orchestra and choir and is a member of the cross-country team, a national merit semi-finalist, a member of the National Honor Society and the California Scholarship Federation. Outside of school she is active in her church youth group and is a hospital volunteer. She is also a Girl Scout and has achieved her Girl Scout Gold Award following years of dedicated service. After high school, Rachel would like to attend Brigham Young University. She enjoys piano, violin and singing, as well as reading, running, hiking, crocheting and writing. Rachel counts family, friends and church as very important parts of her life.

Princess Shannon Stockdale

Shannon Stockdale is a 17-year-old senior at Arcadia High School. She currently holds the positions of vice president of the speech and debate team and historian for the service club senior men and women. Shannon also is active on the constitution/government team and is senior council secretary. Her hobbies include reading and dancing. Shannon's long-term ambitions are to attend UC Berkeley or Yale and pursue a career in law or public policy.

Princess Katherine Stroud

Katherine Stroud, 17, is a senior at San Marino High School. She is president of the FACC service club and is a member of the Omegas Service Club, National Honor Society and California Scholarship Federation and is a volunteer with the National Charity League. Her favorite leisure activities include baking, yoga, knitting and spending time with family and friends. Katherine is currently a ballet dancer at the Pasadena Dance Theater and attended the Juilliard School's summer dance program this past year. She plans to pursue a performing arts degree from Juilliard or NYU and eventually dance professionally with the long-term goal of incorporating dance into the education of special needs and underprivileged children.

Princess Lauren Tapp

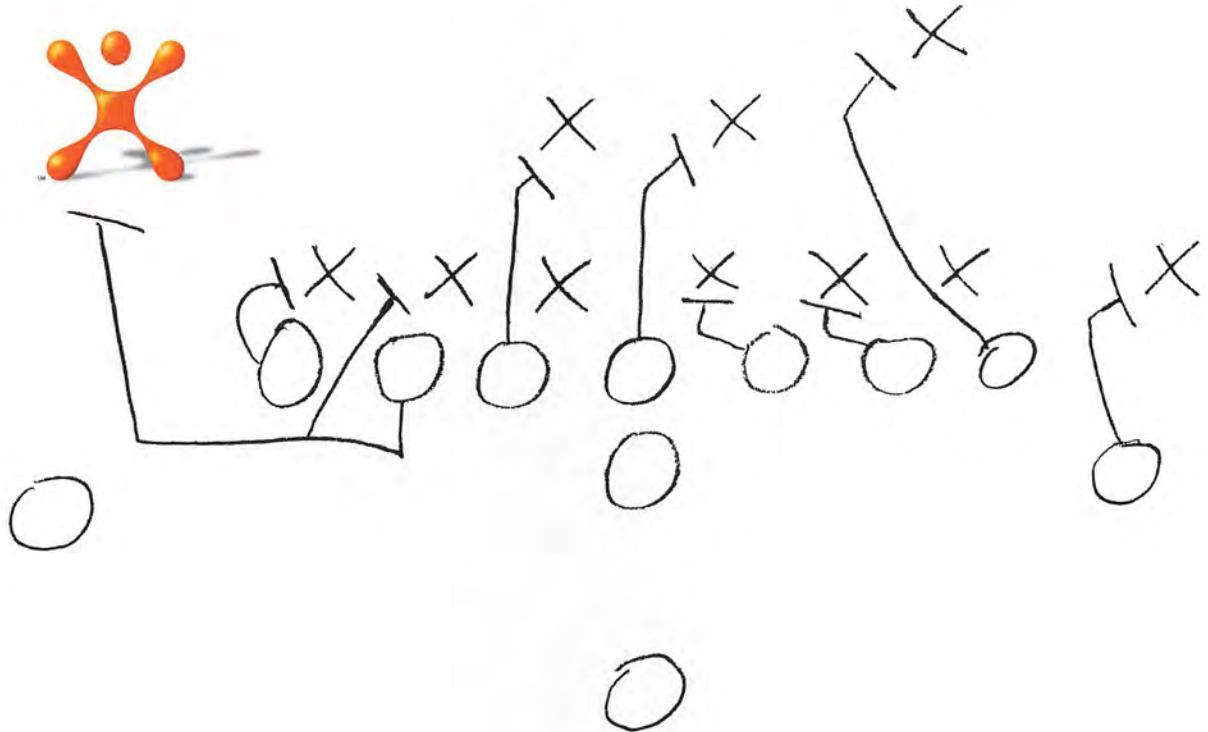

Lauren Tapp, 17, is a senior at Marshall High School. A resident of Altadena, she is a member of the National Honor Society, science club and the California Scholarship Federation. Her activities also include attending the Poly summer enrichment program and tutoring younger students. Past involvements include varsity soccer, feeding the homeless and additional volunteer work. Lauren plans to attend Occidental College or a UC school and pursue a career as a lawyer.

Princess Stephanie Valenzuela

Stephanie Valenzuela, a 17-year-old senior, attends Arcadia High School. She is currently involved in cross-age literacy and cross-age physical education. Her previous activities include cheerleading and soccer. She also enjoys reading, going to the beach and working out. Stephanie has two younger siblings and has lived in the area her whole life. She plans to attend Pasadena City College or USC to pursue a career in child psychology. ☺

Regis Philbin

2002 Grand Marshal

Recognized for his wit and charm, Regis Philbin has established himself as America's favorite television host, promoting Good Times among morning and evening audiences of all ages. Philbin's charisma and unique sense of humor led Tournament of Roses President Ron Okum to name him Grand Marshal of the 113th Rose Parade, themed Good Times.

"We are thrilled that Regis Philbin will be joining the Tournament family as our 2002 Grand Marshal," said Okum. "Regis personifies this year's theme—Good Times—delighting Americans of all ages with his million-dollar questions and fun-loving sense of humor."

Philbin, widely known as the host of Who Wants to be a Millionaire and morning-show host of Live With Regis and Kelly, will ride in the Rose Parade and toss the coin at the National Championship Rose Bowl Game.

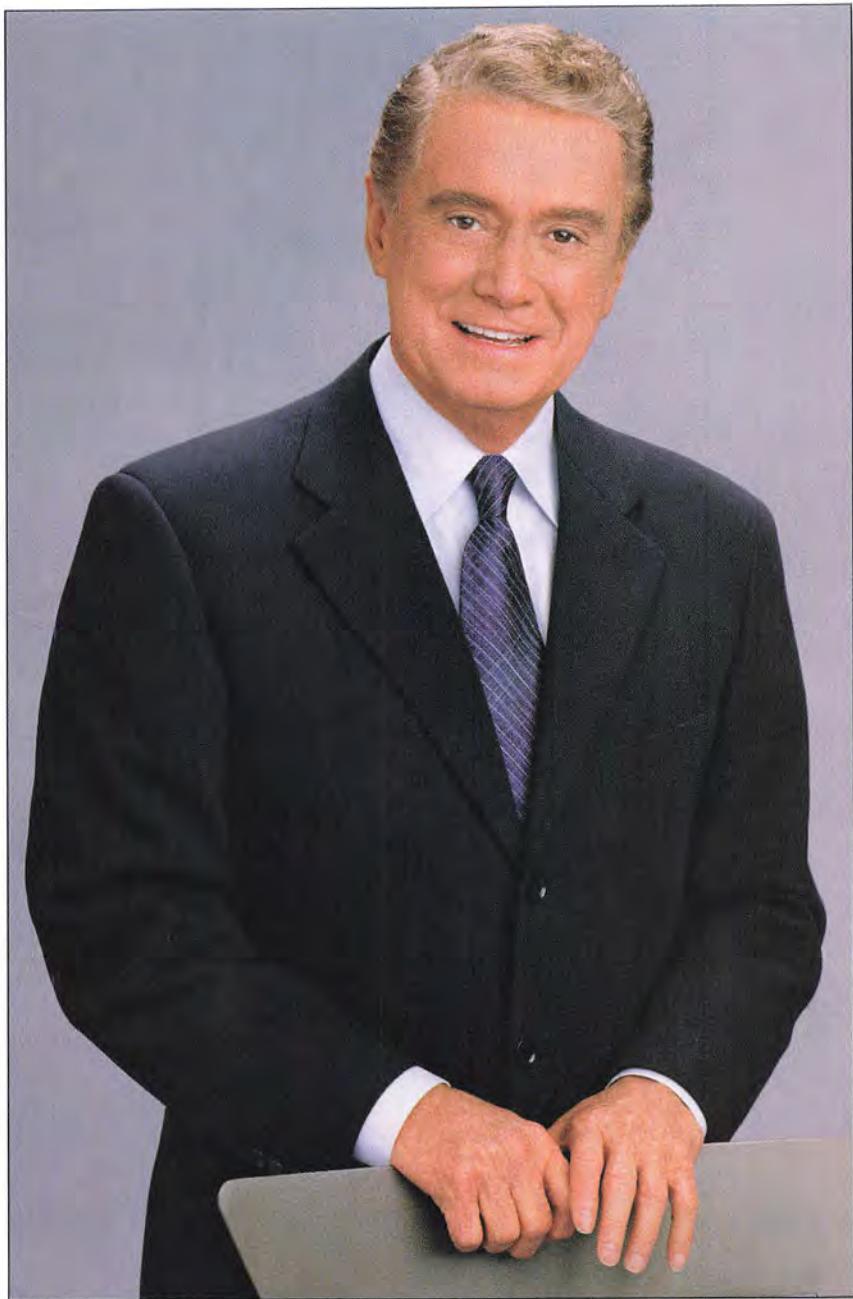

"If you asked me how I would like to spend New Year's Day, my final answer would be riding down Colorado Boulevard in Pasadena's Tournament of Roses Parade as Grand Marshal," said Philbin. "I'm truly honored and excited to be a part of the fun."

The in-studio audience at Live With Regis and Kelly received the news first when Regis was officially invited to be Grand Marshal on the show by Okum and 2001 Rose Queen Michelle Jacobs.

Philbin's broadcasting career spans more than three decades and is currently stronger than ever. His long-running morning talk show recently launched into a new era as Live With Regis and Kelly, and in August of 1998 he exploded into prime time with the mega-hit Who Wants to be a Millionaire.

Philbin has been nominated for the Emmy 11 times during his extraordinary career and has been honored with two awards. Additionally, in 2001 Philbin received the TV Guide Award as Personality of the Year and Broadcasting & Cable's Lifetime Achievement Award.

The 2002 Grand Marshal has also been a spokesperson for the American Heart Association and an avid supporter of the University of Notre Dame, where he received an honorary doctor of laws degree in 1999. ☺

“If you asked me how I would like to spend New Year's Day, my final answer would be riding down Colorado Boulevard in Pasadena's Tournament of Roses Parade as Grand Marshal. I'm truly honored and excited to be a part of the fun. **”

Ronald A. Okum

2002 Tournament of Roses President

Tournament of Roses President Ron Okum is dedicated to continuing the celebration that brings the world together each New Year through the Good Times that people spend with the Rose Parade and Rose Bowl Game.

Okum, a resident of San Marino, announced Good Times as the theme for the 113th Rose Parade in January of 2001. "The Tournament of Roses is all about creating Good Times," says Okum. "The theme Good Times is simple, yet says it all—it's what we're hoping to have in this upcoming national championship year."

"We are looking forward to showing the world that Pasadena can create a Championship Game with wonderful events surrounding the festivities."

President Okum celebrates a first in Tournament history as the Rose Bowl hosts the collegiate National Championship Game on January 3, 2002. "We are looking forward to showing the world that Pasadena can create a Championship Game with wonderful events surrounding the festivities. In its 113th year in existence, the Tournament of Roses will once again help create Good Times for people across the world."

Prior to his election to the Tournament of Roses Executive Committee in 1994, Okum chaired five committees including Community Relations, Coronation, Equestrian, Food Services and Music. His 33-year Tournament career spans from Parade Operations and Float Entries to Long Range Planning and Queen and Court.

Okum specializes in life insurance and is president and owner of the Ron Okum Insurance Agency in Pasadena. He has been an underwriter for various life-insurance companies since 1966 and also markets and develops hotels and apartments.

In addition to his volunteer service with the Tournament of Roses Association, Okum is currently a member of the Million Dollar Round Table, Top of the Table and the CSULA Development Board. He also is a Regent with Loyola Marymount University and is past president of the University Club of Pasadena, the Pasadena Optimist Club and the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame for scholar/athletes. Okum's past involvements also include serving as a board member at the San Gabriel Country Club, as a chair at the Institute for the Redesign of Learning, as a chair for the Parents Association at Loyola Marymount University, as director of the Parents Association at USC and as an instructor for the Life Underwriters Training Council.

A native of Detroit, Mich., Okum has lived in California for 41 years. He earned both his bachelor of arts degree and his master's from California State University, Los Angeles. Okum and his wife, Nan, have two daughters: Erin, married to Garrett Kreditor, and Amy, married to Tim Garrity. The Okums have three grandchildren, Courtney and Colin Kreditor and Bridget Garrity. In his free time, Okum enjoys playing golf, attending sporting events, collecting art and spending time with his grandchildren.

The University of Miami

Founded in 1925 as a "Pan American University," the University of Miami is the largest independent teaching and research university in the Southeast. The Coral Gables campus, located 10 miles from Miami in Miami-Dade County, is the site of most of the University's undergraduate and graduate programs. The University also operates a medical center in downtown Miami, a world-renowned marine and atmospheric science school on Virginia Key in Biscayne Bay, and a biomedical research and development center on its south campus.

Total enrollment for the 2000-2001 academic year was 13,963 students. Of that number, 8,955 were undergraduate students, 3,246 were graduate students, and 1,762 were professional students.

More than two-thirds of the new freshman class graduated in the top fifth of their high school class. Approximately half graduated in the top 10 percent of their high school class.

The University continues to attract able students from South Florida, as well as from other parts of the nation and around the world. It was one of the country's first universities to have an organized international recruitment program. The University of Miami has sent representatives worldwide to seek qualified students since the 1970s. These students represent 110 foreign countries, the 50 states, three territories, and the District of Columbia.

DONNA E. SHALALA
PRESIDENT

Approximately 1,483 students participate in the Honors Program at the University of Miami. The University of Miami's research and sponsored program expenditures totaled $193.9 million for fiscal year 2000. Grant and contract revenues totaled $265.4 million. According to the National Science Foundation, the University of Miami was ranked 44th of all universities and 21st among private universities in expenditures of federal funds for research and development.

The University's medical campus consists of 12.5 acres within the 67-acre University of Miami/Jackson Memorial Medical Complex.

The Rosenstiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Science is located on a 16-acre waterfront campus on Virginia Key in Biscayne Bay.

The south campus, located 10 miles southwest of Coral Gables, opened in 1986 on a 106-acre site for the purpose of conducting research and development projects. It has since expanded to 136 acres.

2002 Hurricanes

U Athletics

The Miami Hurricanes are tough to beat at the Orange Bowl, currently owning a 16-game home winning streak. This ranks as the second-longest active streak of its kind in the NCAA, and UM's longest since its NCAA-record 58-game run from 1985-94.

The University of Miami's participation in the 2002 Rose Bowl marks the fourth consecutive bowl game appearance by the Hurricanes and 16th in the last 18 seasons. This game also marks the second consecutive BCS bowl appearance by the Hurricanes. Last year, Miami defeated the Florida Gators in the Nokia Sugar Bowl 37-20.

During the last 18 years, the Hurricane football program has reached levels of success that are among the highest in the nation: Four National Championships, five BIG EAST Championships, and finishing the regular season among the top five teams in the polls 11 times.

But Miami athletics is much more than just football. Under the leadership of Athletic Director Paul Dee, the department has continued to grow to unprecedented proportions. From fundraising and facilities to additional sports and academics, Miami can now solidify its place among the nation's top athletic programs.

Dee had been committed to the improvement of the athletic program and its resources throughout his term. During his tenure, Dee has hired more than half of the head coaches currently on staff, and completed major facility improvements, including the construction of new football fields at Greentree Field, construction of Cobb Stadium, the renovation of the football locker and equipment rooms, the renovation of the training room, the construction of the women's basketball offices and the planning of the academic study hall facility. Further, Dee has worked toward the achievement of gender equity and compliance with Title IX, along with the construction of the brand new Ryder Center.

Academically, Miami has exceeded the AFCA/CFA graduation rate national average for the past 13 years. Since 1988, the first year graduation rates were tracked, Miami has graduated 83 percent of its student-athletes that have exhausted NCAA eligibility.

The Miami athletic program has also heightened its impact within the community over the last decade. At UM, the entire department staff, administrators, athletes, and coaches take great pride in giving back to the community. The program's focus is on the commitment to the children of South Florida. Through volunteerism, student-athletes have the opportunity to serve the community and be positive role models to youth. As an educational institution, the University of Miami instills the importance of education and hard work in our youth through examples of leadership and dedication to our community and its members. ☺

Hurricanes Spirit

The Hurricanes

It began in controversy. Some reports say the 1927 football team held a meeting to select Hurricanes, hoping they would sweep away opponents just as the devastating storm did on September 16, 1926.

Another version holds that Miami News columnist Jack Bell asked end Porter Norris of the 1926 team what the team should be called. Told that the local dignitaries and University officials wanted to name the team for a local flora or fauna, Norris said the players wouldn't stand for it and suggested "Hurricanes," since the opening game had been postponed by such a storm.

Orange, Green & White

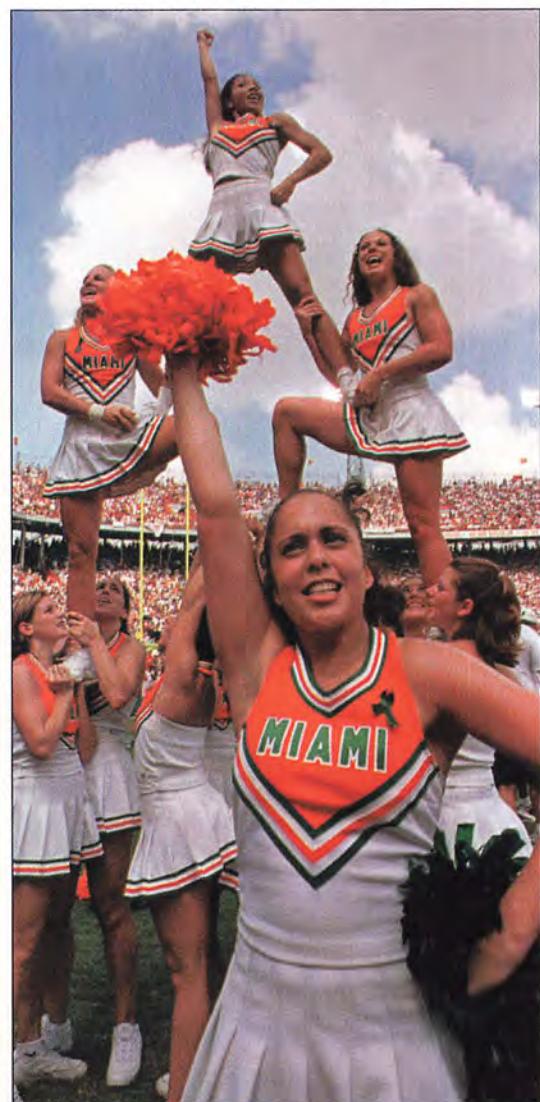

UM's school colors were selected in 1926. The colors of the Florida orange tree represent UM. Orange symbolizes the fruit of the tree, green represents the leaves, and white, the blossoms.

Cheerleaders

The University of Miami cheerleaders are the catalysts for school spirit at the University. Along with cheering at both home and away athletic events, the squad is a strong public relations arm for the University. Active in community service and charitable projects, the cheerleaders are a great source of pride for the University and the City of Miami.

the Ibis, a symbol of knowledge found in the Everglades and Egypt, is the last sign of wildlife to take shelter before a hurricane and the first to reappear after the storm. The local marsh bird was considered UM's first unofficial mascot when the school yearbook adopted the "Ibis" in 1926.

The "Smoke"

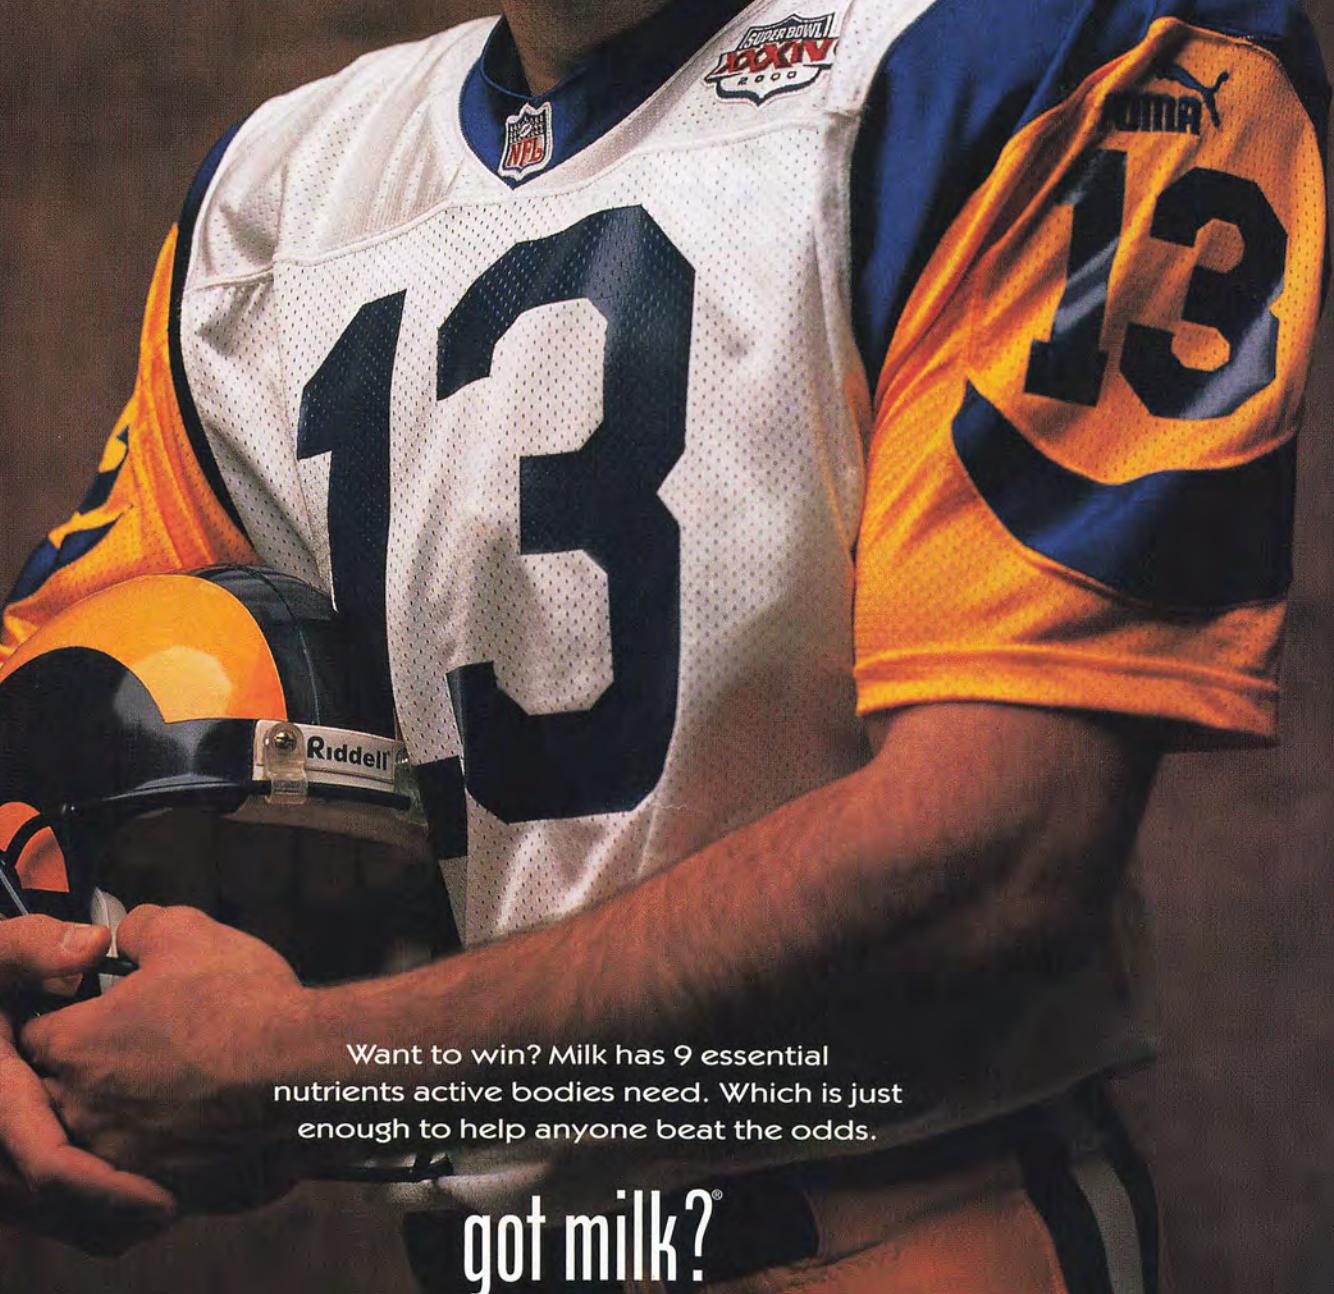

The traditional Hurricane "smoke" entrance in the Orange Bowl began in the 1950s. In an attempt to increase fan interest, UM transportation director Bob Nalette came up with the idea of using fire extinguishers to produce the now-famous smoke that the Hurricanes run through as they enter the field. ☺

Larry Coker

Hurricanes Head Coach

It was 22 years in the making, but it's safe to say that Larry Coker's first year as head coach of the Miami Hurricanes has been as sweet as roses. In his first season, Coker has led the team to their sixth undefeated regular season in school history at 11-0. He is also trying to become the second rookie coach to lead his team to and win a National Championship since Michigan rookie head coach Bennie Oosterbaan did so in 1948. Ironically, the National Championship game was in the Rose Bowl that year, too.

Under Coker, the Hurricanes captured their sixth BIG EAST title and set the school record for points scored in a season with 472. From offense to defense and special teams as well, the Hurricanes made big plays when it counted most.

"It's just an awesome feeling for these players and our staff to have the opportunity to go to Pasadena and play for the national championship this year," Coker said after his first Gatorade bath as head coach.

He was named the school's 19th head football coach on February 3, 2001 marking the first time in 25 years that the University of Miami elevated a current assistant to head coach.

HEAD COACH

Prior to becoming head coach, Coker served under Butch Davis as UM's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach since 1995. Coker's promotion was not only a symbol of the high regard with which he is held by Miami football's inner circle, it is also the by-product of a career in which excellence has been consistently achieved.

Naming Larry Coker head coach was the right decision at the right time, not only to retain the chemistry forged during Miami's rise back to national prominence, but to build on that success and take the program up the final step of the ladder. His appointment was met with approval from all corners: from players, coaches and administrators alike.

"This is exactly what the players wanted and I know we're all extremely happy about Coach Coker being named the new head coach," said quarterback Ken Dorsey at the start of the season. "It's great to know that we will not have to learn a new system and deal with all that involves. He's the best man for the job, not just for our offense, but for the entire program."

Prior to his arrival in 1995, Coker spent the previous two seasons at Ohio State (1993-94), coaching the defensive backfield. The Buckeyes participated in two bowl games (almost making it to the Rose Bowl in 1993) during his tenure and were Big Ten Co-Champions in 1993. From 1990-92, Coker was offensive coordinator at Oklahoma, assisting the Sooners to two bowl game victories.

Before heading to Norman, Coker spent seven seasons as offensive coordinator at Oklahoma State in Stillwater. In his seven seasons with the Cowboys, he coached the 1988 Heisman Trophy winner Barry Sanders while the team went on to win four bowl games.

Coker's coaching career began in 1979 at Tulsa as the running backs and quarterbacks coach under head coach John Cooper. He was named offensive coordinator in 1980, a post he held for three seasons. Coker molded the Golden Hurricane offense into one of the nation's most feared attacks, helping TU build a Missouri Valley Conference powerhouse in a short time.

Coker was a three-year letterman at defensive back for Northeastern State University while earning his bachelor's degree in history. Coker also completed his master's degree at Northeastern State in guidance counseling and physical education.

Born in Okemah, Okla., on June 23, 1948, the 53-year old Coker and his wife Dianna have one daughter, Lara. ☺

GAME 1

Miami 33, Penn State 7

Sept. 1, State College, Pa.

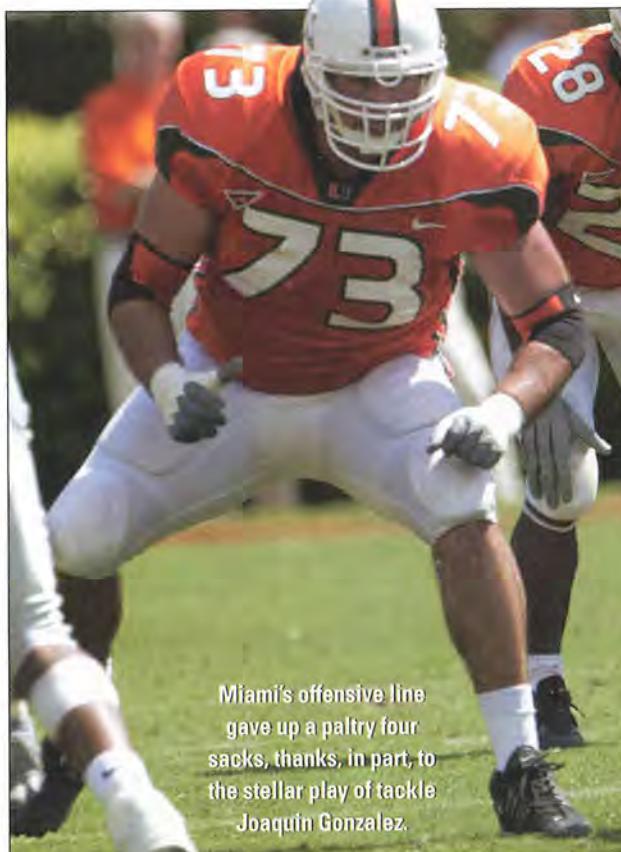

With all cylinders clicking, Miami began the Larry Coker era with a 33-7 victory over Penn State at Beaver Stadium in State College, Pa.

UM jumped out to a 30-0 halftime lead, with Heisman Trophy candidate Ken Dorsey throwing for a career-high 344 yards and three touchdown passes to Jeremy Shockey, Andre Johnson and Ethenic Sands. Clinton Portis rushed for a career-high 164 yards.

Dorsey called his outing "very good for an opener," but expressed hope that he would improve as the season progressed. "I thought the receivers ran very good routes."

Miami scored on its first five possessions and six of its first seven. The Hurricanes recorded 602 yards of total offense, and the UM offensive line did not give up a sack in the game.

UM's defense held Penn State in check for the Nittany Lions first 11 possessions, including eight punts, a fumble, an INT and a loss on downs. PSU notched its lone score at 12:12 of the fourth quarter. The Hurricanes defense also notched four sacks, including Andrew Williams' first as a Hurricane, and 11 tackles for loss.

Miami's offensive line gave up a paltry four sacks, thanks, in part, to the stellar play of tackle Joaquin Gonzalez.

GAME 2

Miami 61, Rutgers 0

Sept. 8, Miami, Fla.

After an hour delay due to stormy weather, Miami's BIG EAST home opener kicked off with a 61-0 shutout of Rutgers and Greg Schiano—UM's former defensive coordinator. The margin of victory was the Hurricanes largest since a 75-7 win over Fordham in 1954. Ken Dorsey led the offense with 315 yards passing and two touchdowns. Andre Johnson recorded the first 100-yard receiving game of the season with 104 yards on two receptions, including a 40-yard TD strike in the first quarter.

The Hurricanes' ground game scored four touchdowns and totaled 227 net yards. True freshman Frank Gore led a group of eight rushers with 78 yards on six carries, including a 10-yard TD run.

Miami's defense held Rutgers in check, allowing just 126 total yards (64 rushing, 62 passing). The Hurricanes forced eight fumbles and recovered five, and intercepted a pass.

"Their defense played great tonight," said Schiano of his former players. "I knew they would come out strong."

GAME 3

Miami 43, Pittsburgh 21

Sept. 27, Pittsburgh, Pa.

After a 19-day layoff, top-ranked Miami tied a season-high with its 20-point first quarter and scored in each of the four periods en route to a 43-21 BIG EAST road victory.

Clinton Portis tallied his ninth career 100-yard game and set a career-high with three rushing touchdowns. He totaled 156 yards in the game, with 131 on the ground.

"We needed to take the crowd out of this game, and that's what we did," said Portis.

Ken Dorsey passed for 208 yards with one touchdown, an 18-yard pass to Andre Johnson near the end of the first quarter. Dorsey used nine receivers in the game, led by Johnson's four catches. Najeh Davenport led receivers with 60 yards, including a game-high 32-yard catch.

Pittsburgh's two-yard TD run by Rod Rutherford midway through the first quarter marked the first time an opponent had scored in the opening period against the Hurricanes this season.

"They won in a convincing fashion," said coach Larry Coker. "I told our players they should be excited about this win."

GAME 4

Miami 38, Troy State 7

Oct. 6, Miami, Fla.

After a slow start, top-ranked Miami erupted for 21 third-quarter points leading to a 38-7 victory over Troy State in their first-ever meeting at the Orange Bowl.

Ken Dorsey passed for 299 yards on 18-of-30 attempts with two touchdowns and no interceptions, before Derrick Crudup came in for the entire fourth quarter. Crudup finished 3-of-7 for 28 yards.

Jeremy Shockley caught four passes for 66 yards and Daryl Jones also had four catches for 58 yards. Kevin Beard and Andre Johnson each had three catches with a touchdown reception.

The defense allowed an early first-quarter touchdown by the Trojans, but that was it for Troy State. The defense had five sacks and Edward Reed returned an interception 27 yards for a touchdown.

"Everyone said we're No. 1, but we weren't showing it. I came out and backed it up," said Reed.

GAME 5

Miami 49, Florida State 27

Oct. 13, Tallahassee, Fla.

No. 1 Miami stormed into Tallahassee and handed Florida State its first home loss in 10 seasons, ending a 37-game home win streak and 54-game home unbeaten streak. The victory was FSU's worst home loss in 16 seasons and the most points scored by Miami over FSU in 50 years. Overall, eight of FSU's 18 losses since 1987 have come at the hands of Miami.

"To come into Doak Campbell and win, something that hasn't been done in 10 years, we are elated," said coach Larry Coker on the team's victory.

Junior kicker Todd Sievers nailed 21 of 26 field-goal attempts in 2001, including three games with four three-pointers each.

Ken Dorsey threw three touchdowns, Clinton Portis ran for 122 yards and Andre Johnson accumulated 111 receiving yards and two TDs.

Two Miami scores came off a blocked punt and a Chris Rix fumble. Punter Freddie Capshaw scored a touchdown after mishandling a snap and then racing around the corner to put Miami ahead 42-20. Early on, Edward Reed blocked a punt and Markese Fitzgerald picked the ball up to score from five yards out.

After touchdown passes to Johnson and Jeremy Shockley, FSU narrowed the score, 21-13. But Miami came out hot in the third, scoring twice before the 10-minute mark. William Joseph recorded a sack, and stripped the ball away from Chris Rix, allowing Jonathan Vilma to race 36 yards for the score and a 35-13 lead.

GAME 6

Miami 45, West Virginia 3

Oct. 25, Miami, Fla.

In a South Florida downpour, the top-ranked Hurricanes cruised to a 45-3 BIG EAST Conference victory in a rare Thursday night affair. The Hurricanes shook off some early rust to record their national-best 16th straight victory.

Ken Dorsey, who improved to 20-1 as a starter, tied Miami's school record for touchdown passes thrown by connecting with Jeremy Shockley and Andre Johnson for six- and 14-yard TDs, respectively. Dorsey completed 16-of-27 passes for 192 yards. In the first half, West Virginia outgained Miami on the ground, 131-42, yet the Hurricanes owned a 17-3 half-time lead on Dorsey's TD toss to Shockley and cornerback James Lewis' 75-yard interception return, the sixth of the season scored by Miami's defense or special teams.

"They did a good job of throwing things at us and we had to go and make adjustments at the half," said Dorsey, of West Virginia's defense.

Miami pulled away in the second half with 28 unanswered points. Freshman running back Frank Gore contributed to the rout with TD runs of 45 and 49 yards.

"When I get opportunities to get in, I just try [to] help my team," said Gore.

Nov. 3, Miami, Fla.

Temple did its best to slow the pace, but the top-ranked Hurricanes scored 21 points in the third quarter to come away with a 38-0 shutout over the Owls at the Orange Bowl on Homecoming.

The defense posted its second shutout this season and surrendered a season-low 34 yards passing by the Owls. Phillip Buchanon scored a touchdown on a 52-yard punt return in the third quarter, and Ed Reed's interception tied him with Bennie Blades for first place all-time, with 19.

Ken Dorsey threw for 175 yards on 16 of 24 passing with two touchdowns, which placed him No. 1 all-time at UM with 50 career TD strikes, ahead of Vinny Testaverde and Steve Walsh. "It's an honor to be in the record books with some great players who are also friends of mine," said Dorsey.

Clinton Portis earned his own spot in the record books with his 10th career 100-yard rushing effort (117 yards). Portis also surpassed the 2,000-yard career rushing mark. Frank Gore totaled 86 yards on 11 carries and Jeremy Shockley collected six receptions for 93 yards.

Jerome McDougle's solid season at defensive end led to 55 tackles, six sacks and an interception.

Miami 18, Boston College 7

Nov. 10, Chestnut Hill, Mass.

Kicker Todd Sievers tied his school record with four field goals to boost Miami past the upset-minded Eagles at a sold-out Alumni Stadium in Chestnut Hill. The UM defense scored a touchdown with 13 seconds left to seal the BIG EAST victory for the top-ranked Hurricanes.

With Miami leading 12-7, Boston College took over the football with 2:09 left to play and no timeouts. BC quarterback Brian St. Pierre led the Eagles down the field to the Miami nine, following a fourth-and-10 first-down completion of 21 yards with just under 40 seconds to go. On the next play, St. Pierre's pass ricocheted off Mike Rumph's knee and was snatched out of the air by Matt Walters for the interception. Edward Reed took the ball from Walters 10 yards downfield and raced the final 80 yards for the score.

The Hurricanes opened the scoring in the second quarter when Sievers hit his first field goal. After a TD by the Eagles in the third quarter made it 9-7, Sievers opened the fourth quarter with a career-best 47-yard field goal.

Bryant McKinnie shut down NCAA sack leader Dwight Freeney, holding him without a sack as Dorsey picked apart the secondary.

"Bryant did a great job," said Dorsey. "I wasn't really concerned with their blitz guy."

Dorsey was 13-of-20 for 224 yards. He threw two TD passes to Andre Johnson and two to Jeremy Shockey. Clinton Portis ran 18 times for 132 yards and scored once. Frank Gore ran 11 times for a career-high 153 yards. This game marked the first time UM has had two rushers with more than 100 yards since 1997.

Miami's defense—led by cornerback Phillip Buchanon—recorded its third shutout of the season. Buchanon returned an interception 76 yards for a touchdown, recovered a fumble that led to a touchdown and added a 17-yard sack. He also returned a punt 59 yards.

GAME 10

Miami 65, Washington 7

Nov. 24, Miami, Fla.

Top-ranked Miami closed out its 2001 home schedule with a rout over 12th-ranked Washington in front of a sellout crowd. The Hurricanes dominated every facet of the game and avenged a 34-29 loss to the Huskies in week two of the 2000 season, UM's last defeat.

"Washington is a very talented football team, with great players like our team," said head coach Larry Coker. "But this was just our night."

Following a Jonathan Vilma interception on Washington's first drive, Miami got on the scoreboard with the first of three straight TDs by Clinton Portis, who surpassed 1,000 total yards for the season. Portis' next two scores fueled a 30-point second quarter for the Hurricanes and a 37-0 halftime lead.

On defense, Jerome McDougle took an interception 14 yards for a touchdown, and William Joseph posted two quarterback sacks and two forced fumbles to earn BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Week honors.

Four seniors stood out in their final home game at the Orange Bowl. Linebacker Chris Campbell recorded his first interception of the season. Najeh Davenport scored a pair of touchdowns. And James Lewis and Markese Fitzgerald each grabbed an interception leading to Hurricane scores.

GAME 11

Miami 26, Virginia Tech 24

Dec. 1, Blacksburg, Va.

With a bid to the Rose Bowl to play for the national championship on the line, the Hurricanes went into Blacksburg and came away with a victory, something they hadn't done since 1992.

"Our team didn't flinch," said head coach Larry Coker. "It certainly didn't look good for us at times, but I'm extremely proud of the way we played."

Ken Dorsey completed 21 of 44 passes for 235 yards and a touchdown, and Todd Sievers kicked four field goals. Clinton Portis carried 34 times for 124 yards and a second-quarter score as Miami built a 20-3 halftime lead. Senior Ed Reed had two interceptions, the second coming late in the fourth quarter with the Hokies driving. Reed captured the school record for most career interceptions with 21, previously held by Benjie Blades with 19.

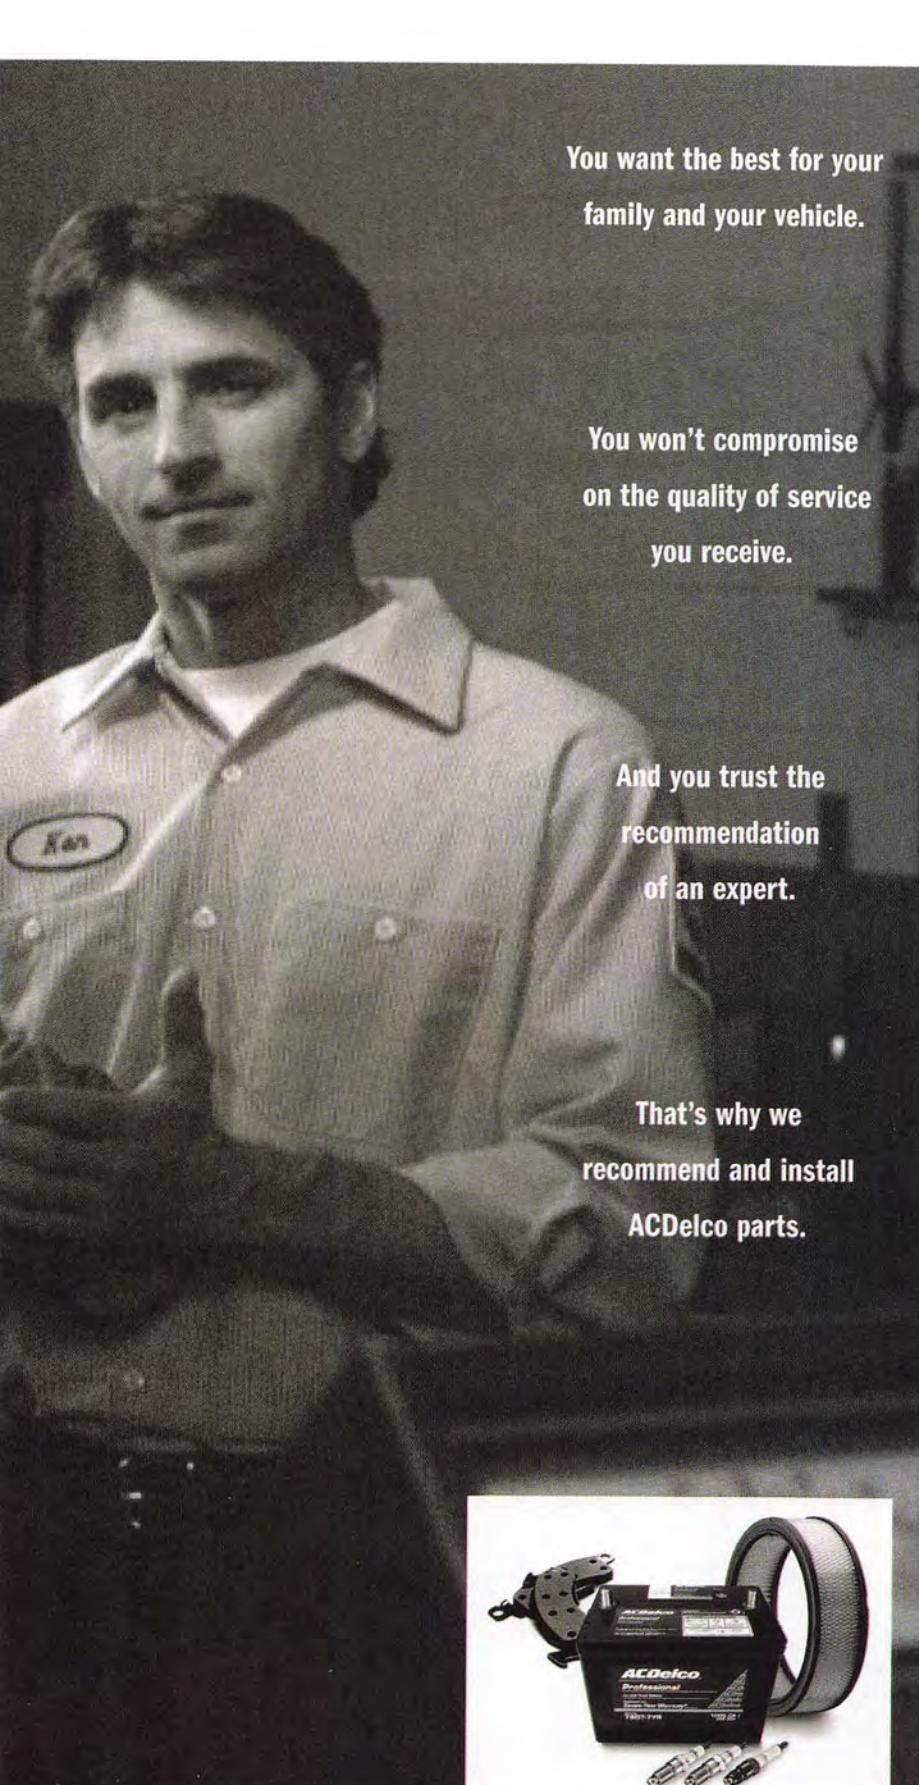

With the Hurricanes ahead 26-18 in the fourth quarter, Virginia Tech pulled off its signature play—a blocked punt—and returned the ball 22 yards for a TD to pull the Hokies within two points. But they failed on the two-point conversion try and the Hurricanes held on.

Miami completed its sixth undefeated regular season in school history and earned the chance to play for its fifth national title.

Power. Agility.

Pick Two.

On the one hand, Lincoln LS can take a long, softly winding road and with its 32-valve, 252-horsepower engine, four-wheel independent suspension and near 50/50 weight distribution, turn it into an automotive thrill ride of the highest order...while Lincoln Navigator, with its four tons of hauling capacity,* three rows of seating, and 300 horsepower, will take the most tough, rocky, savage, mountainous terrain and turn it into the most civilized and sublime experience you've ever encountered. The powerful Lincoln Navigator and the athletic Lincoln LS—two distinct vehicles that share the same breeding, the same impeccable manners, and the same refinement that could have only come from the same family. Visit your Lincoln dealer today, go to Lincoln.com, or call 800 688-8898.

Nebraska 21, TCU 7

Aug. 25, Lincoln, Neb.

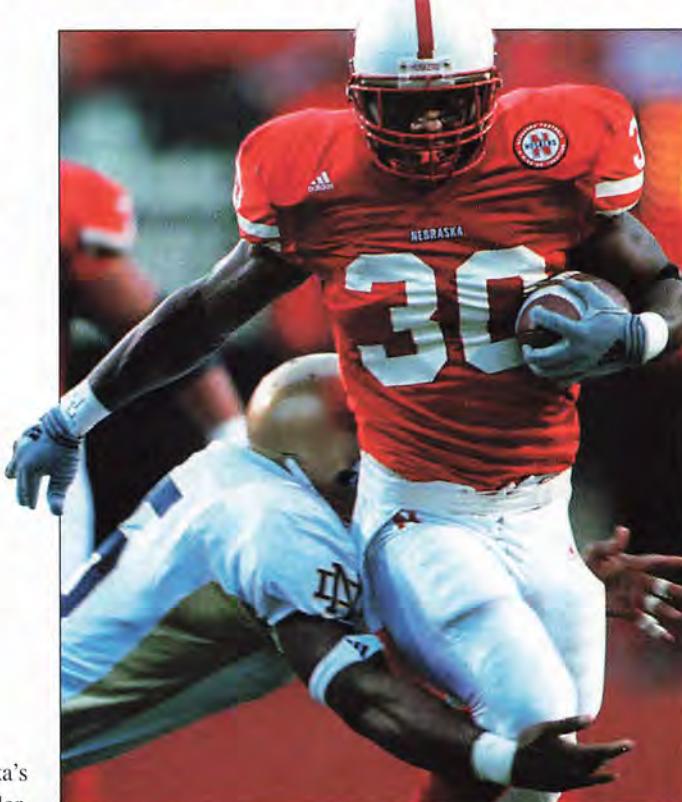

Eric Crouch became Nebraska's all-time total-offense leader, accounting for 220 yards in leading the Huskers over TCU in the 2001 NACDA Pigskin Classic. Crouch rushed for 69 yards and one touchdown on 24 carries, while completing 10-of-18 passes for 151 yards in sharing MVP honors. The Huskers, who have won 16 straight season openers, improved to 5-0 all-time in preseason contests.

I-back Thunder Collins rushed for 71 yards, scoring on runs of six and 26 yards, on 14 carries in his first career start. While the Huskers amassed 310 yards of total offense against a team that led the nation in total defense in 2000, the Blackshirt defense held TCU to 186 yards.

Holding a six-point lead midway through the third quarter, the Huskers started a drive at their own 2-yard line and marched 98 yards in 10 plays to take a 19-7 lead, before Crouch ran an option to the right side for the two-point conversion and the final margin.

GAME 2

Nebraska 42, Troy State 14

Sept. 1, Lincoln, Neb.

Dahrran Diedrick made the most of his first career start, rushing for 177 yards and three scores on 25 carries to lead Nebraska to victory. The NU defense recorded eight sacks and 12 tackles for loss, holding the Trojans to minus-25 yards rushing, the fourth-lowest total by an opponent in school history.

The Trojans took an early 7-0 lead, but the Huskers answered with two quick scores, the first by Diedrick and the second by Crouch. NU's first touchdown was set up by Diedrick's 38-yard run, while the second score came after Willie Amos' second career interception.

The Blackshirts got into the scoring column next, as Jon Clanton recovered a fumble and rumbled 20 yards to give NU a 21-7 lead. After a Diedrick score, the Trojans marched 88 yards to make the score 28-14 at the half. The Blackshirts ended any TSU upset hopes, surrendering just two yards of total offense in the second half.

GAME 3

Nebraska 27, Notre Dame 10

Sept. 8, Lincoln, Neb.

Nebraska raced to a 27-3 lead at the half and cruised over Notre Dame. Dahrran Diedrick produced his second consecutive 100-yard rushing performance (133 yards, two touchdowns), while tight end Tracey Wistrom hauled in four receptions for 71 yards to lead the offense.

The Blackshirt defense, led by Big 12 Defensive Player-of-the-Week Jamie Burrow's 11 tackles, shut down the Notre Dame attack. The Irish offense was held to just 162 total yards—including 43 yards rushing—and turned the ball over four times.

Nebraska's offense struck first with a nine-play, 64-yard opening drive capped by Diedrick's two-yard touchdown run. After Burrows recovered a fumble on Notre Dame's next series, Eric Crouch tossed a 22-yard touchdown pass to John Gibson. Sandro DeAngelis gave the Huskers a 17-0 lead with the first field goal of his career in the first quarter. After a field goal finally got the Irish on the board in the second quarter, Diedrick added his second touchdown on the day and DeAngelis contributed his second field goal with one second left in the half to finish off the Huskers scoring.

Nebraska 48, Rice 3

Sept. 20, Lincoln, Neb.

The Huskers had to wait 12 days longer than originally scheduled, but they still rolled to an easy win.

In Nebraska's first-ever Thursday-night home game, Eric Crouch produced a nearly perfect passing performance by completing 9 of 11 passes for 165 yards and three touchdowns and added 97 yards rushing with two more touchdowns. Crouch's passing effort included a 42-yard scoring strike to Wilson Thomas, and connections of 37 and 11 yards with Tracey Wistrom. Crouch found pay dirt himself on runs of 25 and six yards to account for five total offense scores.

For his efforts, he was named the Big 12 Conference Co-Offensive Player of the Week. He also became the Big 12's all-time leading rushing quarterback, moving ahead of Missouri's Corby Jones, while moving past the 6,000-yard mark of total offense.

Wistrom became the second tight end in school history to record 1,000 career receiving yards. The Huskers had a season-high 102 players see action.

Middle linebacker Jamie Burrow's 11 tackles and fumble recovery against Notre Dame on September 8 earned him Big 12 Defensive Player-of-the-Week honors.

yard touchdown run to lead the Huskers. Crouch added 120 passing yards to finish with a career-best 311 total offense yards—the fourth-best total in school history and just eight yards shy of the school record.

His performance propelled Nebraska to season highs of 412 yards on the ground and 532 yards in total offense against the Tigers. Along with Crouch's record-setting day, Tracey Wistrom became Nebraska's career leader in receiving yards by a tight end, finishing the day with two catches for 26 yards to surpass Junior Miller's 1,045 yards (1977-79).

Big 12 Defensive Player-of-the-Week Scott Shanle put his name in the Husker record book with four pass breakups, the best single-game effort by a linebacker in school history, to go along with his team-leading eight tackles. DeJuan Groce joined Shanle as a Big 12 honoree, earning Special Teams Player-of-the-Week accolades with a career-best 146 yards on seven punt returns. Defensively, Groce added a career high-tying five pass breakups, which is tied for the second-highest single-game total in school history.

GAME 6

Nebraska 48, Iowa State 14

Oct. 6, Lincoln, Neb.

After racing to a 41-0 halftime lead, the Huskers knocked off previously unbeaten Iowa State in front of 78,002 fans. Cornerback Keyuo Craver's 57-yard first-quarter interception return for a touchdown started Nebraska's landslide victory.

Eric Crouch provided plenty of exclamation points with four rushing touchdowns on four consecutive first-half drives to break the NCAA record for rushing touchdowns by a quarterback. Crouch's 51 rushing touchdowns surpassed the previous NCAA mark of 49 touchdowns by Kareem Wilson of Ohio (1995-98). Crouch also broke the Nebraska record for rushing touchdowns previously held by Heisman Trophy-winner Mike Rozier, who had 49 scores from 1981 to 1983. Crouch, who carried 15 times for 104 yards, produced his second straight 100-yard rushing performance.

Dahrran Diedrick added his third 100-yard game of the season with 107-yards on 15 carries with one touchdown. Along with his interception, Craver led the Huskers with nine tackles and two pass breakups.

GAME 7

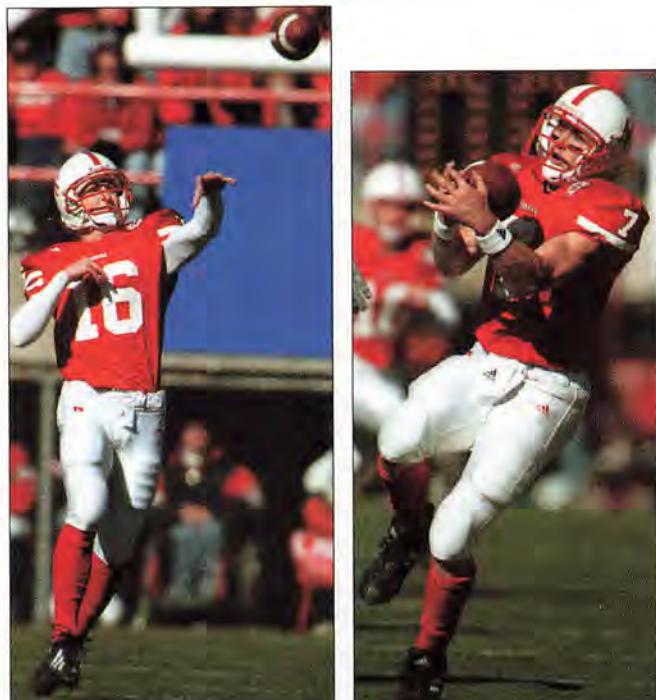

Nebraska 48, Baylor 7

Oct. 13, Waco, Texas

Nebraska overcame five turnovers to roll for 641 rushing yards and its seventh straight win. In a game delayed 36 minutes by lightning in the second quarter, the Huskers built a 14-7 halftime lead. But as the skies cleared in the second half, Nebraska ran over Baylor's defense.

Four Huskers—Thunder Collins (165), Dahrran Diedrick (137), Eric Crouch (132) and Judd Davies (119)—rushed for more than 100 yards, tying an NCAA record. Collins and Davies' marks were career highs, while Diedrick went over the 100-yard mark for the fourth time in 2001. Crouch produced his third straight 100-yard effort, while his three rushing scores moved him ahead of Tommie Frazier into the top spot in the NU record books for total-offense touchdowns, with 80 in his career.

Meanwhile, the Blackshirts held the Bears to 187 total yards, including just 29 rushing yards. Keyuo Craver, Lornell McPherson and Wes Woodward all recorded interceptions to help limit Baylor quarterbacks to just 15-of-43 passing.

Freshman split end Mike Stuntz (above left) stopped his end-around run to pass back to senior quarterback Eric Crouch, who ran 63 yards for the final score in Nebraska's 20-10 victory over Oklahoma.

Nebraska 41, Texas Tech 31

Oct. 20, Lincoln, Neb.

The Huskers rolled up 335 yards rushing and added 196 passing yards to outgun Texas Tech's "Air Raid" passing attack.

Eric Crouch became just the fourth quarterback in NCAA history to rush for 3,000 yards and pass for 3,000 yards in a career. He produced his fourth straight 100-yard rushing effort with 105 yards on the ground, while adding 196 passing yards. Crouch completed 10 of 22 passes, including three touchdown strikes, while adding another touchdown on the ground.

Wilson Thomas led the receivers with four catches for 76 yards, including a career-high two touchdown grabs. Jon Bowling, who saw significant playing because of an injury to starting tight end Tracey Wistrom, added his first score of the season. Dahrran Diedrick led the Huskers with 157 yards rushing, while fullback Judd Davies contributed a 25-yard touchdown run.

Texas Tech quarterback Kliff Kingsbury's one interception on the day was returned 18 yards by Dion Booker to stop a Red Raider scoring threat.

GAME 9

Nebraska 20, Oklahoma 10

Oct. 27, Lincoln, Neb.

Nebraska opened its season 9-0 for the 15th time in school history, outdueling Oklahoma in front of 78,031 fans and an ABC national television audience.

True freshman split end Mike Stuntz hit quarterback Eric Crouch for a 63-yard touchdown on a reverse from I-back Thunder Collins for the game's final score with 6:17 remaining in the fourth quarter. Stuntz's first career pass attempt and Crouch's first reception of the season capped a 96-yard drive that helped the Huskers snap OU's 20-game overall winning streak. The win elevated Nebraska to No. 1 in the BCS standings.

The Huskers extended their home winning streak to 20 games behind a Blackshirt defense led by senior linebacker Jamie Burrow, who recorded a career-high 17 tackles, while Keyuo Craver and Erwin Swiney each added an interception.

Crouch led the offense with 102 passing yards. Dahrran Diedrick added a team-best 90 yards rushing, while Wilson Thomas added a career-best six receptions.

Nov. 3, Lawrence, Kan.

Dahrran Diedrick produced his sixth 100-yard rushing performance of the season with 136 yards and two touchdowns to lead the Huskers in a rout.

Playing in front of the first sellout crowd in Lawrence since 1992, the Huskers rolled for 284 rushing yards and 164 passing yards. Eric Crouch threw a personal-best 14 completions in 24 attempts, including a career high-tying six receptions for 65 yards to Wilson Thomas. Crouch added 49 yards rushing on 13 carries with one score, while establishing himself as NU's all-time winningest starting quarterback with his 34th career victory.

Josh Brown tied a career high with three field goals, while scoring a career-best 14 points, and Ben Cornelison pitched in a career-long 71-yard punt return for a touchdown for NU's longest return of the season.

Kansas' lone score came in the fourth quarter, but was followed by Jammal Lord's career-long 33-yard scoring run to produce the game's final margin. Chris Kelsay led the Blackshirts with eight tackles, including a pair of sacks and five tackles for loss.

Nov. 10, Lincoln, Neb.

Dahrran Diedrick and Eric Crouch each rushed for over 100 yards and Willie Amos intercepted two passes—returning one for a touchdown—as the Huskers defeated Kansas State on Senior Day.

Diedrick led the Huskers with 108 yards, while Crouch—playing the last home game of a brilliant career—added 106 yards, including one touchdown. Crouch added 60 yards passing on seven attempts, as the offense pounded out 324 total yards. Toni Fonoti led a strong performance by the offensive line with 25 pancakes and John Garrison added a career-high 20 pancakes among the O-line's 90 on the day.

The defense provided plenty of highlights as well, including Big 12 Defensive Player-of-the-Week Amos' 20-yard interception return for a touchdown in the second quarter, his 50-yard interception return in the third quarter, and Pat Ricketts interception.

DeJuan Groce's 60-yard punt-return touchdown gave the Huskers a 28-14 edge in the third quarter and Josh Brown added a field goal to cap the Nebraska scoring.

GAME 12

Colorado 62, Nebraska 36

Nov. 23, Boulder, Colo.

Despite a school-record 360 yards of total offense by quarterback Eric Crouch, the Huskers suffered their first loss of the season, falling at Colorado. The loss dropped NU from its No. 1 ranking in the BCS standings, while the Buffaloes clinched a share of the North Division title and a berth in the Big 12 title game with the win.

Crouch threw for 198 yards and rushed for 162 yards and a pair of scores, setting a new school record for total offense in a game, and became only the 13th player in NCAA history to rush and pass for 1,000 yards in a single season.

CU blitzed the Huskers with four first-quarter scores. The 62 points is the most ever allowed by NU. Trailing 35-3, NU closed to within 42-30 at the start of the fourth quarter, but CU's Chris Brown scored three times. In the loss, Wilson Thomas posted his first career 100-yard receiving day, finishing with 109 yards on three catches.

Traditions continue

Sixty-one years ago, a tradition of football excellence was established with Nebraska's first bowl game appearance — at the Rose Bowl. Since then, Nebraska has established a tradition of excellence in the classroom as well as on the field.

In honor of great traditions, the Nebraska Alumni Association, in cooperation with the student government, is proud to present the official class ring.

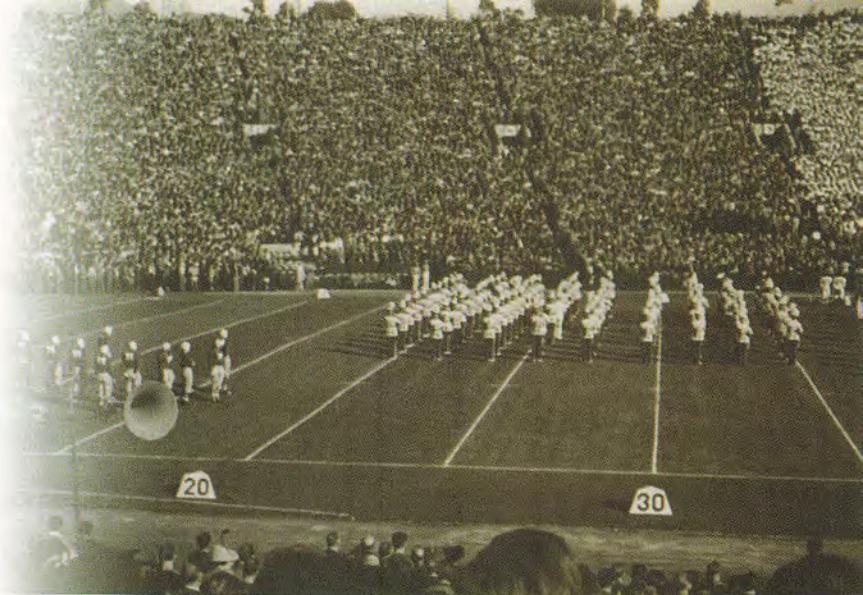

The official class ring is just one of many programs the alumni association supports. We strive to enhance the student experience and foster relations between alumni. A strong alumni association contributes to a greater university.

Don't wait 60 years before you "return" to Nebraska. By joining the Nebraska Alumni Association today, you'll never really leave.

Any graduate of Nebraska is eligible to obtain a ring. Information is available at www.unl.edu/alumni/ring or by calling (800) 355-1145. For more information on Nebraska Alumni Association programs and membership, or to locate the chapter nearest you call, (888) 353-1874.

Frank Solich

Cornhuskers Head Coach

Coach Frank Solich (Nebraska, 1966) is in his fourth season at the helm of the Huskers and owns a 42-8 school and career record. Solich is tied for third on the all-time Division I-A list for wins in the first four seasons as a head coach. His winning percentage of .857 would rank first in the nation among active Division I-A coaches if he had the prerequisite five years.

Solich was named Nebraska's 26th head coach on Dec. 10, 1997, after serving as an NU assistant for 19 years.

Solich is the first NU coach to win 42 games in his first four years.

He played fullback for Hall of Fame Coach Bob Devaney, lettering in 1963-65. Solich was the first Husker running back to rush for 200 yards in a game and remains the only fullback to accomplish that feat, rushing for 204 vs. Air Force in 1965. He also lettered as a center fielder for the NU baseball team in 1965.

After serving as a local high school football coach for 14 years, Solich took over the NU freshman program and posted a 19-1 record from 1979 to 1982. He was elevated to NU's running backs coach after four seasons, a position he held for 15 years (1983-97). Promoted to assistant head coach in 1991, Solich was named head coach following the 1997 season. Solich is one of 15

Division I football coaches who played for and now coach their alma mater.

Coach Solich became just the third first-year Nebraska head coach to record nine wins in his first season at the helm, joining a pair of Hall of Fame coaches: Tom Osborne (9-2-1 in 1973) and Bob Devaney (9-2 in 1962). Solich posted a 9-4 record in his first season, despite being hit heavy with injuries. He recorded the best record of any Husker second-year coach, as his team posted a 12-1 record in 1999, leading NU to a Big 12 Championship and No. 2 (Coaches) and No. 3 (AP) final national rankings. Solich's 21 wins in his first two years at NU bettered Devaney's previous school record of 19 (Osborne had 18) and ranked him in a tie for third all time among Division I coaches in their first two years at the helm. After a 10-2 record in 2000 and an 11-1 mark in 2001, Solich's career record stands at an incredible 42-8. His 42 wins in four years bettered both Osborne and Devaney's marks in their first four years. Solich is also the only Husker coach to have won 12 games in any of his first three seasons and is the first NU coach to win 42 games in his first four years.

Devaney won nine in his first year, 10 his second year, nine his third and 10 in his fourth (38), while Osborne won nine, nine, 10 and nine, respectively (37). Devaney and Solich won their first conference titles in their second year, while Osborne tied for his first title in his third year at the helm. Solich was named the Big 12 Coach of the Year by his league peers and the AP after winning the league championship in 1999, and again in 2001. Solich earned his bachelor's (1966) and master's degrees (1972) from Nebraska.

Solich is 26-1 at home, 12-6 on the road, and 4-1 in neutral-site games. In Memorial Stadium, Solich has lost just one game, to Texas in 1998. He is 26-7 in Big 12 action (16-1 at home, 9-6 on the road and 1-0 in neutral-site games). Solich is 10-7 vs. ranked teams, 2-1 this season. Solich has never faced Miami (Fla.) as a head coach. ☺

Cornhuskers Athletics

Memorial Stadium seats more than 75,000 fans who have filled the stands for an NCAA-record 247 consecutive sellouts dating back to 1962.

The University of Nebraska continues to improve and upgrade its facilities to keep it among the nation's most successful athletic programs. In recent years, Nebraska has made drastic improvements to many of its facilities in order to keep the Huskers nationally competitive in all 23 varsity sports well into the 21st century.

The 1999 season unveiled NU's biggest project yet, the $36.1 million Memorial Stadium Improvement Project, which includes much more than just 42 skybox suites and a press facility. Most impressive, the project provides a sound financial base for the future. Memorial Stadium improvements began with the addition of two HuskerVision replay boards in 1994, allowing Nebraska to become the first collegiate-owned venue to feature replay boards for its fans. Memorial Stadium was renovated to include an expanded training room, improved locker rooms, a new public-address system, expanded restrooms, improved concession areas and improved seating for disabled fans. Complete waterproofing and concrete repair will continue throughout the stadium into the next decade.

Facility updates will not end with the football program. The University of Nebraska, the city of Lincoln and Lincoln Professional Baseball broke ground on a new $29.53 million baseball/softball complex in April 2000. Director of Athletics Bill Byrne led fund-raising efforts for the complex, which will be home to both the NU baseball and softball teams in 2002, and was also called home by Lincoln's new Northern League franchise, the Saltdogs, for the first time in the summer of 2001. The baseball stadium features 16 skybox suites, while the softball stadium has a capacity of about 2,500. The baseball and softball stadiums also boast state-of-the-art technology with an underground heating system for the playing field, allowing groundskeepers to grow grass year-round.

The Bob Devaney Sports Center received more than $7.9 million in improvements, including the addition of HuskerVision screens. The project also includes improved fan amenities, the aforementioned better seating for disabled fans, plus a complete upper-concourse renovation with a Hall of Honor, Husker timeline and other exhibits commemorating a century of NU athletics. Other improvements to Devaney under Byrne include a new locker room for the women's staff, a new roof over the pool area, remodeling of the central concessions area, a new weight room, a new women's basketball locker room and a passenger elevator.

BILL BYRNE

The track-and-field program benefited from a $2.2 million Ed Weir Outdoor Track Project, which was completed in the fall of 1999, while the $2.7 million indoor track installed at the Bob Devaney Sports Center gave the Huskers one of only seven hydraulic-banked tracks in the world. In 1998, the Abbott Sports Complex received a new press facility, which helped secure three home games in the NCAA Women's Soccer Championships in 1999. The women's rifle program also kicked off its first season with a new shooting range. The NU Coliseum also received a new volleyball-ready room.

These improvements and the leadership of Byrne have helped Nebraska improve its ranking among the nation's elite, especially since the Huskers entered the powerful Big 12 Conference in 1996. During the 2000-01 season, Nebraska recorded its sixth consecutive top-15 finish in the Sears Directors' Cup Standings. The Huskers won seven Big 12 regular-season championships and finished in the top 20 nationally in 11 sports.

During Byrne's tenure in Lincoln, Nebraska became only the second school in NCAA history to win three national football titles in a four-year span. He has helped increase Nebraska's conference-leading athletic program to 23 sports with the addition of women's soccer (1994), women's bowling (1997-98) and women's rifle (1998-99).

In addition, Byrne also reorganized Nebraska's fund-raising efforts and started an integrated marketing and licensing program. He orchestrated the improvements while balancing the budget. NU had a $2.5 million deficit when Byrne arrived in 1992. While operating on a $40 million budget, the deficit is gone and the athletic program now provides more than $40 million in economic impact to the Lincoln community each year.

The University of Nebraska

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is the primary research and doctoral degree-granting institution in Nebraska. As Nebraska's land-grant university, it serves as the flagship institution of the University of Nebraska system.

Officially chartered on Feb. 15, 1869, the University of Nebraska grew quickly to become one of the nation's leading state universities. With a proud tradition of excellence in research and creative activity, the University of Nebraska was one of the pioneers in research and graduate studies, being the first university west of the Mississippi to form a graduate school and to offer the Ph.D. degree. In 1909 Nebraska became the 18th member of the American Association of Universities.

Today UNL ranks among the top 50 institutions awarding the most doctoral degrees. It is a major research university, recently ranked in the top 25 among public universities for total endowment assets and new gifts. It is home to top researchers in such areas as plant genomics, remote sensing technologies, molecular virology, bioinformatics, food processing and nanoscale technology.

Consistent with its role as the state's comprehensive institution, UNL offers 149 undergraduate majors and 116 graduate degree programs. With 22,000 students enrolled in classes at UNL, all of Nebraska's 93 counties are represented in the student body, along with students from all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and 111 foreign countries.

A Comprehensive Education Program embodies the ideals of a liberal arts education. The program acquaints all undergraduates with the basic research tools and the global human context and introduces them to a wide variety of academic subject areas. It emphasizes strong written and oral communication skills and critical thinking. A co-curricular component encourages student leadership and involvement in campus activities and in the wider community.

The George W. Beadle Center for Genetics and Biomaterials Research was dedicated in 1995 and is one of the university's major facilities for science and technology. The center contains state-of-the-art laboratories devoted to research and development in biotechnology, biochemistry, biological materials and related fields. The center is named in honor of a Nobel Prize-winning geneticist and university alumnus.

The university reaches thousands of citizens across the state each year through outreach activities. The Cooperative Extension Service provides all Nebraskans with information and assistance in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, family living, 4-H and community resource development. Continuing Studies offers alternatives to formal on-campus education with programs, including Internet courses, summer reading courses, evening classes, independent study by correspondence, telecourses and study tours.

A number of specialized centers offer assistance to the state's citizens. For example, the Bureau of Business Research is a valuable resource for individuals and local governments. The Food Processing Center has helped hundreds of businesses with everything from product development to marketing, and the Technology Transfer Office expedites the movement of university-developed knowledge into real-world products and processes. The campus is home to the nationally renowned Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery and Sculpture Garden, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art and several other galleries. The Lied Center for Performing Arts draws big-name acts in contemporary entertainment, and the University of Nebraska State Museum boasts a world-class fossil collection. ☺

The 22,000-students strong University of Nebraska offers 149 undergraduate majors and 116 graduate degree programs.

Blow

The Rose Bowl Game tradition got off to an inauspicious start in 1902, as powerhouse Michigan dominated Stanford, 49-0.

The Rose Bowl Game has seen its share of undefeated teams, of teams that clinched a national championship with a victory or, at least, claimed to be the best in the nation. But only once has a team so thoroughly decimated its opponent that the result prompted Rose Bowl officials to postpone football for the subsequent 13 years.

There was no national championship at stake in 1902 when Michigan and Stanford met in the inaugural Rose Bowl Game. But had there been, the Wolverines easily would have won it because coach Fielding H. (Hurry-Up) Yost's team defeated all ten season opponents by an incomprehensible combined score of 501-0...and then his team smothered Stanford, 49-0.

GRANDDADDY'S ROOTS

When James B. Wagner became the Tournament of Roses administrator in 1901, one of his first moves was to arrange a football game to complement Pasadena's 11-year-old New Year's Day parade and events—which included foot races, tug-of-war matches, bicycle and track races and polo matches, among other competitions.

"We are national in everything but a sports attraction that will get people in the icy North and East talking," he said.

While perhaps not an artistic success on the field, the 1902 Game—known then as the East-West Game—drew an estimated 8,500 fans, turned a modest $3,161.86 profit and captured nationwide attention. However, the committees had difficulty attracting teams for a game in 1903 because no one on the West Coast wanted to play Michigan's powerful team. It wasn't until 1915 when Brown University accepted an invitation to play Washington State on Jan. 1, 1916, that the Rose Bowl began an unbroken string of games to this day.

Yost had been Stanford's head coach in 1900 (and that of four other nearby colleges, as well) but left after the Pacific Coast Conference forbade schools hiring non-alumni as coaches.

Yet, in his brief tenure, he had established a reputation that was magnified by his first year at Michigan. That only enticed the Tournament of Roses promoters to bring him back to face his former team, which had a very ordinary 3-1-2 record and had split two games with the only college teams it played. Overlooked was the University of California with a 9-0-1 record, also against mostly non-collegiate competition.

Yost, of course, had assembled one of the greatest teams in college football history. Its point production earned it the nickname of "Point-a-Minute Wolverines."

Michigan also boasted one of the greatest array of players ever seen on a college campus. Two of the players in the 1902 Rose Bowl, running back Willie Heston and fullback Neil Snow, are long-time members of the College Football Hall of Fame. Ironically, Yost coached Heston at San Jose Teachers College during one of his moonlighting jobs while working at Stanford, and he brought him to Michigan.

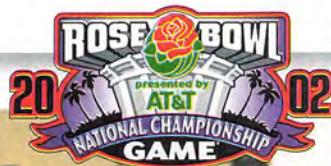

Heston had no equal in intercollegiate football, east or west, in 1901. A thick-set, 190-pound back, he was gifted with great speed, quickness and power, coupled with an athletic grace that gave him marvelous open-field agility in eluding tacklers, even in the days of massed-formation football.

Yost was a most methodical man, superbly organized so that he not only had great success on the football field, but he turned Michigan's bankrupt athletic program into a profit-making venture soon after his arrival. What his teams did was best described by someone as "Punt, Pass and Pray" ...and then wait for an opponent to make a mistake, whereupon the Wolverines offense struck quickly for a score.

Stanford's football program was just ten years old and, as the score indicates, it was no match for Michigan.

Michigan alum Willie Heston points to his picture in a group shot of the 1901 Wolverines.

ROUGH RIDERS

When Michigan and Stanford squared off in the inaugural Rose Bowl Game, substituting players in college football was uncommon. In fact, Michigan fielded just 11 players during the entire contest, while Stanford made just four substitutions.

One player forced to leave the game was W.K. Roosevelt, a second cousin of President Theodore Roosevelt. Early in the game, he hobbled over to Stanford team captain R.S. Fisher and reportedly said, "Something is broken in my leg."

"Stay with it!" snapped Fisher.

"You bet I will," replied Roosevelt, who amazingly did for another 15 minutes until he was forced to leave after fracturing his ribs as well.

Yost accepted the Tournament of Roses bid to play against his former school because he saw it as a great opportunity to "get even," for his being released because of the non-alumni coaching rule.

The game was tightly contested at first, before Heston's 21-yard run set up Snow's six-yard touchdown, the first of his five scores. Michigan led 17-0 at halftime. But in a tidal wave of scoring in the second half, the Wolverines almost ran at will. When the game was mercifully concluded, Heston had gained nearly 200 of the Wolverines 527 total yards. Michigan scored eight five-point touchdowns, one five-point field goal—only the second such score that entire season—and four one-point conversions.

Yost showed no mercy to the battered Stanford team, some of whom he had coached the previous year.

When the score reached 38-0, Stanford coach C.M. Fickert wanted to end the game, saying his players were exhausted, though he had used several substitutes.

"Rest 'em," Yost told Fickert, "then put them back in."

At Stanford's request, the second half was shortened to just 27 minutes when there still were 10 minutes to be played. When the score had reached 49-0, Stanford captain R.S. Fisher told his Michigan counterpart,

"If you are willing, we are ready to quit."

Michigan never substituted during the game.

"We went out to play Stanford in the first Rose Bowl game with just fourteen players," Heston recalled years later. "Only eleven of us played in winning 49-0 and the other three subs turned a hose on each other and rolled in the mud in back of the hotel so they wouldn't come back to Ann Arbor with clean suits."

Ironically, the next Michigan team to play in the Rose Bowl—nearly a half-century later on January 1, 1948—also won 49-0, this time over the University of Southern California. ☺

WHAT'S THE POINT?

There are certain givens in college football: the field is 100 yards long, a touchdown is worth six points, a field goal earns a team three, and an extra point gets you either one or two points (depending on whether you kick or run the ball). Well, it wasn't always this way. When Michigan and Stanford played in the 1902 Rose Bowl Game, the field was 110 yards in length, while a touchdown and a field goal were each worth five points. Playing by today's scoring values, the Wolverines eight touchdowns, four converted extra points and one field goal against Stanford would have given them a 55-0 win!

BOWL

Prior to its 1947 agreement with the Big Ten and Pac-10, the Rose Bowl Game pitted the top team from the East against the best in the West.

Although dozens of bowl games fill today's holiday calendar, postseason football did not exist until 100 years ago, when the Tournament of Roses Committee decided to stage a football game on Jan. 1, 1902, featuring a top team from the Pacific coast against a worthy challenger from the East (see "Blowout" on page 112). Though football was dropped from the Tournament's New Year's Day lineup between 1903-15 in favor of events such as chariot races (below, right), gridiron action returned for good in 1916.

Since the Rose Bowl had the postseason market cornered (the Orange and Sugar Bowls didn't debut until 1935), powerhouses such as Alabama, Notre Dame, Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Harvard, Duke and Pittsburgh all visited Pasadena, giving the Rose Bowl tremendous prestige.

In 1946, "The Granddaddy of Them All" made a dramatic decision when it forged an agreement with the then-Pacific 8 and Big Ten conferences to bring their champions together each Jan. 1. Since then, without exception, the Rose Bowl Game has been defined by its Big Ten/Pac-10 identity. Thus, as it prepares to host its first contest in 83 years without a member of either of those conferences, a look back at the pre-1947 era is in order.

Following are highlights from a handful of those memorable games.

SUPREME

BY MICHAEL BRADLEY

Columbia QB Cliff Montgomery (#33) and halfback Al Barabas (#28) lead the Lions to roses.

PRIDE OF THE LIONS

When Columbia took the field against Stanford in the 1934 Rose Bowl, disappointed fans chanted, "We want Michigan!" Coach Lou Little's Lions were not deemed worthy opponents for the powerful Indians, thanks to a light schedule and a 20-0 loss to Princeton. And when Stanford dominated the early action, chewing up huge chunks of the sodden turf, it seemed as if the fans were right.

Despite their huge edge in yardage gained, the Indians couldn't score. Neither could Columbia, until the second quarter, when QB Cliff Montgomery connected with Tony Matal on a pass to the Stanford 17. In the huddle, Montgomery called for the "KF-79," a trick play that required Montgomery to do plenty of faking, after handing the ball to Al Barabas. The deception was successful, and Barabas scored on the play, untouched. The lone touchdown stood up, and Columbia had a 7-0 win over a team that might have wanted to face Michigan, after all.

THE HORSEMEN'S FINAL RIDE

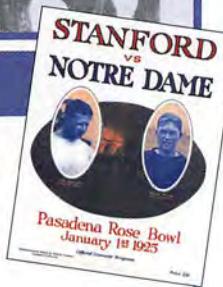

They had been immortalized by the great sportswriter Grantland Rice after a 13-7 win over Army at New York's Polo Grounds, but Notre Dame's Four Horsemen backfield saved its finest performance for last—in Pasadena. Jim Crowley, Elmer Layden, Harry Stuhldreher and Don Miller gave Notre Dame its first-ever national championship by leading the Irish to a 27-10 win over Stanford and its All-America back Ernie Nevers.

Don't look at the statistics in this one, because they don't add up to a Notre Dame victory. The Indians outgained the Irish, 316-186, and had 17 first downs to the Irish's seven, but couldn't translate their dominance into points.

After the game, when legendary Stanford coach Pop Warner lamented the statistical inequity and jokingly suggested that points should be given for first downs, Crowley replied, "Yes, and next year the major leagues are going to give runs for each man left on base."

Turnovers crushed Stanford. They gave the ball up eight times, and Layden returned two interceptions 78 and 70 yards for scores. He also added a three-yard touchdown run. Notre Dame finished the season 10-0, leading coach Knute Rockne to call the '24 Irish his favorite team.

HOME SWEET HOME

Penn State faithful who ventured west for the 1923 Game—the first played in the brand-new Rose Bowl Stadium—couldn't have considered it a good omen when their heroes arrived at 2:30 p.m., 15 minutes after the scheduled kickoff time. Head Coach Hugo Bezdek claimed his team was caught in traffic on the way to the stadium and needed local cabbies to drive over the lawns of Pasadena residents' homes to circumvent the jam. Once at the stadium, Penn State was overrun by USC and Roy "Bullet" Baker, who gained 123 yards and scored a touchdown to lead the Trojans to a 14-3 win in their first-ever bowl appearance. Legend has it that players had to complete the game by the "light of the moon" and that sportswriters had to strike matches and work by firelight to complete their stories.

MILITARY ACTION

Anyone reading a list of Rose Bowl teams would be pretty confused by the 1918 and 1919 participants. While America fought World War I, many of its best college players were drafted and played for teams at military bases across the country. When the Rose Bowl Committee was considering whom it should invite to Pasadena, it decided on a distinct Armed Forces flavor.

The 1918 Game matched Mare Island, a Marine training camp from Southern California, against Camp Lewis, an Army outpost. Led by fullback Hollis Huntington, the Player of the Game, Mare Island prevailed, 19-7.

One year later, even though the war had been over for two months, the Rose Bowl brought back Mare Island, which this time faced the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. Great Lakes was located just outside Chicago and boasted three future NFL Hall of Famers on its roster—George Halas, Paddy Driscoll and Jimmy Conzelman. A 25-yard first-quarter field goal by Driscoll started the scoring. After Blondy Reeves scored on a short run, Driscoll hooked up with Halas on a 32-yard touchdown strike that gave Great Lakes a 17-0 victory.

ROLL TIDE

Alabama fans speak in reverent tones about Paul "Bear" Bryant and his mighty teams, but it was Wallace Wade who got the Crimson Tide juggernaut rolling. His squads won twice and tied on another occasion between 1926-31 in Pasadena, part of a 4-1-1 'Bama performance in the pre-1947 years. Frank Thomas followed Wade's lead as head coach to collect the other two wins.

Alabama's first Rose Bowl appearance came in 1926 against Washington, when it overcame a 12-0 halftime deficit to earn a 20-19 win. The Tide scored all of their points during a seven-minute span in the second half, with legendary back Johnny Mack Brown catching two TD passes.

Wade's final team at Alabama—the 1930 squad—might have been his best. By the time the Tide had dismantled Washington State, 24-0, in the '31 Game, they had pitched eight shutouts and allowed a minuscule 13 points all year.

Thomas went 2-1 in Rose Bowl play, riding the pass-and-catch combo of Dixie Howell and Don Hutson to a 29-13 win over Stanford's "Vow Boys" in '35 that completed a 10-0 mark. His Tide also blistered USC, 34-14, in 1946—the final game before the Pac-8/Big Ten agreement—snapping the Trojans' eight-game Rose Bowl winning streak.

WRONG WAY

The 1929 showdown between California and Georgia Tech proved to be a defensive clash, but it was a single freak play that elevated the game to legendary status and garnered national attention to the Rose Bowl.

When Cal center Roy Riegels recovered a Tech fumble at the Yellow Jacket 40, he began to run for a touchdown. But, upon encountering a group of would-be tacklers, he pivoted, reversed his field and broke toward his own goal line. Teammate Bennie Lom (below, right) finally caught him at the Cal one-yard line, as did several Tech players. The Golden Bears were unable to move the ball and punted, but the kick was blocked out of the end zone for a safety that proved to be the winning margin in a stunning 8-7 Tech victory.

TROJAN HORSE

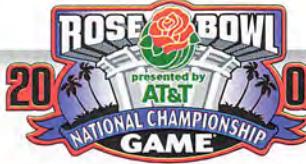

Jock Sutherland's 1929 Pittsburgh juggernaut had allowed just 43 points all year en route to a 9-0 record when it came west to face the defending national champion Southern California in the 1930 Game.

It looked like a classic. Instead, it was a mismatch. USC coach Howard Jones' first Rose Bowl team unleashed a spectacular passing attack, amassing 279 yards through the air and scoring four times. Russ Saunders hit Harry Edelson for two touchdowns as the Trojans jumped to a 26-0 halftime lead before sending the Panthers home bruised and beaten, 47-14.

The victory foreshadowed USC's Rose Bowl success in the game's early days. Nine times before the 1947 agreement, Southern California was selected to play in the contest. The Trojans won eight of them, including another romp over Sutherland's Panthers in 1933, 35-0.

One of the most impressive USC wins came in the 1940 Game, when the undefeated, though twice-tied, Trojans faced Bob Neyland's defending national champion Tennessee team. This would be Jones' final game at the USC helm—he died in the summer of 1941—and it was quite a conclusion to his perfect, five-game Rose Bowl tour of duty.

The Volunteers boasted a 23-game winning streak and had shut out all 10 of their 1939 opponents, becoming the last unscored-on regular-season team in NCAA history. But it was the USC defense that dominated, registering its own shutout, 14-0.

DUKING IT OUT

Less than one month had passed since the United States had been swept into war after Japan attacked Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. National security was on high alert, particularly on the West Coast. As a result, for the first and only time in its history, the Rose Bowl Game was played outside of Pasadena, as Oregon State and Duke battled for the 1942 roses on the campus of Duke University in North Carolina. Coach Wallace Wade, who had previously led Alabama to two Rose Bowl wins fell just short with Duke, as OSU—led by QB Don Duran—edged the Blue Devils, 20-16.

Duke Stadium, site of

USC legendary head coach Howard Jones leads the Trojans through drills in the mid-1920s.

Memory Lane

Participants from the 1922 and 1952 Rose Bowl Games have returned to Pasadena to reunite with old friends and foes.

As the Tournament of Roses and the city of Pasadena celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the first Rose Bowl Game, the 88th contest includes two additional anniversaries.

Today's game marks the 80th anniversary of the 1922 Rose Bowl Game between the University of California Golden Bears and the Washington & Jefferson Presidents, as well as the 50th anniversary of the 1952 Game between the University of Illinois Fighting Illini and the Stanford Cardinal.

Mud and defense ruled the day in 1922, as California and Washington & Jefferson forged the only scoreless tie in Rose Bowl Game history. Inset: Cal's Harold "Brick" Muller.

1922: Bagels

After fighting its way to a perfect 10-0 record by defeating powerhouses like Pittsburgh and Lehigh, Washington & Jefferson took the long train ride to Southern California to face heavily favored California in the final game played at Tournament Park.

The Golden Bears, who entered the contest at 9-0—outscoring their conference opponents, 167-10—were expected to coast to victory, but steady rains reduced the field to a quagmire and the Presidents shocked the nation by battling Cal to a scoreless tie.

Though disappointed, Cal was fortunate to escape with a stalemate, as it gained just 49 yards in total offense and two first downs, and saw a Washington & Jefferson 36-yard touchdown run called back due to an offside penalty. Much of the credit for Cal's ability to keep the Presidents out of the end zone went to punter Archie Nisbet, who averaged 39.7 yards on 13 punts.

1952: Romp

In 1952, Head Coach Ray Eliot brought his 8-0-1 Fighting Illini to Pasadena to face 9-1 Stanford, led by Head Coach Charles Taylor. Illinois came into the Rose Bowl Game having outscored its opponents 180-76 during the season and record-

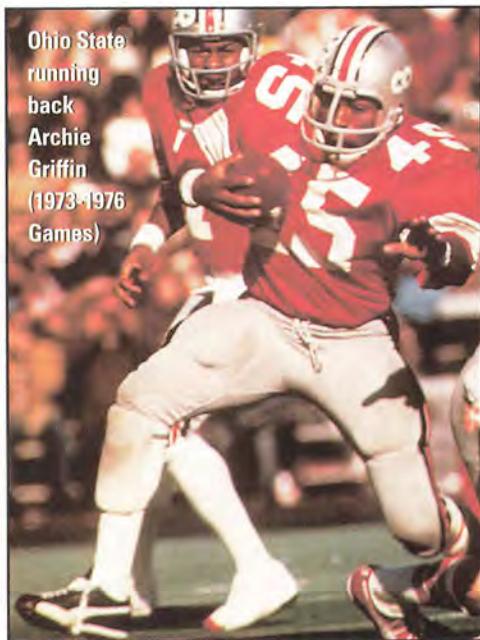

In the 1952 Game, Stanley Wallace launched Illinois' second-half explosion with this interception return, as the Fighting Illini reeled off 34 second-half points to overwhelm Stanford, 40-7.

A Grand Group

The Rose Bowl honors the gridiron legends and key contributors to "The Granddaddy of Them All."

The Rose Bowl Hall of Fame was created in 1989 to provide generations of football fans with a link to the Game's history. With the addition of last year's inductees, Johnny Mack Brown (Alabama) and Marv Goux (USC), the total membership of the Hall of Fame tops 75.

Inductees are selected by a committee that includes representatives of the Tournament of Roses, the media and college football.

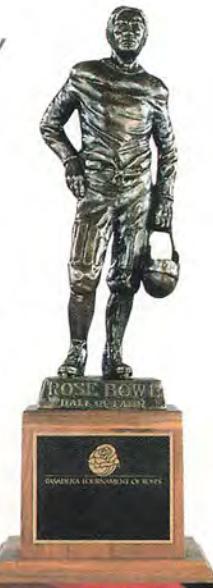

Individuals eligible for induction include players, coaches, school administrators, athletic directors, conference officials and others who have made special contributions to the Rose Bowl Game. Inductees include Woody Hayes, Charles White, Sam Cunningham, Gary Beban, Don James, Dick Butkus and broadcasting legend Keith Jackson.

The 88th Rose Bowl Game will not feature the traditional Pac-10/Big Ten matchup due to the Rose Bowl's participation in the Bowl Championship Series (BCS). The 2001 Rose Bowl

Stanford running back Ernie Nevers (1925 Game)

Game was the 55th anniversary of the agreement between the two conferences, the longest-standing association between any collegiate conference and bowl association. Since today's game is not a Pac-10-vs.-Big Ten matchup, there will be no Hall of Fame induction at the Rose Bowl Game Kickoff Luncheon this year. The next induction for the Rose Bowl Hall of Fame will take place prior to the 2003 game.

Numbers Game

Since 1998, the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) has determined the Division I-A National Champion.

The BCS consists of the Rose Bowl presented by AT&T, Nokia Sugar Bowl, FedEx Orange Bowl and the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. Conferences with automatic berths include the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-10 and the Southeastern Conferences.

The BCS also notes the importance of regional consideration regarding team selection. As participating members of the BCS, the four BCS Bowls host the following conference champions in the years the national championship game is not played at their site: the ACC or Big East champion in the FedEx Orange Bowl; the SEC champion in the Nokia Sugar Bowl; the Big Ten and the Pac-10 champion in the Rose Bowl presented by AT&T; and the Big 12 champion in the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl.

In the event that a BCS Bowl's regional tie-in champion is ranked No. 1 or No. 2 in the final BCS standings, and when such bowl is not hosting the national championship game, the No. 1 or No. 2 team moves to the national championship game. The Bowl then selects a replacement team from the BCS pool of eligible teams. The pool consists of any Division I-A team that is ranked among the Top 12 in the final BCS standings or has achieved nine wins during the regular season excluding NCAA-exempted contests.

The BCS standings have been compiled by the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame since the beginning of the 2000 regular season. A statistical rating system determines which teams participate in the Bowl Championship Series. The ranking system consists of five major components: subjective polls, computer rankings, schedule strength, team records and quality wins. The two teams with the lowest point total in the five categories play for the national championship. There are four equally weighted components:

1. Polls—The poll component is calculated based on the average of the ranking of each team in the Associated Press media poll and the USA Today/ESPN coaches poll. The rankings of each team are added and divided by two.

2. Computer Rankings—Eight computer rankings are utilized. The computer component is determined by averaging six rankings; the highest and lowest rankings are disregarded.

3. Strength of Schedule—This component is calculated by determining the cumulative won/loss records of the team's opponents and of the team's opponents' opponents. The formula is weighted two-third (66 2/3%) for the opponents' records and one-third (33 1/3%) for the opponents' opponent records. The team's schedule strength is calculated to determine in which quartile it ranks—1-25, 26-50, 51-75, 76-100—and is further quantified by its ranking within each quartile (divided by 25).

4. Losses—Each loss during the season represents one point in this component.

Quality Win Points—The quality-wins bonus-point scale ranges from a high of 1.5 points for a win over a top-ranked team to a low of 0.1 for a victory over the 15th-ranked BCS team. Should one team defeat a team that is ranked in the Top 15 of the BCS at the end of the season, the team receives the quality win points. If a team registers a victory over a team more than once during the regular season, quality points are awarded just once. The quality win component is subtracted from the total.

Total—The first four components are added together for the team's total. The quality win component is subtracted from the total for a total rating. The team with the lowest point total ranks first in the BCS standings.

A Sparkling Reward

The winner of the 88th Rose Bowl Game will take home the prized national championship trophy.

When the No. 1- and No. 2-ranked teams in the country hit the field for the 88th Rose Bowl Game to determine college football's 2001 national champion, the Sears National Champion Football Trophy will await the winner.

The most sought-after award of college football teams across the country, the Sears Trophy is the ultimate reward for an outstanding season. Nothing makes that championship feeling hit home quite like the crystal football that will be presented following today's Rose Bowl Game.

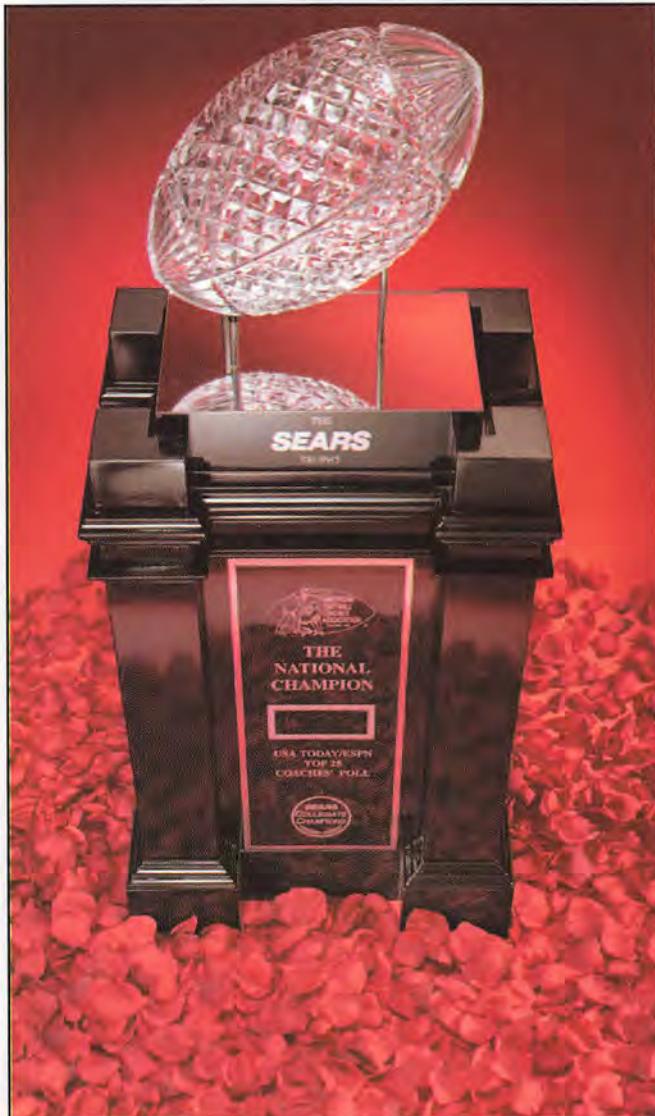

Awarded to the No. 1 ranked Division I-A college football team in the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) Coaches Poll since 1993, the Sears Trophy is presented on-field to the winner of the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) National Championship Game.

Awarded to the No. 1-ranked Division I-A team in the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) Coaches Poll since 1993, the Sears Trophy is presented on-field to the winner of the BCS National Championship Game.

By virtue of its 13-2 win against Florida State in the 2001 FedEx Orange Bowl, the University of Oklahoma was crowned the 2000 national champion. Florida State won the inaugural Sears Trophy in 1993 and again in '99. Other winners include the University of Nebraska (1994, '95, '97), the University of Florida ('96) and the University of Tennessee ('98).

The Sears Trophy has been associated with collegiate football supremacy for the past eight years. Previously, the trophy was awarded to the No. 1-ranked college football team in the final USA TODAY/ESPN Top 25 Coaches Poll. The poll, which now plays a key role in determining who plays in the national championship game, is based upon votes from a 59-member panel of the AFCA. The winner of the BCS championship game is automatically determined to be the No. 1-ranked team in the final USA TODAY/ESPN Top 25 Coaches Poll.

The Sears Trophy tours across the country each season and is displayed on the sidelines at premier games. Since the tour began in 1993, the eventual national champion has played at least one regular season game with the trophy present. Each year, the trophy is presented for permanent display to the winning team in January.

Hand-crafted by Waterford Crystal, the crystal football that sits atop the trophy takes an artisan at Waterford three months to create. Sears and the AFCA also present a $20,000 academic scholarship to the school that wins the trophy each year. The scholarship is earmarked for an outstanding freshman student who does not participate in intercollegiate athletics.

The Sears Trophy is part of the Sears Collegiate Champions (SCC) program—a comprehensive trophy and academic scholarship program which recognizes both women's and men's sports equally. Since 1993, the SCC program has awarded more than 12,000 trophies and more than $1.5 million dollars in academic scholarships to NCAA Division I, II, III and NAIA institutions. ☺

The Big Ten and Pac-10 Conferences will resume their annual Rose Bowl Game tradition on Jan. 1, 2003.

Nicknamed "The Grand-daddy of Them All," the Rose Bowl Game celebrates its 100th year in existence (88th game played) when the two teams take the field tonight.

Throughout its history, the Rose Bowl Game has featured some of the top teams, players and coaches in college football. This tradition took a giant step on November 19, 1946, when the Pacific Coast (Pacific-10) and Western (Big Ten) Conferences, along with the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Association, agreed on an exclusive Rose Bowl Game contract.

Ever since the agreement was signed, the Rose Bowl Game has featured the championship teams of the Pac-10 and Big Ten. Prior to 1947, the Rose Bowl Game sold out only five times, but since the Pac-10/Big Ten pact, the Rose Bowl has been a sold-out event every year. The 2001 Rose Bowl Game was the 55th anniversary of that agreement, the longest standing tradition of any collegiate conference and a bowl association.

In the inaugural game under the new agreement, Illinois (7-2) and UCLA (10-0) were selected to play in the 1947 game. The Fighting Illini overwhelmed the Bruins 45-14 and players from both teams established records that still stand today. Illinois' Russ Steger is in the "modern" books for the longest interception return (68 yards for a touchdown) and UCLA's Al Hirsch returned a kickoff for 102 yards and a touchdown. In all, Hirsch returned four kickoffs for 178 yards that day, averaging 44.5 yards.

The 2001 Rose Bowl Game saw the Big Ten's Purdue Boilermakers (left) against the Pac-10's Washington Huskies. Washington won, 34-24, narrowing the Big Ten's overall win margin to just one game, 28 to 27.

During the past 55 years, the Rose Bowl Game has featured national-championship teams, Heisman Trophy winners and some of the most exciting bowl matchups in college football. Stars such as Jim Plunkett, Gary Beban, Archie Griffin, Anthony Carter and Marcus Allen have represented the two conferences, as well as legendary coaches John McKay, Bo Schembechler, Woody Hayes and Don James.

In the Game's first No. 1-vs.-No. 2 showdown in 1963, the USC Trojans came into the Rose Bowl Game with a perfect 10-0 record, while the second-ranked Badgers of Wisconsin entered at 8-1. With a commanding 42-14 lead entering the fourth quarter, the Trojans appeared to have the national championship wrapped up until Wisconsin made a valiant comeback, scoring 23 points in the final 14 minutes.

The inspired effort by the Badgers fell short, however, as USC held on to win, 42-37, finishing the season undefeated and as national champions. Overall since 1947, 13 Rose Bowl teams exited the game undefeated (eight undefeated and tied).

Since the pact was initiated, the two conferences have established parity in the Rose Bowl win-loss columns, with the Big Ten holding 28 wins and the Pac-10 holding 27. In the 56 years of its existence, the agreement has been given a vote of confidence by the public, as well as the member schools. It has maintained its tradition-rich standard of excellence, living up to the nickname, "The Granddaddy of Them All."

The 2001 Rose Bowl Game was the 55th anniversary of the Big Ten/Pac-10 agreement.

Pasadena's Finest

There is much to appreciate about Harriman Cronk's devotion to the Tournament of Roses during the past four decades.

A"white suiter" for more than four decades, 1988 Tournament President and Chairman of the Football Committee, Harriman L. Cronk has worn many hats in his years of dedicated service to the Tournament of Roses.

President Ronald Reagan welcomes Cronk (left) and 1986 Rose Queen Aimee Richelieu to the White House. Inset: Cronk and 1988 Grand Marshal Gregory Peck waving to fans prior to the Rose Bowl Game.

Ask any past Tournament president and he or she will tell you the job involves a lot more than riding down Colorado Boulevard in a flower-covered float, waving to the crowd on New Year's Day. Choosing a theme (a simple yet challenging task), deciding on the perfect Grand Marshal, attending meetings and—most important of all—providing leadership are all part of a day's work as Tournament of Roses President.

Presiding over the 99th Parade, Cronk deliberated on his theme every morning for a year during his daily jogs through the streets of Pasadena. The culmination of this creative exercise was 1988's Thanks to Communications. That year's Grand Marshal was the esteemed actor Gregory Peck. Said Cronk, "I chose to focus on communication because it's the essence of life and our society. It's only fitting that we say thanks to the media—the writers, photographers, movie makers, announcers and artists—who have made the Rose Parade and the Rose Bowl Game what they are today." Pre-

Internet, his message is just as relevant today as it was in 1988.

Since 1989, Cronk has been chairman of one of the most active of the Tournament's 33 all-volunteer committees. As part of their duties, the Football Committee maintains year-round contact with the Big Ten and Pacific-10 conferences, NCAA officials and network sports representatives to ensure the continuing success of the Rose Bowl Game. Significant highlights of Cronk's tenure as chairman include negotiating the deal between ABC Sports and the Tournament, renovating the Rose Bowl Press Box, arranging for the Rose Bowl's participation in the Bowl Championship Series and renegotiating the partnership agreement between the Pac-

10 Conference, the Big Ten Conference and the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Association.

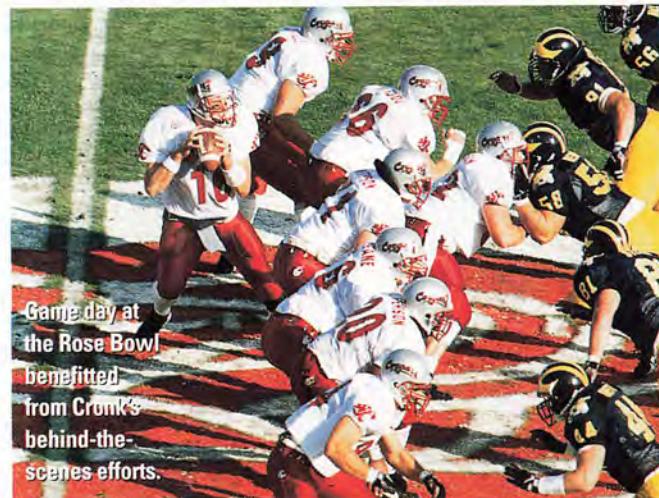

For the last 13 years, Cronk has also served with singular distinction as the Chairman of the Rose Bowl Management Committee. This committee, which is comprised of members of the Tournament as well as the partner conferences, is unique in the world of postseason college football. This tripartite committee plans and oversees all operational matters for "The Granddaddy of Them All," the Rose Bowl Game.

Cronk is a native Southern Californian who attended Pasadena City

College and received his bachelor's degree from Pomona College in Claremont, Calif. Outside of the countless hours he has dedicated to the Tournament, he is with the Pasadena offices of Crowell, Weedon & Co., a leading investment brokerage firm. He and his wife, Phyllis, have three grown children, one grandchild and another on the way.

From the beginning, Cronk has distinguished himself as a leader in the organization. His duties with the Tournament have included serving as Chairman of the Community Relations Committee, Tournament Guests Committee, Press Relations Committee and the Formation Area Committee.

Additionally, he was instrumental in helping form the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Foundation in 1983. The Foundation is a non-profit corporation that receives contributions from members, friends and supporters. It makes annual grants totaling $100,000 to worthwhile programs that contribute to the civic, cultural and educational advancement of the Pasadena area.

We thank you, Harriman, for your love of the Tournament and our traditions. Your impact on the Tournament will be felt for many years to come. ☺

The all-new CR-V. It's a Sport Useful Vehicle.

Honda has put some extremely good thinking to practical use in the all-new CR-V. With a more powerful 160-horsepower, 2.4-liter, DOHC i-VTEC™ engine, it offers plenty of highway power. Front MacPherson strut and rear double wishbone suspensions combine to give the CR-V truck-like visibility and a car-like ride. Inside, you'll find a user-friendly interior that comfortably holds five adults, with beverage holders for each. And the unique 60/40 split fold-and-tumble rear seats create enormous cargo space, enhanced by different-sized storage areas for smaller items. The CR-V also has a removable picnic table, integrated roof rails and an Immobilizer Theft-Deterrent System. Of course, all this usefulness is pretty much useless unless you come in for a test-drive.

ROAD TO THE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Key Showdowns

Oklahoma 41, North Carolina 27

The reigning champion and third-ranked Sooners jumped to a big lead over the Tar Heels and coasted to victory in the Hispanic College Fund Classic on August 25.

Rocky Calmus returned a fumble 13 yards for a touchdown and Antwone Savage had an 88-yard kickoff return for a score to help Oklahoma build a 31-7 lead in the first quarter. It was 41-7 midway through the second quarter.

Derrick Strait returned a 47-yard interception for a touchdown for the Sooners, who forced five turnovers in all.

Miami 33, Penn State 7

The Hurricanes began the season ranked No. 2 in the Associated Press poll, but quickly ascended to the top spot with an impressive thrashing of the Nittany Lions at State College.

Heisman Trophy candidate Ken Dorsey completed 20 of 27 passes for 344 yards and three touchdowns for Miami. All of the scores came in the first half, when the Hurricanes built an insurmountable 30-0 lead.

Oregon 31, Wisconsin 28

The seventh-rated Ducks survived an early test in Eugene from the No. 22 Badgers.

Oregon jumped to a 10-0 first-quarter advantage, but the lead changed hands six times after that, the last when Ducks quarterback Joey Harrington ran one yard for the winning touchdown with 4:03 left. Harrington also passed for 277 yards and two touchdowns.

Anthony Davis rushed for 130 yards and a touchdown for Wisconsin, which opened its season with a 26-17 victory over Virginia in the Eddie Robinson Classic on August 25.

Sound Bytes

From Rashod Faison, who returned a blocked field goal 82 yards for a touchdown in South Carolina's 32-13 victory over Boise State: "I knew I couldn't let the kicker catch me and tackle me. If he did, I would have heard from some teammates."

From QB George Godsey of Georgia Tech, which opened a 21-0 lead over the Citadel in the first 9:16 of a 35-7 romp: "You want to prove your point right from the start."

Key Showdowns

Nebraska 27, Notre Dame 10

The fifth-ranked Cornhuskers built a 27-3 first-half lead over the No. 17 Irish at Lincoln and coasted to an easy victory.

Nebraska drove 64 yards to Dahrran Diedrick's two-yard touchdown run on the game's opening possession, then recovered a fumble on Notre Dame's first snap. Quarterback Eric Crouch then teamed with Josh Gibson on a 22-yard TD pass on the next play, and the Cornhuskers led 14-0 just 4:41 into the game. The Irish never got any closer.

Diedrick finished with 133 yards and two touchdowns on 32 carries.

Fresno State 32, Wisconsin 20

The No. 19 Bulldogs, riding the momentum of upsets of Oregon State and Colorado, continued their remarkable early season run by upending the 23rd-ranked Badgers in Madison.

Wisconsin led at halftime 20-10, but Fresno State's Bernard Berrian returned the second-half kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown.

Moments later, an interception led to David Carr's 16-yard TD pass to Rodney Wright, and the Bulldogs led for good.

Washington 23, Michigan 18

Cornerback Omare Lowe turned the game the 15th-ranked Huskies' way by making a pair of critical plays that led to fourth-quarter touchdowns only 51 seconds apart.

With the No. 11 Wolverines leading 12-6, Lowe blocked Hayden Epstein's 33-yard field-goal try, and the ball was returned 77 yards for the go-ahead score by Washington's Roc Alexander with 9:11 remaining in the game. On Michigan's next possession, Lowe intercepted John Navarre's pass and returned it 20 yards for a TD and a 20-12 lead with 8:20 to go.

Sound Bytes

From QB Ken Dorsey of

No. 1 Miami, after the Hurricanes outscored their first two opponents by a combined 94-7: "We haven't clicked on all cylinders yet, that's for sure."

From Jim Tressel, who won his debut as No. 24 Ohio State's head coach with a ragged 28-14 victory over Akron: "I think if I could have a couple calls back I would, but I'm going to learn as well as the guys are."

Two-Minute Drill

College football returned to the field after postponing its games the weekend of September 15 following the terrorist attacks on the United States...Still, some of the top teams had previously scheduled byes, including No. 1 Miami, No. 3 Oklahoma, and No. 8 Tennessee...Second-ranked Florida had an easy time at Kentucky, winning 44-10 behind four touchdown passes from QB Rex Grossman...No. 4 Nebraska and No. 5 Texas also won easily. The Cornhuskers got three touchdowns passing and two TDs rushing from QB Eric Crouch in a 48-3 romp over Rice. The Longhorns trailed Houston 14-10 in the second quarter but eventually won in a rout, 53-26. QB Chris Simms passed for 311 yards and three TDs for Texas...Lopsided decisions also were recorded by No. 9 Virginia Tech (50-0 over Rutgers), No. 12 Kansas State (64-0 over New Mexico State), No. 13 Washington (53-3 over Idaho), and No. 16 Northwestern (44-7 over Duke)...Not all top-25 teams were as fortunate, however. Virginia upset 19th-rated Clemson 26-24 when Bryson Spinner tossed a one-yard scoring pass to Billy McMullen with one second left. Michigan State beat No. 23 Notre Dame for the fifth consecutive year, 17-10, on Ryan Van Dyke's 47-yard TD pass to Charles Rogers with 7:51 left.

ROAD TO THE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Key Showdowns

North Carolina 41, Florida State 9

The previously winless Tar Heels forced five turnovers and shut down the No. 6 Seminoles' offense in a stunning victory at Chapel Hill.

North Carolina trailed 9-7 at halftime, but Darian Durant's second touchdown pass of the game, a 52-yard strike to Chesley Borders 2:24 into the second half, gave the Tar Heels the lead for good. Ronald Curry, who shared the quarterback duties with Durant, ran for one TD and passed for another to help break open the game.

Florida State managed only 224 total yards and lost four fumbles and an interception. The Seminoles lost a conference game for only the third time since joining the ACC in 1992.

Oregon 24, USC 22

Jared Siegel kicked a 32-yard field goal with 12 seconds left to lift the seventh-ranked Ducks to a thrilling victory over Southern Cal at Eugene. It appeared that Oregon's 22-game winning streak at home would come to an end when the Trojans blocked a field-goal attempt while leading 22-21 with just 1:21 left in the game. But the Ducks quickly forced a punt, and quarterback Joey Harrington marched his team 61 yards to the winning points.

UCLA 13, Ohio State 6

The 14th-ranked Bruins relied on their defense to turn back the No. 21 Buckeyes at the Rose Bowl. UCLA drove 80 yards to a touchdown on the game's opening possession for all the points it would need. The Bruins limited Ohio State to only eight first downs and 166 total yards. Buckeyes' QB Steve Bellisari completed just five of 23 passes for 45 yards.

Sound Bytes

From Florida State head coach Bobby Bowden, after North Carolina humbled the sixth-ranked Seminoles, 41-9: "I haven't even got a speech for this."

From QB Dave Ragone of No. 25 Louisville, which was whistled for 13 infractions totaling 111 yards in a 34-10 loss to Illinois: "If I knew how to stop all of our penalties, I would be a coach."

Two-Minute Drill

Top-ranked Miami had little trouble with Pittsburgh, building a 40-7 lead, then coasting to a 43-21 victory on Thursday night...No. 2 Florida avenged an upset at Mississippi State in 2000 by routing the Tigers 52-0 in Gainesville. Gators quarterback Rex Grossman passed for 393 yards and five touchdowns...QB Eric Crouch rushed for 191 yards, including a school-record 95-yard TD, and passed for 120 yards to lead fourth-rated Nebraska past Missouri, 36-3...No. 15 South Carolina beat Alabama for the first time ever by overcoming a 12-point, fourth-quarter deficit to win, 37-36...No. 18 Florida State bounced back from its shocking loss to North Carolina in week 3 with a 48-24 victory over Wake Forest...Twenty-fourth-ranked Purdue drove 63 yards in 19 seconds to the tying field goal as time ran out in regulation, then beat Minnesota in overtime, 35-28...With its 24-3 loss to Texas A & M at College Station, Notre Dame began a season 0-3 for the first time since the school began playing football in 1887...Things weren't much better for traditional powerhouses such as USC and Penn State, either. The Trojans fell to 1-3 with a 21-16 loss to Stanford, while the Nittany Lions dropped to 0-3 with a 24-18 loss to Iowa.

ROAD TO THE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Key Showdowns

Oklahoma 38, Kansas State 37

The third-ranked Sooners ran their nation-best winning streak to 17 games with a wild victory over the Wildcats in Norman. Wide receiver Antwone Savage touched the ball three times for the defending national champs, and all three plays resulted in long touchdowns. He caught passes of 63 and 75 yards from quarterback Nate Hybl and passed 33 yards to Hunter Wall for a score on a fake punt. Kansas State rallied from a 35-14 deficit behind Ell Roberson's 257 yards passing and 115 yards rushing, but could not avoid its first September loss in 10 years.

UCLA 38, Oregon State 7

Though it lacked the drama of other big games, the victory by the 12th-ranked Bruins may have been the most stunning result of the week because it was so lopsided. Oregon State entered the game ranked 19th in the nation and had posted back-to-back victories over UCLA in which it scored 99 points and amassed 1,165 yards. But UCLA improved to 4-0 by limiting the Beavers to 220 total yards and getting 147 rushing yards and three TDs from tailback DeShaun Foster.

Clemson 47, Georgia Tech 44

The Tigers stunned the ninth-ranked Yellow Jackets in Atlanta behind a remarkable performance from Woodrow Dantzler. The senior quarterback passed for 254 yards and two touchdowns and rushed for 164 yards and two scores. The lead changed hands seven times after that, the last time when Dantzler ran 11 yards for the winning touchdown in overtime.

Sound Bytes

From Washington coach Rick Neuheisel, after the 13th-ranked Huskies came from behind in the fourth quarter for the third consecutive year to beat winless California, this time 31-28: "I can only imagine what they're thinking on the other side."

From Bears quarterback Kyle Boller, after the loss to Washington: "I think there's a ghost over Cal or something...that's preventing us from winning."

Florida QB
Rex Grossman

Key Showdowns

Florida 44, LSU 15

The second-ranked Gators regained their spot atop the Associated Press poll with an impressive victory over No. 18 LSU in Baton Rouge.

Florida quarterback Rex Grossman passed for a school-record 464 yards and five touchdowns while completing 22 of 32 passes. His back-to-back touchdown passes 36 seconds apart in the first quarter helped the Gators build a 21-3 lead, and the Tigers got no closer than 12 points after that.

Oklahoma 14, Texas 3

One week after winning a wild offensive game against Kansas State, third-ranked Oklahoma turned to its defense in a victory over fifth-ranked Texas in Dallas.

The Sooners secured their 18th consecutive victory when linebacker Teddy Lehman intercepted Chris Simms' pass and returned it two yards for a touchdown with 2:01 left. Simms was hit by safety Roy Williams as he tried to throw.

Texas was out to avenge an embarrassing 63-14 loss at Oklahoma in 2000, but managed only 225 yards and a lone field goal in the waning seconds of the first half.

Washington 27, USC 24

John Anderson kicked a 32-yard field goal as time ran out in Seattle to give the 11th-ranked Huskies the victory over the hard-luck Trojans.

Washington improved to 4-0 and inched into the top 10 in advance of a Pac-10 showdown at UCLA. USC fell to 1-4, with the four losses coming by a combined total of 14 points, all to teams ranked in the top 25 in week 5.

Sound Bytes

From coach Larry Coker, after Miami fell to No. 2 in the AP poll despite a 38-7 victory over Troy State: "I don't know if we deserved to leap ahead of Florida when we did, and I don't know if we deserved to drop behind them now."

From coach Joe Paterno, after Penn State lost to Michigan to fall to 0-4 for the first time in school history: "It's been tough. But I've had my back to the wall before—and sometimes I enjoy it."

Two-Minute Drill

Sixth-ranked Tennessee (26-24 to Georgia), 12th ranked Kansas State (16-6 to Colorado), and No. 14 Northwestern (38-20 to Ohio State) all fell to unranked teams. Georgia's upset was the most dramatic. After falling behind the Volunteers in Knoxville on a long touchdown pass with 44 seconds to play, the Bulldogs marched 59 yards to the winning touchdown on David Greene's five-yard pass to Verron Haynes with five seconds to go...No. 4 Nebraska built a 41-0 halftime lead and rolled to a 48-14 victory over Iowa State. Eric Crouch rushed for five touchdowns to give him 51 for his career, an NCAA Division I-A career record by a QB...Joey Harrington passed for three touchdowns and ran for three in seventh-ranked Oregon's 63-28 rout of Arizona...No. 20 BYU beat Utah State 54-34. In five victories, the Cougars were averaging 51 points per game...No. 25 Maryland improved to 5-0 for the first time since 1978 by beating Virginia 41-21...Surprising Washington State was 5-0 and disappointing Oregon State was 1-3 after the Cougars built a 31-3 lead en route to a 34-27 victory...Levron Williams rushed for 280 yards and scored a school-record six touchdowns in Indiana's 63-32 romp over Wisconsin...Middle Tennessee beat Idaho 70-58 in the highest-scoring game in NCAA Division I-A history.

Key Showdowns

Miami 49, Florida State 27

The Hurricanes were back on top of the Associated Press poll again after handing the No. 14 Seminoles their first loss at Doak Campbell Stadium in 10 years, ending a string of 54 consecutive home wins.

Quarterback Ken Dorsey passed for 249 yards and three touchdowns as Miami built a 21-0 first-half lead and never looked back. The Hurricanes intercepted four passes, recovered two fumbles, and scored 28 points following turnovers.

Miami also was the last team to beat Florida State at home, nipping the Seminoles 17-16 in 1991.

Auburn 23, Florida 20

The unranked Tigers stunned the No. 1 Gators when Damon Duval kicked a 44-yard field goal with 10 seconds left. It was the third consecutive game that Duval lifted his team to victory with a late field goal.

Auburn managed only 239 total yards but limited Florida to minus-36 yards rushing and intercepted Gators QB Rex Grossman four times. The Tigers improved to 4-0 in the Southeastern Conference.

UCLA 35, Washington 13

DeShaun Foster rushed for a school-record 301 yards and four touchdowns, including a 92-yard scamper, to lead the No. 7 Bruins past the No. 10 Huskies.

Foster ran for two touchdowns and Jibril Raymo returned a blocked punt for a touchdown as UCLA built a 21-0 lead in the first quarter. The Bruins' defense then kept Washington—which had rallied in the fourth quarter in three of its four victories—from getting any closer than 15 points.

Sound Bytes

From coach Frank Solich, after No. 4 Nebraska amassed 641 rushing yards in a 48-7 rout of Baylor: "We had hoped to pass more, but we wound up making a lot of big plays on the ground."

From QB Brandon Doman, whose 14-yard option run on fourth-and-11 kept the winning drive alive in No. 18 BYU's 24-20 victory over New Mexico: "I audibled into it, which I think gave everybody a heart attack."

Two-Minute Drill

No. 8 Fresno State got a 48-yard field goal from Asen Asparuhov on the final play of regulation, then a 41-yarder from him in overtime to outlast Colorado State 25-22...Arkansas ended ninth-ranked South Carolina's unbeaten hopes with a 10-7 upset in Little Rock...Chris Simms passed for five touchdowns as No. 11 Texas rebounded from its loss to Oklahoma with a 45-17 rout of Oklahoma State...Michigan and Wisconsin posted key Big Ten victories over ranked opponents. The No. 12 Wolverines dominated No. 17 Purdue 24-10, while the Badgers toppled No. 21 Ohio State 20-17, despite spotting the Buckeyes a 17-0 lead in Columbus...QB Woodrow Dantzler had another spectacular effort in No. 16 Clemson's 45-37 victory over North Carolina State: 333 yards and four touchdowns passing and 184 yards and two touchdowns rushing...Kicker Nick Novak booted a 46-yard field as time ran out in the fourth quarter and a 26-yarder in overtime to give 22nd-ranked Maryland a 20-17 win over No. 15 Georgia Tech. By week's end, the Terrapins were the lone unbeaten team remaining in ACC play...Washington State beat No. 23 Stanford 45-39 to improve to 6-0 and break into the AP Top 25 at No. 19.

The two teams were headed for a showdown in Lincoln in Week 8. Miami, ranked No. 1 in the AP poll, was fourth in the BCS poll. UCLA was third...No. 12 Maryland was 7-0 after amassing 697 total yards in a 59-17 romp over Duke...Visiting North Carolina stunned No. 13 Clemson, 38-3. The Tar Heels limited Tigers QB Woodrow Dantzler to 73 yards passing and 43 yards rushing...No. 18 BYU remained unbeaten by scoring all of its points in the first three quarters of a 63-33 rout of Air Force...No. 19 Washington State also stayed perfect by beating Montana State on Thursday night, 53-28...After suffering through the worst start in school history at 0-4, Penn State's Joe Paterno equaled Bear Bryant's record of 323 Division I-A coaching victories with a 38-35 upset of No. 22 Northwestern. The Nittany Lions drove 69 yards to the winning touchdown on backup QB Zack Mills' four-yard touchdown pass to Eric McCoo with 22 seconds left...Notre Dame won its third consecutive game after an 0-3 start, beating intersectional rival USC, 27-16.

ROAD TO THE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Key Showdowns

Stanford 49, Oregon 42

The Cardinal scored 21 unanswered points in the fourth quarter to stun the Ducks in Eugene.

No. 5 Oregon entered the week with a 23-game winning streak at Autzen Stadium, and took a 42-28 lead into the final period. But Stanford converted a blocked punt, a successful onside kick, and an interception into three touchdowns to pull off the upset.

The winning points came on Kerry Carter's fourth touchdown of the game, a three-yard run with 1:10 remaining.

Texas 41, Colorado 7

Quarterback Chris Simms passed for three TDs and Cedric Benson rushed for 100 yards and two scores to lead the ninth-ranked Longhorns to a surprisingly easy victory in Austin.

The Buffaloes entered the game riding a five-game winning streak that carried them to No. 14 in the AP poll, but couldn't overcome four turnovers and nine penalties. Benson broke open a close game with touchdown runs of 12 and four yards just 2:12 apart late in the first half to give the Longhorns a 24-7 lead.

Boise State 35, Fresno State 30

QB Ryan Dinwiddie passed for 297 yards and four TDs as the visiting Broncos ended the eighth-ranked Bulldogs' Cinderella run at a BCS berth.

After Dinwiddie teamed with Jay Swillie on a 54-yard TD pass for the go-ahead touchdown with 7:12 left, Boise State held on for the win. Fresno State marched to the Broncos' four-yard line in the final minute, but David Carr, who passed for 345 yards and three TDs, was sacked on fourth down from there.

Sound Bytes

From South Carolina coach Lou Holtz, after the 16th-ranked Gamecocks improved to 5-1 in SEC play with a 46-14 thumping of Vanderbilt: "We're not in the driver's seat, but we are in the car."

From Georgia's Fred Gibson, after hearing the crowd chant "Freddie, Freddie, Freddie!" following his school-record 201-yard receiving effort in the Bulldogs' 43-29 victory over Kentucky: "I wish they would call me Fred. I don't like Freddie."

Nebraska QB
Eric Crouch

Key Showdowns

Nebraska 20, Oklahoma 10

The Cornhuskers ascended to the top of the BCS standings and quarterback Eric Crouch moved to the front of the pack in the Heisman Trophy race by beating the Sooners in Lincoln.

Crouch ran and passed for just 123 yards, but made the biggest play of the game when he caught a 63-yard flea-flicker pass from Mike Stuntz for the clinching touchdown midway through the fourth quarter.

Oklahoma, which entered the game atop the BCS standings and ranked No. 2 by the Associated Press, had its 20-game winning streak snapped.

Stanford 38, UCLA 28

The fourth-ranked Bruins were poised to move up to No. 2 in the BCS standings but fell behind the 20th-rated Cardinal, 28-7, by halftime at Stanford and couldn't recover. QB Chris Lewis passed for 250 yards and three TDs to pace the Cardinal.

Later in the day, No. 11 Oregon beat No. 14

Washington State 24-17 in Pullman. By week's end, those four teams, plus Washington, were bunched atop the Pac-10 with one loss each. All five schools were among the top 12 teams in the BCS poll.

Michigan 32, Iowa 26

The eighth-ranked Wolverines quietly moved into contention for a Rose Bowl berth by coming from behind in Iowa City to win their fifth consecutive game.

Michigan trailed by as many as 13 points in the third quarter but took the lead for good on John Navarre's 13-yard TD pass to Shawn Thompson with 8:34 left in the game. The Wolverines vaulted to No. 4 in the BCS poll released after the games of Week 8.

Sound Bytes

From Washington coach Rick Neuheisel, whose Huskies pulled out another close game on a 30-yard field goal with no time left to beat Arizona State, 33-31: "We just keep playing until they don't let us play anymore."

From Florida State QB Chris Rix, who bounced back from a vicious hit in the first quarter to throw five TD passes in the Seminoles' 52-31 victory over Maryland: "The pain is gone now, but I know I'll feel it tomorrow."

Two-Minute Drill

Miami remained atop the AP poll but was No. 3 in the BCS standings after a 45-3 thumping of West Virginia on Thursday night...Fifth-ranked Virginia Tech (which lost to Syracuse, 22-14) and No. 10 Maryland (which fell to No. 19 Florida State, 52-31) were knocked from the unbeaten ranks. That left Miami, Nebraska, and No. 16 BYU, a 59-21 winner over San Diego State, as major college football's lone undefeated teams...Sixth-ranked Florida amassed 584 total yards in a 24-10 victory over No. 15 Georgia. QB Rex Grossman passed for 407 yards and two TDs...No. 9 Tennessee edged No. 12 South Carolina 17-10 when Travis Stephens rushed for 120 yards, including the winning, one-yard TD with 7:08 to go...Eighteenth-ranked Fresno State dropped its second in a row, falling at Hawaii, 38-34. Rainbows QB Nick Rolovich tossed the winning, 13-yard TD pass to Ashley Lelie with 13 seconds to go...No. 24 Purdue kept its hopes for a second consecutive Big Ten title alive by holding off Northwestern, 32-27...Penn State's Joe Paterno became the winningest coach in NCAA Division I-A history, recording his 324th career victory when the Nittany Lions rallied from a 27-9 deficit to beat Ohio State 29-27 in Happy Valley.

ROAD TO THE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Key Showdowns

Washington 42, Stanford 28

The Huskies pulled out another tight game, scoring two late touchdowns to defeat the Cardinal in Seattle.

Stanford had rallied from a 15-point deficit to tie the game at 28-28 in the fourth quarter. But Willie Hurst capped a 77-yard drive with a two-yard run for the go-ahead score with 3:48 left, then added a 15-yard TD run in the final seconds.

Washington remained tied atop the Pac-10 with Oregon and Washington State. The eighth-ranked Ducks beat Arizona State 42-24, while the No. 16 Cougars forced seven turnovers while handing No. 9 UCLA its second consecutive defeat, 20-14.

Michigan State 26, Michigan 24

The Spartans foiled the Wolverines' national-title hopes with a dramatic victory in East Lansing as time ran out.

Michigan, ranked sixth by the Associated Press but No. 4 in the BCS standings, led a back-and-forth game 24-20 when Michigan State quarterback Jeff Smoker spiked the ball at the Wolverines' two-yard line with one second left. On the next play, Smoker lobbed a pass into the end zone that was caught by running back T.J. Duckett for the winning touchdown. Duckett, who rushed for 211 yards, also had a two-yard touchdown run in the second quarter.

Tennessee 28, Notre Dame 18

Seventh-ranked Tennessee moved up to No. 4 in the BCS rankings by beating the Irish in South Bend.

Volunteers QB Casey Clausen passed for 228 yards and a touchdown, then ran one yard on fourth-and-goal for the clinching touchdown with 35 seconds left. Notre Dame fell to 3-5.

Sound Bytes

From Clemson coach Tommy Bowden, after losing to dad Bobby Bowden and Florida State for the third consecutive year, only to be told by reporters that the elder Bowden took little pleasure in the win: "It's wearing on him? He won all three times; how about it wearing on me?"

From linebacker Jermaine Petty, after Arkansas' 58-56, seven-overtime victory over Mississippi: "I'd like to celebrate and be rah-rah, but we played four hours."

Two-Minute Drill

Miami blasted Temple 38-0 behind a pair of touchdown passes from Ken Dorsey, who surpassed Vinny Testaverde and Steve Walsh to become the school's career leader in that category. The Hurricanes moved up to No. 2 in the BCS standings released after Week 9's games...The nation's other top teams all had easy times as well. Nebraska, No. 2 in the Associated Press poll but No. 1 in the BCS, rolled over Kansas 51-7. Third-ranked Oklahoma blasted Tulsa 58-0. No. 4 Florida routed Vanderbilt 71-13, and No. 5 Texas had little trouble dispatching Baylor 49-10...Luke Staley rushed for 196 yards and five touchdowns and quarterback Brandon Doman accounted for 449 yards rushing and passing as No. 13 BYU improved to 9-0 with a 56-34 victory over Colorado State on Thursday night...No. 21 Illinois roared back from a 13-0 second-quarter deficit at Purdue to beat the 20th-ranked Boilermakers 38-13 and move into a tie for first place in the Big Ten...Arkansas and Mississippi were tied 17-17 at the end of four quarters in Oxford. Seven overtimes later, the Razorbacks prevailed 58-56, making a two-point conversion following their sixth touchdown in overtime and stopping the Rebels' try after their sixth touchdown. It was the longest game in NCAA history.

Nebraska trailed for the first time all season when Kansas State took a 14-13 lead shortly before halftime in Lincoln. But the Cornhuskers dominated the second half to win 31-21 and maintain its hold on the top spot in the BCS rankings...Sixth-ranked Tennessee saw its 42-7 fourth-quarter lead over Memphis whittled to 14 points before reinserting its starters to preserve a 49-28 triumph...Running backs Ken Simonton and Steven Jackson each scored three touchdowns as Oregon State took out a season's worth of frustration on eighth-ranked Washington, knocking the Huskies out of a share of the Pac-10 lead with a 49-24 thumping...No. 9 BYU needed a goal-line stand in the final minute to hold off Wyoming 41-34 and remain unbeaten...Tenth-ranked Florida State lost an ACC game at home for the first time when Ray Robinson rushed for two TDs to spark North Carolina State to a 34-28 win...No. 12 Michigan (which beat Minnesota 31-10) and No. 15 Illinois (which rallied from 14 points down to beat Penn State 33-28) remained tied atop the Big Ten...No. 24 Auburn moved within a victory of the SEC title game by stopping No. 19 Georgia at the one-yard line as time ran out in a 24-17 win.

ROAD TO THE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Key Showdowns

Miami 18, Boston College 7

Matt Sievers kicked four field goals, and the Hurricanes got a bizarre defensive play in the final minute to preserve the victory in Boston.

With Miami hanging on to a 12-7 lead on the strength of Siever's kicks, the Eagles drove from their 30-yard line to the Hurricanes' nine with 38 seconds left. But Brian St. Pierre's pass caromed off Miami's Mike Rumph to defensive end Matt Walters, who caught it at the 10, ran 10 yards, then handed to teammate Ed Reed, who raced 80 yards for the clinching touchdown with 13 seconds to go.

Miami remained atop the Associated Press poll and held on to the No. 2 spot in the BCS rankings.

Oregon 21, UCLA 20

The visiting Ducks kept their Rose Bowl hopes alive by handing the No. 17 Bruins their third consecutive defeat.

Oregon trailed 20-14 until marching 70 yards to the go-ahead touchdown on Joey Harrington's fourth-down, one-yard pass to Josh Line with 9:56 left. UCLA drove into Ducks territory twice after that but could not score. Chris Griffith missed a 50-yard field-goal try as time ran out.

By week's end, the seventh-ranked Ducks were fourth in the BCS standings.

Florida 54, South Carolina 17

The fourth-ranked Gators were unstoppable on offense en route to an easy victory over the No. 14 Gamecocks in Columbia.

Quarterback Rex Grossman passed for 302 yards and three touchdowns and ran for another score for Florida, which never punted. The Gators scored on every possession until their last, when the clock ran out.

Sound Bytes

From kicker Tim Duncan, whose 10-yard run on a fake field goal put Oklahoma ahead for good in its 31-10 victory over Texas A&M: "It's a good thing I'm six-two instead of six-one because it took every inch to get there."

From Auburn's Carnell Williams, after carrying 41 times (for 167 yards) in the Tigers' 24-17 victory over Georgia: "I was one tired cat. I never carried that many times—not in high school or middle school or even pee-wee."

ROAD TO THE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Key Showdowns

Miami 59, Syracuse 0

The top-ranked Hurricanes countered critics who questioned their strength of schedule by pounding the No. 14 Orangemen in Miami.

Miami thoroughly dominated the game, piling up 556 total yards. Frank Gore (153 yards) and Clinton Portis (132 yards) combined for 285 yards on the ground, and quarterback Ken Dorsey passed for four touchdowns. The Hurricanes' defense limited Syracuse to only 185 total yards.

Florida 37, Florida State 13

Rex Grossman passed for 290 yards and two touchdowns to lead the fourth-ranked Gators to an easy victory over the No. 21 Seminoles in Gainesville.

The lopsided victory helped Florida move up a notch, from fifth to fourth, in the BCS standings released after the week's games. Florida State fell to 6-4 and dropped from the Associated Press' top 25 for the first time in 13 years.

Two-Minute Drill

Nebraska was idle, but maintained its hold on the top spot in the BCS standings...No. 6 Tennessee trailed 21-0 at Kentucky before roaring back for a 38-35 victory. Alex Walls' 44-yard field goal with 2:49 left won it...Idle Oregon clinched the Pac-10 title when No. 16 Washington beat No. 9 Washington State 24-16. The Cougars' loss ended their chances for a BCS berth...Maryland's 23-19 victory over North Carolina State gave the 10th-ranked Terrapins their first ACC title in 16 years and ended Florida State's nine-year run as conference champions...Grant Noel threw three first-half touchdown passes as No. 18 Virginia Tech built a 31-0 lead over rival Virginia before easing up for a 31-17 win...There were lots of other traditional rivalry games in week 11: No. 13 Stanford won the "Big Game" for the seventh consecutive year by holding off winless California 35-28; Alabama amassed 549 total yards in a 31-7 rout of 17th-ranked Auburn; USC limited No. 20 UCLA to only 114 total yards in a 27-0 whitewash that knocked the reeling Bruins out of the top 25 for the first time all season; and No. 22 South Carolina handed slumping Clemson its fourth loss in five games, 20-15.

Illinois 34, Ohio State 22

The No. 12 Illini kept their hopes alive for a BCS berth by scoring a pair of fourth-quarter touchdowns to overcome the 25th-ranked Buckeyes in Columbus.

Ohio State led a seesaw game 22-21 before Carey Davis capped an 80-yard drive with a one-yard TD run to put Illinois ahead for good with 10:48 left in the game. Ty Myers returned an interception five yards for the clinching score with 5:19 to go.

The Illini won their sixth consecutive game and remained tied atop the Big Ten standings with No. 11 Michigan. The Wolverines edged Wisconsin 20-17 on Hayden Epstein's 31-yard field goal with 10 seconds left.

Sound Bytes

From Oklahoma LB Rocky Calmus, after several members of No. 5 Texas traveled to Lubbock to root for Texas Tech, which fell to the No. 3 Sooners 30-13: "It's going to be a long trip home for them."

From coach Gary Crowton, after No. 8 BYU survived another close call by scoring two touchdowns in the final 3:22 to overcome Utah 24-21: "That's why we play sixty minutes. The whole thing is who has more points at the end."

Key Showdowns

Colorado 62, Nebraska 36

After a series of agonizingly close losses to the Cornhuskers in recent years, the 14th-ranked Buffaloes left nothing to chance with an overwhelming victory in Boulder fueled by a school-record six rushing touchdowns from Chris Brown. The loss knocked Nebraska from the top spot in the BCS standings and put Colorado in the Big 12 title game.

The Buffaloes built a 21-0 lead less than 10 minutes into the game and never looked back. Brown ran for 198 yards and Bobby Purify added 154 yards for Colorado, which gained 380 of its 582 total yards on the ground.

Miami 65, Washington 7

The Hurricanes moved within a victory of playing in the Rose Bowl by soundly beating the 12th-rated Huskies in Miami. Clinton Portis rushed for 105 yards on only 12 carries and scored three touchdowns for the Hurricanes, who avenged their lone loss in 2000. Quarterback Ken Dorsey passed for three touchdowns.

Miami's win solidified its No. 1 ranking in the Associated Press poll and moved it to the top of the BCS standings released after week 12's games.

Oklahoma State 16, Oklahoma 13

Josh Fields' 14-yard touchdown pass to Rashaun Woods with 1:36 remaining gave the Cowboys an upset victory in Norman and foiled the fourth-ranked Sooners' chances for a second consecutive national championship.

Oklahoma State managed only three field goals before driving to the winning touchdown. But the Cowboys' defense limited Oklahoma to 220 total yards, none of them on the ground. Sooners' quarterback Nate Hybl was sacked seven times and intercepted three times.

Sound Bytes

From Miami coach Larry Coker, after the Hurricanes built a 37-0 halftime lead en route to wallop Washington: "It was one of the most dominant performances I've seen against a quality opponent. This was just our night."

From Colorado coach Gary Barnett, after his team scored more points than any other school ever had against Nebraska: "Sixty-two points. That's almost too overwhelming for me. It's going to take a while to sink in."

Two-Minute Drill

Florida was idle, but the Gators kept their national-title hopes alive and moved up to No. 2 in the BCS standings because of the weekend's upsets. Texas was right behind them after stifling Texas A & M's offense in a 21-7 victory. Oregon also had the week off and remained at No. 5 in the BCS...No. 7 Tennessee tuned up for a showdown with Florida by trouncing Vanderbilt 38-0...Kurt Kittner passed for 387 yards and four touchdowns as No. 10 Illinois held off Northwestern 34-28 on Thanksgiving Day. That victory, coupled with Ohio State's 26-20 upset of 11th-ranked Michigan two days later, gave the Illini the Big Ten title outright...Kenneth Tolon ran for 133 yards, including the winning one-yard touchdown with 1:08 left, as No. 13 Stanford rallied from a 10-point, fourth-quarter deficit to hand Notre Dame its sixth loss in 10 games, 17-13...Seventeenth-ranked Louisville found it had clinched the Conference USA title when East Carolina lost, but then suffered a 37-22 upset at the hands of TCU...Vernon Haynes rushed for 207 yards to lead No. 19 Georgia to a 31-17 victory over No. 21 Georgia Tech...James Mungro rushed for 184 yards and two touchdowns as 22nd-ranked Syracuse amassed 575 total yards in a 39-28 win over No. 25 Boston College.

Miami 26, Virginia Tech 24

Clinton Portis rushed for 124 yards and a touchdown as the top-ranked Hurricanes secured a berth in the Rose Bowl by edging the No. 14 Hokies in Blacksburg. Miami finished the regular season at 11-0.

Ken Dorsey passed for a touchdown and Todd Sievers kicked four field goals for the Hurricanes, who built a 26-10 lead, then survived Virginia Tech's late charge. The Hokies scored two touchdowns in a span of 2:30 midway through the fourth quarter, but wide receiver Ernest Wilford couldn't hang onto a potential game-tying, two-point conversion pass with 6:03 left.

Tennessee 34, Florida 32

The fifth-ranked Volunteers dashed No. 2 Florida's Rose Bowl hopes and positioned themselves for a chance at the national championship game with an upset in Gainesville.

Travis Stephens ran for 226 yards and 2 touchdowns for Tennessee, which moved up to No. 2 in the BCS standings released after week 13's games. The Volunteers still had a game left against LSU for the SEC title.

Rex Grossman passed for 362 yards, including a two-yard TD toss to Carlos Perez, to pull Florida within two points with 1:10 left. But Grossman's conversion pass was incomplete, and Tennessee recovered the ensuing onside kick to seal the win.

Colorado 39, Texas 37

No. 9 Colorado ended the third-ranked Longhorns' national-title chances by winning the Big 12 Championship Game at Texas Stadium.

Chris Brown rushed for 182 yards and three touchdowns for Colorado, which also got some big plays from its defense to build a 29-10 first-half lead, and then held on to win.

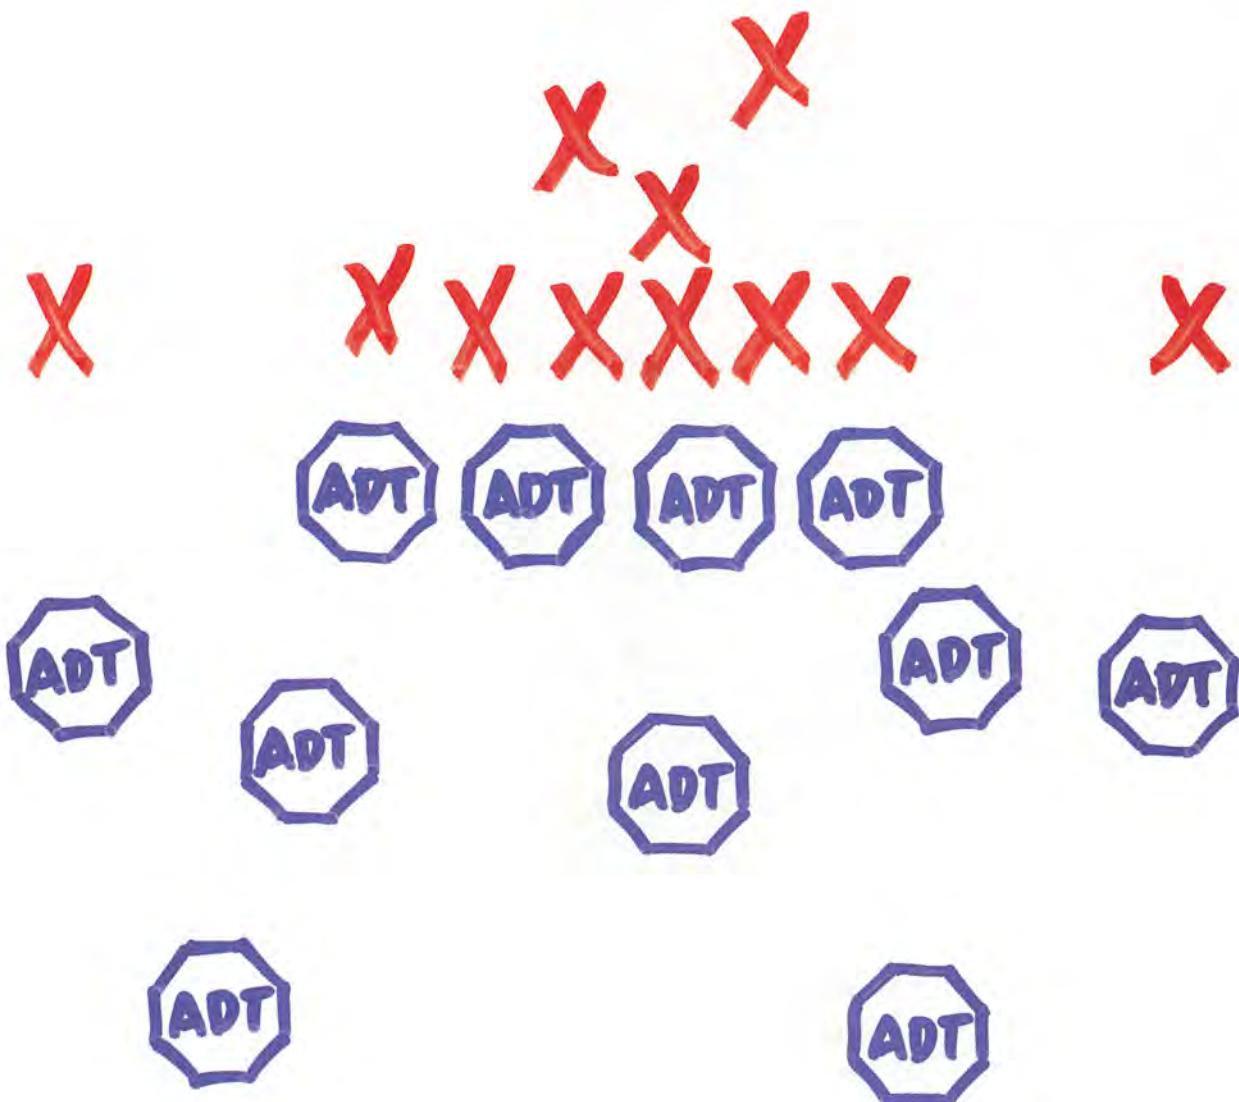

Texas entered the game third in the BCS standings and knew that No. 2 Florida lost. But the Longhorns were done in by four first-half turnovers that Colorado converted into 22 points.

Sound Bytes

From Miami running back Najeh Davenport, after the Hurricanes held off Virginia Tech when a potential game-tying two-point conversion pass was dropped: "You can be good, but you also have to be lucky sometimes."

From coach Philip Fulmer, after Tennessee, an 18-point underdog, stunned Florida: "The 70 guys who got on that airplane [for the trip from Knoxville to Gainesville] might have been the only ones in the country who believed we could win."

Two-Minute Drill

Nebraska edged Colorado and Oregon in the final BCS standings for the No. 2 spot behind unbeaten Miami. Tennessee's loss to LSU dropped the Volunteers from second to sixth and sent them to the Citrus Bowl against Michigan on New Year's Day...In addition to the Rose Bowl game between Miami and Nebraska, the BCS bowl matchups pitted Big 12-champion Colorado against Pac-10-winner Oregon in the Fiesta Bowl, and Big Ten-winner Illinois against SEC-champ LSU in the Sugar Bowl, both also on New Year's Day. Maryland, the ACC winner, played Florida in the Orange Bowl on January 2...Nebraska quarterback Eric Crouch was named the winner of the Heisman Trophy as college football's most outstanding player. Crouch, who passed for 1,510 yards and seven touchdowns and ran for 1,115 yards and 18 scores, edged Florida quarterback Rex Grossman by 62 points in one of the closest votes in the 67-year history of the award. Miami quarterback Ken Dorsey finished third and Oregon's Joey Harrington, another quarterback, was fourth...Other major award winners included North Carolina defensive lineman Julius Peppers, who won the Lombardi Trophy as the nation's top college lineman, and Oklahoma's Rocky Calmus, who won the Butkus Award as the top linebacker.

ROAD TO THE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Key Showdowns

LSU 31, Tennessee 20

The 21st-ranked Tigers upset the second-ranked Volunteers in the SEC title game in Atlanta, paving the way for idle Nebraska to move up in the BCS standings and earn a trip to the Rose Bowl for the national championship.

Tennessee opened a 17-7 second-quarter lead, but LSU's John Corbello kicked three field goals and backup quarterback Matt Mauck ran 13 yards for the go-ahead touchdown 40 seconds into the fourth quarter. Mauck also ran four yards for a TD in the first quarter in relief of injured starting QB Rohan Davey. Domanick Davis clinched the victory by diving one yard for a score with 2:26 left.

Hawaii 72, BYU 45

Nick Rolovich passed for 543 yards and eight touchdowns as the Rainbows dashed eighth-ranked BYU's perfect season with a barrage of offense in Honolulu.

Hawaii took the lead for good only 23 seconds into the game, when Rolovich completed a 23-yard scoring pass to Channon Harris. Before the first quarter was over, Chad Owens returned a punt 74 yards for a TD and a kickoff 100 yards for a score.

The Rainbows led 31-10 at the intermission and never let up, scoring five TDs in a span of 10:37 of the third and fourth quarters.

TCU 14, Southern Mississippi 12

The Horned Frogs salvaged a bowl berth by erasing a 10-point deficit in Hattiesburg.

TCU trailed 10-0 until quarterback Casey Printers ran six yards for a touchdown 2:44 before halftime. Early in the third quarter, Printers teamed with Adrian Madise on a 74-yard TD pass that proved to be the decisive score.

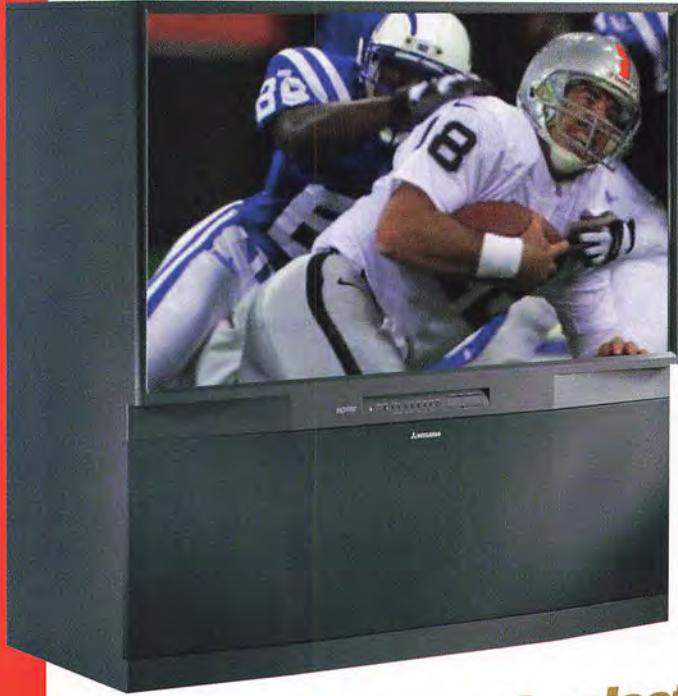

The Horned Frogs improved to 6-5 and earned a berth against Texas A & M in the galleryfurniture.com Bowl.

Sound Bytes

From quarterback Matt Mauck, a 22-year-old freshman backup who helped lead LSU to victory in the SEC title game: "I just tried to be as calm as possible. I was thinking to myself, 'Just don't lose the game; try to keep us in it.'

From Nebraska quarterback Eric Crouch, upon picking up the Heisman Trophy in ceremonies in New York City: "It's a little heavier than I thought."

Singular Honor

Rose Bowl Game legends Jim Plunkett, Warren Moon and Keyshawn Johnson are just a few of the athletes who have won the Player of the Game Award.

College football is synonymous with tradition. No other bowl game has the rich tradition of the Rose Bowl Game. Perhaps no one understood this better than W. R. "Bill" Schroeder. Schroeder dedicated most of his life to recognizing the achievements of athletes at every level. Through the Helms Athletic Foundation, Schroeder brought together local newspaper sports editors to select an all-star team in each of the major sports. This program was expanded to include recognition of individual athletes and the creation of halls of fame.

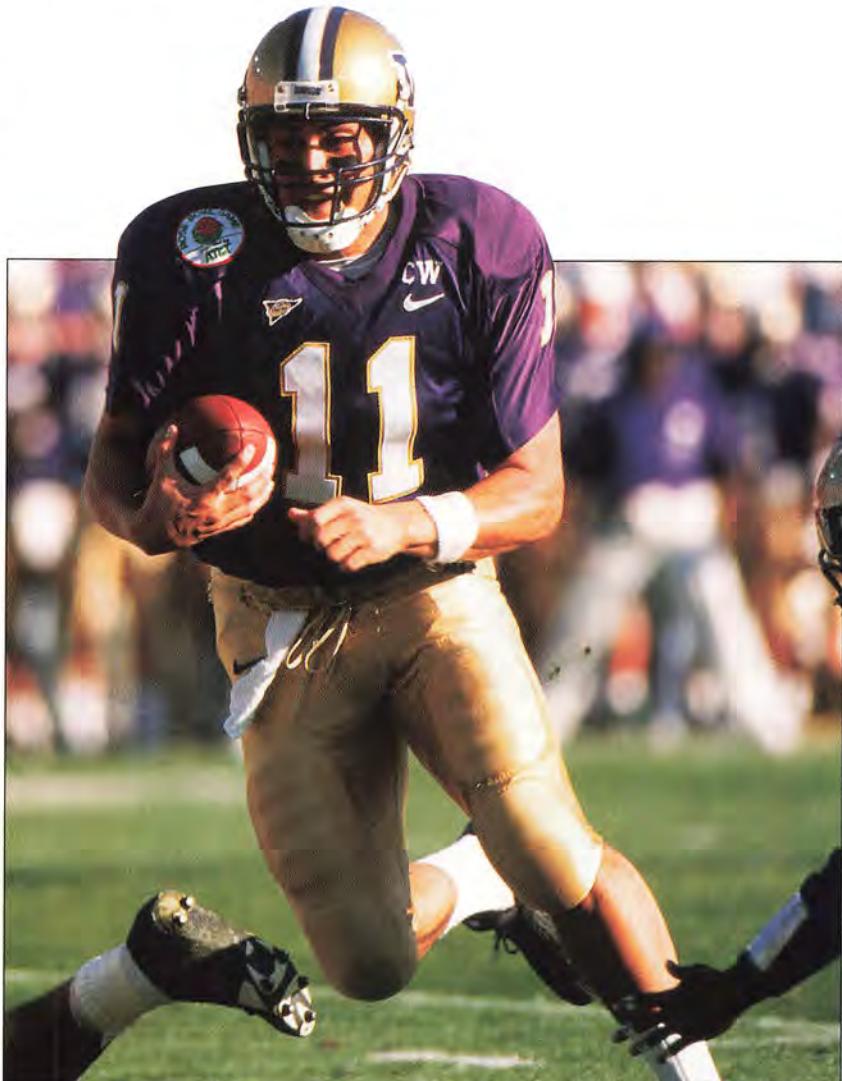

In 1953, the Rose Bowl Player of the Game Award was created to recognize the individual whose performance embodies grit, power, finesse and determination and leads to a significant difference in the outcome of the game. Selections dating to the first Rose Bowl Football Game in 1902 were made retroactively.

Beginning in 1985, the Rose Bowl Player of the Game Award and other awards programs of the Helms Athletic Foundation were assumed by the Amateur Athletic Foundation of Los Angeles (AAF). The AAF is the direct legacy of the 1984 Olympic Games. The AAF makes grants to youth sports organizations, initiates its own youth sports programs and operates the Paul Ziffren Sports Resource Center, the pre-eminent sports library in North America.

In the tradition of Mr. Schroeder and the Helms Athletic Foundation, the AAF polls media representatives covering the Rose Bowl Game to make the selection at the end of the fourth quarter. The president of the Tournament of Roses makes the presentation immediately following the game. ☺

Washington quarterback Marques Tuiasosopo was voted the 2001 AAF Rose Bowl Player of the Game for his stellar performance against Purdue.

About the Trophy

The glass helix recalls the Amateur Athletic Foundation's Olympic legacy and symbolizes the beauty and grace of sports. The shape of the helix captures the dynamics and movement of sport and, like the fire it holds, spirals upward seeking a high plane. The glass represents the fluidity of athletes in motion. The permanent trophy on display at Tournament House and the game trophy presented to the player are smaller scale sculptures created by Richard Silver of the full-size Olympic helix and flame created by Heidi Hefferlin. The full-size sculpture resides in the garden of the AAF.

THE GOURMAN REPORT

A Rating of Graduate and Professional Programs in American & International Universities

Ninth Edition • Dr. Jack Gourman

The Gourman Report uses 30 criteria to evaluate advanced educational programs, including curricula, administration and facilities. Law, MBA, Medicine and International Universities are rated.

The data is organized so that educators, administrators, corporations, students and licensing authorities can locate information quickly and efficiently.

Appr. 300 pages

ISBN: 0-918192-19-6 $21.95

Today's schools are in a constant state of flux from the forces of budget constraints and technological advances. What would have been a student's first choice just a few years ago may not be applicable today. A top rating in one curriculum does not guarantee a top rating in another.

Continually re-evaluated, The Gourman Report is the most up-to-date guide of its kind. Education and its cost are too important not to know what schools are currently providing.

If you need to know the best schools, here is the best way to find them.

The Gourman Report evaluated and ranked all NCAA Intercollegiate Football 2002 Division I, I-A and I-AA schools. For this report, two hundred thirty six schools with scores in the 1.00 - 4.95 range were ranked in order. The report is based on multidimensional criteria.

Rating Categories	Numerical Range
Good	4.70-4.95
Acceptable Plus	4.40-4.69
Acceptable	3.60-3.85
Marginal	2.00-2.98
Unsatisfactory	1.00-1.99

The overemphasis and the abuse of intercollegiate athletics have plagued higher education for many decades. In spite of fulminations of faculty members and administrators, in spite of "sanity codes" and other attempted reforms, the evil persists.

The Gourman Report adopted a comprehensive agenda and set priorities for the study of collegiate athletics. An institutional file for all colleges and universities participating in athletics was created. In addition, The Gourman Report has collected massive amounts of information and has a consistent database that permits unit cost comparison (100% respondent rate).

THE GOURMAN REPORT

A Rating of Undergraduate Programs in American & International Universities

Eleventh Edition • Dr. Jack Gourman

This is the only guide to American and international institutions of higher education that evaluates the strengths and weaknesses of each school and program, assigning each a precise numerical score. It is indispensable to college-age students, their parents and counselors, offering up-to-date statistical tables that identify the top undergraduate programs in more than 150 separate fields including academic-athletic balance.

Appr. 400 pages

ISBN: 0-918192-18-8 $21.95

Dr. Jack Gourman, former Professor of Political Science and CEO, has been preparing assessments of education for over 30 years and has authored numerous books on the subject. He is the leading international authority on the assessment of higher education and inter-collegiate athletics. He is consultant to several major corporations, institutions and governmental agencies on educational problems.

National Education Standards' prime function is the evaluation of the effectiveness of higher education in the United States and throughout the world.

Rose Bowl Game Flyover

In celebration of the Good Times to be had by all at tonight's National Championship Rose Bowl Game, the pregame military salute features the U.S. Air Force Stars Parachute Demonstration Team and the U.S. Navy Strike Fighter Squadron 125.

In observance of the continued strength and unity of all Americans, the 2002 pregame festivities will include a military salute from the U.S. Navy Strike Fighter Squadron 125. The talented pilots will exhilarate the sold-out Rose Bowl Stadium crowd as they fly overhead in FA/18 Hornets.

United States Air Force Parachute Team

The U.S. Air Force Stars Parachute Team will perform a spectacular free-fall parachute demonstration into the historic stadium. The Stars are headquartered at Hurlburt Field, Fla., and are assigned to U.S. Air Force Special Operations Command (AFSOC), 720th Special Tactics Group. The team has five full-time members, four primary augmentees and four alternate augmentees. A contract civilian (a former team member) provides support to the team, serving as team manager, coordinator and narrator.

Three's Company

ABC's talented TV trio returns to the Rose Bowl for the 2001 BCS National Championship.

Keith Jackson

Tim Brant

Todd Harris

After securing the rights for the Rose Bowl broadcast and making a successful debut in 1989, ABC is ready for its 14th production of "The Granddaddy of All Bowl Games." The experienced team of Keith Jackson, Tim Brant and Todd Harris will handle the play-by-play and commentary for the 88th Rose Bowl Game, which will determine the 2001 college football national champion.

Celebrating 36 years as the play-by-play announcer for ABC's college football coverage, Keith Jackson earned Emmy Awards as television's best play-by-play announcer in 1994 and '96. He was inducted into the American Sportscasters Association (ASA) Hall of Fame in 1995.

Highly respected and admired by his colleagues in the broadcast and print media, Jackson is the only person ever to win five straight (1972-76) "Sportscaster of the Year" awards as voted by his peers. At the close of 1999, he was awarded the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Gold Medal—its highest honor—and was named to the Rose Bowl Hall of Fame. Jackson is the first broadcaster accorded these distinguished honors.

The recipient of many other awards and commendations, Jackson, with characteristic modesty, says that he is most proud of his 45-year association with college football.

The venerable sportscaster, who has traveled millions of miles covering every conceivable sports event, including 10 Winter and Summer Olympics, credits his success to the simplest of broadcast philosophies: "Amplify, clarify and punctuate—and let the viewers draw their own conclusions."

Tim Brant joined ABC Sports in 1982 as a college football commentator and has since become one of the most versatile announcers in the business. The multifaceted Brant has served many roles on ABC Sports' coverage of college football, including sideline reporter, expert analyst and play-by-play host. He has worked play-by-play in college basketball and for Wide World of Sports, and is a veteran of two Olympics.

Brant spent four years at CBS Sports (1987-90) and worked a variety of broadcasts, including the NFL, the NBA and the NCAA Basketball Tournament. Prior to that, he spent four years at ABC Sports, where he covered college football with Keith Jackson.

Brant's many honors include being named Sportscaster of the Year in 1996 by the Touchdown Club of Washington and Champion Sportscaster by the Black United Fund. He was honored by the Touchdown Club as the top analyst in 1986.

A 1973 graduate of the University of Maryland with a degree in journalism, Brant was a defensive captain and outstanding linebacker for the Terrapins.

Rounding out the all-star broadcast team is sideline reporter and commentator Todd Harris, who joined ABC Sports in July 1999.

Prior to joining ABC, Harris spent several years working for various broadcast networks, including ESPN, ESPN2, Outdoor Life Network, Prime Network, TBS, TNT and Fox Sports. He covers the NBA Playoffs for Turner Sports, as well as the Olympics and Goodwill Games.

A contributing writer for ABC Sports' BCS Online site, Snowboard Life magazine and Snowboarding Online, Harris also is currently the host of ESPN's World's Strongest Man.

Harris is a 1990 graduate of Brigham Young University, with a bachelor's degree in broadcast journalism-communications.

We Meet Again

Miami dominated college football in the 1980s, Nebraska in the 1990s. During those years they've engaged in four clashes, each time with national championship implications.

Considering that Miami and Nebraska have earned a combined seven national titles in the past 20 seasons, it's not surprising that these storied programs have had their share of big-game faceoffs over the years. The schools don't get together often, and haven't played a regular-season game against each other or met outside of the Orange Bowl since 1976. Yet, in four of the nine meetings between the Hurricanes and Cornhuskers, the national championship has been on the line, and tonight's showdown is no different.

During the 1980s, under three different coaches—Howard Schnellenberger, Jimmy Johnson and Dennis Erickson—Miami was the most successful team in the nation. The Hurricanes boasted a 107-14 record that included national titles in 1983, '87, '89 and '91.

Nebraska owned the mid-'90s, when head coach Tom Osborne's Huskers reeled off three national titles in four seasons—to go along with titles from 1970 and '71 under coach Bob Devaney—while perennially ranking as one of the country's top teams. This past decade, NU recorded an eye-popping 108-16-1 record.

As for the last four meetings between these powerhouses, here's a quick look at those battles, all of which took place in the Orange Bowl:

1984: The Decision

No. 1-ranked Nebraska—riding a 22-game winning streak—was eyeing its first national title since the 1971 season, but No. 5 Miami spoiled the party with a hair-raising 31-30 victory. In a true game of quarters, freshman QB Bernie Kosar led the Hurricanes to a quick 17-0 first-quarter lead, but the Huskers rallied with a 14-0 second quarter. By the end of the third, Miami had padded its lead again, 31-17. Fittingly, Nebraska owned the fourth quarter with two touchdowns. After an NU touchdown narrowed the deficit to one point, Osborne's bold decision decided the game. Instead of playing for a tie by kicking an extra point, Osborne called for a two-point conversion attempt. But Hurricanes strong safety Ken Calhoun knocked Turner Gill's pass out of Jeff Smith's hands to seal the win and Miami's first national title.

1989: Second Best

Five years later, No. 2 Miami was looking to collect its second straight national title (it won top honors for the 1987 season) when it squared off against No. 6 Nebraska. Steve Walsh led the Hurricanes with two touchdown strikes, and the UM defense held the Huskers' vaunted rushing game to 80 yards en route to a 23-3 win. Unfortunately for the Hurricanes—who were in the midst of an NCAA-record 58-game home winning streak—No. 1 Notre Dame knocked off West Virginia in the Fiesta Bowl, 34-21, to earn the title.

1995: Revenge

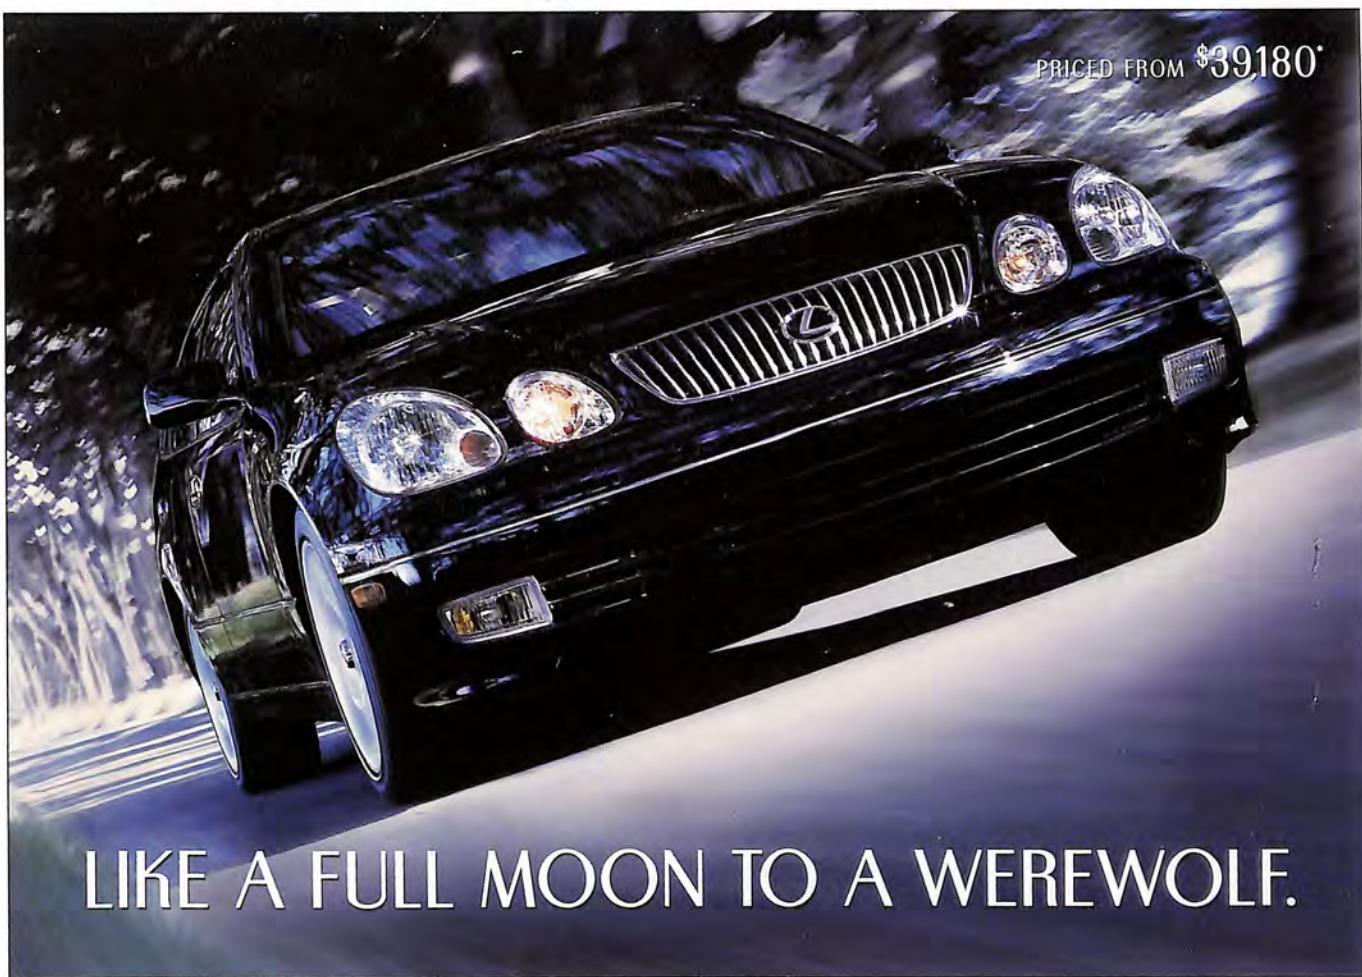

By 1995, after three heartbreaking losses to Miami, Nebraska was ready for revenge. The No. 1-ranked Huskers fell behind No. 3 Miami early, 10-0, and by the third quarter were down, 17-7. But Nebraska's defense, ranked in the top 10 in the nation, put the clamp on Miami's offense over the final 28 minutes of the game and recorded a safety to bring the Huskers within eight, at 17-9. The fourth quarter belonged to Nebraska, as quarterback Tommie Frazier (who replaced Brook Berringer) led the team downfield to set up two touchdown runs by Cory Schlesinger that earned the Huskers a 24-17 win. For Osborne, the redemption proved sweet, as he finally earned his first title as head coach after three near misses in 1982, '84 and '94. ☺

NINE LIVES

Miami and Nebraska have met just nine times on the gridiron, and the Huskers lead the series, five games to four, but the 'Canes have captured three of the last four matchups.
